The men indicted are charged with en tering the jail of Martin county and tak tering the jail of Martin county and take ing from the jail Joseph Needleman, charged with assault on a white girl. They did not wait for Needleman to be convicted. They just took the law in their own hands and their crime was as revolting as the one they charged Needle-man with, for after carrying him from heil the carrying hi the jail they criminally operated on him. Efforts have been made in the past in North Carolina to learn the identity of nob members, but never before was the State able to get sufficient evidence to re-sult in an indictment. The men of Mar-tin county who issued the indictments, despite the fact that in many instances they undoubtedly were indicting friends, should be commended. They are going at the matter in the right manner and their action is certain to have influence

Mob law is not going to be allowed in Moto haw is not going to be allowed in North Caroolina and it is time the fact is being admitted. Time was when a mob could get away with anything, but that time has gone and goite forever, we be-lieve. Needleman may have been guilty of the charge against him, but that would give no one the right to criminally har. give no one the right to criminally handle him. The operation was decided on undoubtedly for one reason—the mob thought it would be worse than death. They did not decide on the operation in-stead of hanging because of any consid-eration for Needleman. They were giv-ing him what they thought was the worst

BY CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer NEA Service Writer WASHINGTON --Congressman Martin L. Davey of Ohio estimates--or, as he puts it, guesses--that America could dou-ble her farm production if she tried. Few farmers, even, have studied the soil as Davey has. He cuils himself a "tree surgeon." I think "tree doctor" fits better, with the emphasis on "tree dieter les."

A MERICAN farmers are cold toward the suggestion of in-creased crop production just now. With a surplus already—or what Davey calls an "apparent surplus"—they ask, "Why raise more?" with the emphasis on the taster-ics." Of course if a tree needs an op-eration, Davey operates. He has to be something of a general prac-titioner. Aboreal medicine is young. It hasn't reached the stage of much specialization. But in the main, it seems to me that Davey prefers doctoring to the knife. Like most good doctors, he con-cerns himself principally with what his patients eat, depending little on drugs. Production will take care of itself." That our increasing popula-tion." Davey urges. "When we reach the subsistence limit—what then?" "That will be a long time." answer some. "Less than a gener-ation, judging from the past." In-sists Davey. "In my own short life I have seen farm after farm bandoned, exhausted, that in my yout produced excellent crops." "A T the worst we can trek Limits. "In all the world." The spondes Davey, "there remains but one spot capable of abundant production which is not under vituation gow—the South Amer-tan vituation som—the South Amer-vituation som—the South Amer-vituation som — the South Amer-vituation som — the South Amer-tan vituation som — the south Amer-south American American Farmers study the soil, too, but Davey's study has to be more thorough than theirs. For a tree has such an appetite! "it's only a big plant, after all," observes Davey. Yes, but whereas a plant like a start of Davey. Yes, but whereas a plant like a stalk of grain requires only cubic inches of soil, a tree re-quires cubic yards. It follows that Davey has to go into it more deeply—in the literal as well as the figurative sense—than almost anybody, except a miner or a prospector drilling for oil. Thus what he knows about the soil is the last word.

that, as required, its productivity may be increased. "Otherwise, though the rich al-ways will be well fed, this will be come a country of famine for the poor. An abundance of cheap fer tillizers!" Davey was discussing the importance of Muscle Shoah development. "That's our need."

Instead of that they were showing a spirit that tends to break down all laws. Two wrongs never make a right, and instead of improving matters they made matters

If Needleman is convicted we will h lieve he is guilty and we want him to get the full limit of the law. And at the same time we want the same treatment for the men who mutilated him after breaking into the jail.

A WISE STEP.

Hundreds of dogs in the city of Con-cord have been vaccinated during the past several weeks as a result of the or-dinance passed by the aldermen making it unlawful for a dog to run at large unless he has been given the serum against rables. Owners of dogs which have not been treated should have been vaccinated at once: vaccinated at once.
