William J. Bryan Only Half Millionaire. Salisbury Post.

William Jennings Bryan was a passenger on the Southern's de luxe train, the "Crescent Limited," No. 37, southbound this morning at 10:10 o'clock. During the brief stop of the "Southern's Finest at the Salisbury station" the great Commoner alighted and spent a few minutes on the landing and talked to several local people, who went forward to greet the distinguished man, who was returning from Washington to the south.

Mr. Bryan, not forgetting this city as the home of Senator Lee S. Overman, made inquiry as to the junior senator and recalled the fact that he had spoken in Salisbury several times. The brief conversation turned to Florida real estate and Mr. Bryan was reminded that he had been placed in the millionaire class since he had been sojourning in Florida. He smiled and said he thought about half that—$500,000—would be more like it. He did say, however, that some time ago he purchased a piece of land in Florida and later considerable building was done in the immediate vicinity of this land, and he sold it for something like ten times what it cost him.

Mr. Bryan seemed in the best of health and although he did not exhibit the alertness in his step and movements that was at his command on visits here many years ago he showed that he still has plenty of energy in reserve for use whenever occasion demands.

Livingston's Cotton Letter. New York, May 8.—The market has shown a steadier undertone today, but it has probably been a reflection of the technical position rather than of any change in the general average of sentiment, as to crop progress or trade conditions. An opinion is gaining ground in some quarters that a comparatively high end-May condition report has been pretty well discounted and that the market is now short. Recent sellers have been reducing their lines today but only on a very moderate scale and the favorable view of crop prospects has been strengthened by further rains in the southwest with scattering showers and prospects for additional showers east of the river. The week-end figures were not an important factor, being about in line with recent statements. A private report estimating the increase in acreage at 4.7 per cent created no special sentiment and much the same may be said of the government report covering boll weevil emergence up to the first of May. Judging from figures given up to this date, the emergence from hibernation in Alabama and South Carolina will be heavy and the bureau of entomology regards returns as indicating that weevils have been able to survive the winter in fair numbers at most stations. The survival at College Station, Texas, has been about normal.

LIVINGSTON AND COMPANY. Bradstreet's Trade Review. New York May 8.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Numerous cross-currents still rob the general trade situation of uniformity. Beneficial effects of the breaking of the southwestern drought tend to offset retarding due to colder weather over-spreading the country at the close of last week, hence retail trade reports are as a whole better. Wholesale trade is hardly as active but it still fair for an ordinarily quiet season. Industry is irregular, demonstrated gains in several important lines being partially offset by reactions to dullness in others. On the favorable side as affecting sentiment is the continuance of the strength manifested toward the close of last week in the securities and grain markets, the more uniformly favorable reports from the surplus crop areas, some winter wheat areas excepted, the demonstrated vitality of the automobile and allied trades exhibited by the setting up of new high records of production in April and signs of a recurrence of activity in building with a gain in permit valuations not equalled for years past. Weekly bank clearings $11,232,496,000.

At the Theatres. The Pastime today is showing Jack Hoxie in "The Rearing Adventure," and a comedy, "Snappy Eyes," starring Wanda Wiley. Harry Carey in "Flaming Forties" will be seen today at the New Concord. Tom Mix in "Riders of the Purple Stage," starring Mabel Ballin, Wilfred Lucas, Beatrice Burnham and Marion Nixon, is the feature being shown again today at the Star.

"STRAWBERRY" SAPP HERO OF GASTONIA GAME HERE

Two Innings Taken in Winning Game.—Score 6-5.—Pat Crawford "Goats" Constantly.

"Strawberry" Sapp, Concord's sorrel-topped shortstop, is today the uncrowned king of the High School. When he presented himself at the bat in the tenth inning of Friday's game with Gastonia he had the weight of the world on his shoulders. On second and on third, two of his teammates perched waiting for him to bring them in. This alone was sufficient to make any ordinary batter nervous. However, to make matters worse, there were two outs and any slip on "Strawberry's" part meant that the game would drag for another inning or two.

But did "Strawberry" rise to the occasion? He did. The first one that Henderson, the hefty Gastonia twirler, sent over "Strawberry" swung at and missed by inches. Taking a new grip on his bat, he faced the opposing pitcher again and on the next ball, sent a scorching drive out into right field miles and miles away from any player, scoring Williams and winning the game.

The game was one of the best seen in these parts in many a day, not so much from the standpoint of good baseball, but from the standpoint of providing thrills. Hardly an inning passed when the spectators were not on their feet yelling at the top of their voices.

Then too, Pat Crawford, Gastonia Coach, provided entertainment for the crowd by his perfect exhibition of un-sportsmanlike "goating." This former favorite of local fans was successful in squelching any kindly regards baseball enthusiasts might have had for him in the past by his totally unnecessary objecting to the decisions made by the local umpires.

True there were several close plays at first which could have been called either way but as the game progressed he continued to run out and object to every decision and with the game half over, insisted that the base umpire be removed. This did little good and he continued to "goat." In the tenth inning when his team got in a tight place, with Williams on third and McInnis on second and "Strawberry" at the bat, Coach Crawford ran out on the field and began giving instructions to the pitcher and the second baseman and probably would have remained there had not Simpson reprimanded him in no uncertain terms.

The game started brilliantly when Simpson, the first batter for Concord, took a healthy swing at the first ball thrown over and lifted it high over the fence to the roofs of houses at a nearby street, opening the game auspiciously with a home run. From this point to the fifth inning, the game was scoreless. In this session, Hal walked and was out on a fielder's choice. Watts being safe on first, Watts advanced to second when Morris erred Sullivan's grounder. Simpson was purposely walked and with the bases loaded Henderson walked Williams, forcing Watts in and then Widenhouse doubled, scoring Sullivan and Simpson.

Gastonia scored three runs in the sixth with three hits and then made two more in their half of the eighth. Concord tied the score in the last half of the eighth when McInnis tripled and Sapp singled. Sullivan pitched a steady game for Concord and was accorded good support in pinches: Simpson, Sapp and McInnis led in the hitting. For Gastonia Snyder, Ritcheford, Jackson and Henderson hit well.

Box score: Concord AB R H PO A E; Gastonia AB R H PO A E; Ritcheford, cf. 5 1 2 1 0 0; Mundy, c. 4 0 0 6 0 0; Jackson, 2b. 5 2 2 3 3 1; Morris, 1b. 4 1 1 10 1 1; Henderson, p. 4 0 2 2 3 0; Porter, ss. 4 0 1 2 2 1; Carson, rf. 4 0 0 2 1 0; Shannon, lf. 3 0 0 1 0 0; Vickery, lf. 1 0 0 0 0 0.

Two out when winning run scored. Summary: Two-base hits, Widenhouse, Three base hits, McInnis, Sapp, Home run, Simpson. Score by Innings: Concord 1 0 0 3 0 0 1 0 1; Gastonia 0 0 0 0 0 3 2 0 0.

Star to Show "Abraham Lincoln." What is conceded to be one of the most interesting and valuable motion pictures ever made, "Abraham Lincoln," has been booked by the Star Theatre for showing next Wednesday and Thursday for the benefit of the Ellen Pemberton Sunday school class.

This assures the presentation of this most valuable historical and dramatic film in this city at the same time as in at least 5,000 other of the most important theatres of the United States and Canada.

"Abraham Lincoln" is in keeping with the productions of only the highest grade, according to the announcement of Richard Rowland, production manager for First National pictures, the organization handling it.

"Abraham Lincoln" was more than two years in the making, and at times as many as 2,500 people appear in the cast. It deals with the life of Lincoln from his birth, through his boyhood to manhood, and unfolds his romance with Anne Rutledge, carries him through the presidency and the strife of the Civil War.

NANSEMOND APARTMENTS NOW BEING OCCUPIED

Persons Living In Them Find Them Convenient and Home-like.—Three Apartments in the Building. Concord's newest apartment house, the Nansmond, at the corner of Corbin and Spring streets, has recently been completed and is now being occupied. The building was constructed by J. P. Cook and is one of the handsomest of its kind in the city.

It is two stories in height and has three apartments in it. Two of these apartments face the front on Corbin street and the other faces on Spring street. All are very commodious and light. The fact that each apartment has two stories, making it possible to use the second floor for bedrooms, gives to them a more homelike atmosphere.

In each apartment there are six rooms and a bath, together with a suitable number of closets. All of the rooms have plenty of outside light, giving them a cheery appearance.

In the downstairs there is a living room, a dining room, a kitchen, a pantry and a back porch. The living room is most attractive on account of the fact that it is of such large size and has such perfect appointments. On one side of it a stairway leads to the next floor and on the other, French doors lead to the dining room. Behind this is the kitchen.

Persons who have rented apartments are particularly pleased with the kitchen. It is equipped with everything that is needed in a modern room of this kind. One particular joy, said the housewives, is the very fine gas stove with a fireless cooker attachment. In addition to this there are built in cabinets and all the other necessities of a kitchen.

The upstairs has three bedrooms and a bath. The front bedroom is quite commodious, extending as it does across the entire front of the house. It can be used conveniently as a nursery when there are children in the family. The other two bedrooms are of average size.

One unusual feature of the apartments is the space provided for parking cars. This is done in the alcove between the apartments, there being ample space for parking four cars.

Persons who are occupying the apartments are very pleased at the very convenient arrangement of the entire building. They declare that they are very delighted at its homelike qualities in addition to the very modern design.

"There is," said one of the residents, "a place for every thing, even to the milk bottle."

F. M. Youngblood and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Risley and N. K. Reid and family are now occupying the three apartments.
