SAYS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROV

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters finds that automobiles the season of 19,000 acres to 19,000 acres to 19,000 acres to 1924. This represents a daily average of 52 deaths and 5,650 injuries!

There is a bright side to the picture at that, however, according to these statistics, for the rate of increase in deaths and accidents in 1924 over 1924 was not as great as the increase in 1928 over 1922.

great as the increase in 1923 over 1922. The rate of increase in the number of deaths in 1923 over figures for 1922 was 20 per cent., while the increase in 1924 deaths in 1822 over ngures for 1822 was 20 per cent., while the increase in 1924 over 1923 was ony four per cent. This reduction was attributed to organized campaigns to reduce accidents.

These figures are somewhat cheouraging to be sure, for although the total deaths and injuries in 1924 were the greatest recorded it must be remembered that the number of automobiles in use during the year also was greater than at any other time in the history of the world. A comparison of the automobile death rate with the number of cars registered shows a steady decrease, the bureau reporteds. In 1915 the number of deaths for every 10,000 automobile was '24, according to the bureau figures each succeeding year showing a decrease until the figures for 1924 indicate only 9.6 deaths for every 10,000 cars. There are now 17,000,000 cars registered in the United States.

There is another encouraging feature in the bureau's report—grade crossing accidents took a toll of 1,688 deaths in 1924, a decraese of 71 from the 1923 to-

But despite the improvement in condi-tions the auto is still the most deadly mechanical enemy of human life. Since 1908 the death rate due to motor car ac-cidents has increased steadly until today automobiles cause more deaths than all other vehicles, including trains and street cars combined.

WE DID WELL TO AVOID IT.

There was some support among members of the last session of the North Carolina Legislature for a sales tax, but it is well that this means of raising revenue was not adopted. It hurts business throughout the State, as is shown from experiences of South Carolina druggists. That state adopted a sales tax two years ago and increasing the scope of its influence at the last session this year and as a result many. South Carolina people are coming to this State now for their purchase of goods on which there is a sales tax in their native State.

South Carolina newspapers find that people of that State not only are ordering goods by mail from North Carolina, but that in some instances they are driving to this State for the goods. The Greenville, S. C., Pledmont has made a survey of the situation and from a Hendersonville druggist received this report: "We have many calls for cigarettes and cosmetics from members of automobile parties from South Carolina. The men buy the cigarettes by the carton, often explaining the supply they are getting well last them until the next shopping

A SHINGTON—Chief Justice Taft of the federal supreme bench visited London some time ago to study the English courts, especially their handing of criminal cases. He was much pleased What particularly struck him was that English fudges sim ply won't permit de'lay or be bothered by technicalities. If a man ohviously is guilty of something, it he judge co neentrates on finding him so and generally succeeds. Them the authorities execute sentence and that ends it. If's the method we ought to adopt here. Justice Taft said.

A NOTABLE case in my time in London, was that of Stime in London, was that of Stime Morrison. There had been several murders in the White Chapel district and no arvests. The police were beginning to be criticized. Then there was another murder Somebody simply had to be caucht. The police brought in Morrison. He had a prison record. On that ground, the judge set him down as guilty. But right in the middle of the trial one of the constables—it was all police evidence—broke down and confessed the whole thing was a trameup. When he broke down more broke down. The case collapsed. The proscution threw up its hands. Well, the judge sentenced him to death. Even for England, that was too much. There was a how! Very reluctantly the government commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. Morrison's doing time yet. I suppose, for a crime there absolutely is no reason to think he had a thing to do with.

CHANCE TO STOP CRITICISM.

Special counsel for the government is going to try to get more indictments what the people nave and then often turns the oil reserves of the United States. The first indictments were thrown out of court, but government counsel was ready of a popear before another grand jury with another plan of approach.

When the first indictments were thrown out of "I told you so" from all parts of the world. The indictments were thrown out on a technicality and of course there were thousands of persons who saw a frame-up in the whole thing. CHAIRMAN FOR THIS STATE

Of the Committee for the Distribution of the Memorial Half Dollars.

Actants., Ga., May 5.—The appointment of Camerom Morrison, former Governor, as Chairman for North Carolina in the nation-wide distribution of Confederate Memorial Half Dollars, minted by the United States government in "honor of the valor of the Sonthern soldier," was announced today by Harvey J. Hill, Director General. of the coin distribution.

Under the direction of Mr. Morrison a state-wide organization reaching mto every county will be created, having as its object the pacing of one or more of the Memorial coins in every family.

Owing to the fact that there are only $2,500.000 coins of a special Confederate issue available, it has been necessary, Director General Hill announced, to make official allotments to each state based on appulation. The demand for the coins reaching national headquarters already indicate a large over subscription of the issue. Distribution, therefore, is to be made on the basis of coin certificates redeemable on July 3rd at commercial banks throughout the South for the actual coins. Prior to that date coin certificates are being sold through commercial banks and through volunter sales organizations organized in various communities. Some Cook!

Two gentlemen of color were discussing their wives' culinary abilities.

"Man," boasted the first, "dat wife o' mine am so good dat when she makes to'n pone, hit taste jes' like angelfood cake."

"Hesh yo' mouf!" retorted the other, "Yo' nin't never 'et nothin.' When mah wife, Iodine, cooks up a passel o' beans, Ah feels jes' like goih' out an' huntin' me a job."

"Yassuh, yassuh," replied the negro. "but Ah ain't had time to git dat fur yet."

His Conscience Ruled Him.

Mr. Justice Matthew, in amazement repeated:

"You say you received $25 to vote Conservative?"

"Yes, my lord."

"And you also received $25 to vote Liberal?"

"Yes, my lord."

"And for whom did you vote at the finish?" asked the astonished Judge throwing himself back in the chair.

And the witness, with injured dignify every line of his face, answered with great earnestness:

"I voted, my lord, according to my conscience!"

"I voted, my lord, according to my conscience."

The Norfolk Southern.

Charlotte Observer.

Ever since the Norfolk Southern plowed its way into the heart of Charlotte and the pulsations of its engine could be heard in the City Hall. The Observer has maintained that there is a great future before that road. It hapassed through several periods of financial perplexities, but it has been developing all the time, having been for tunate in management by competent hafids. The Norfolk Southern has now passed under new control. Marsden Perry, of New York, has been dispractical owner, but Mr. Perry has sole his holdings to interests represented by Ernest Williams, who was previously a large holder of Norfolk Southern stock and who, with his new block, becomes controller of the property. That he sees a fine future for this railroad is indicated in his flat statement that the road is not for sale, at least not "for several years," for he will devote his money and energy to its further development.

It has been generally understood that the Seaboard Air Line wants the Norfolk Southern, Every once in a while we hear that Mr. James B. Duke wants to incorporate it into his, Piedmont & Northern system, but this, evidently, is not going to be until Williams is in position to drive a good bargain.
