SULGRAVE INSTITUTION LUNCHEON ON THURSDAY

Luncheon Will Be Held at New Charlotte Hotel—Miss Jenn Coltrane Planning the Event.

Miss Jenn Coltrane, chairman of the woman's committee of Sulgrave Institution in North Carolina, is perfecting plans for the luncheon to be served on Thursday at the new Charlotte Hotel by various members of the organization living in North Carolina. Due to the prominence of the women who are expected at the luncheon, the affair is one of unusual interest in state social circles.

Mrs. William Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, is first vice chairman of Sulgrave Institution; Mrs. S. Westray Battle, of Asheville, is second vice chairman; Mrs. Robert A. Dunn, of Charlotte, is treasurer and Mrs. Latta Johnson, also of Charlotte, is secretary.

Some of the most distinguished women of the state are members of the organization, the executive committee in the state being composed of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mrs. A. W. McLean, Mrs. Edwin C. Gregory, Mrs. B. Frank Mebane, Mrs. B. F. Griffin, Mrs. O. H. Guion, Mrs. C. W. Tillet, Mrs. A. L. Brooks, and Mrs. Lindsay Patterson.

Mrs. Alton B. Parker, national president of Sulgrave Institution, was invited to address the members at the luncheon, but she has found it impossible to accept.

Sulgrave Manor was the home of the ancestors of George Washington and Sulgrave Institution is the trustee of the manor now. It was organized for the purpose of fostering closer friendships between the English speaking people, and has gained international recognition.

TAYLOR GETS TWO YEARS AND ENTERS HIS APPEAL

Newell Young Man Still Protests His Innocence in Abernathy Assault Matter.

Charlotte Observer: "I can't understand it," R. Gilbert Taylor, Newell young man said Friday after he had been sentenced to two years on the roads for assaulting W. S. Abernathy, Concord road merchant, with a club.

Still protesting that he was not guilty and that his story of being miles away from the scene of the assault at the time was true, he appealed the case to the Supreme Court. He had been unable to arrange the required $2,500 bond last night.

Taylor, speaking to a newspaper man, said that he was satisfied that Mr. Abernathy's testimony was given honestly and in good faith, that he had enough confidence in the 61-year-old man's integrity to believe that he would not seek to do him an injustice. "He said their relations had always been cordial and friendly, with never a suggestion of ill feeling."

THE A. R. P. MEETING FINISHES ITS WORK

Three Day Conference at Statesville Brought to Close Last Night.

Statesville, May 16.—Today, the last of the three-day conference of the General Synod of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church has been devoted to the transaction of business. The conference has been attended by about 300 delegates, representing churches in ten Southern States, and reports from every section indicate very gratifying progress in every phase of church activity.

The work today was featured by the consideration of the budget committee's report, the adoption of which brought on much discussion particularly in regard to home missions and to the future program of Bryson College at Fayetteville, Tenn. The appeal for aid for the continuance of the Associate Reformed church at Russellville, Arkansas, was granted by the synod the sum of $5,000 over and above the $15,000 for church extension itemized in the budget committee's report being granted. Other appropriations included the following: To Erskine College, Due West, S. C., $18,000 of which $9,000 is to be raised by special contributions; to Bryson College, Fayetteville, Tenn., $5,000 for the continuation of the work there; to Woman's College, Due West, S. C., $5,000; to foreign mission, $42,000; to church extension, $20,000.

The conference adjourned tonight to meet next year at Due West, S. C. The moderator elected to preside at the 1926 meeting is Rev. A. J. Ransom, of Montgomery, Indiana.
