PROMINENT CHARLOTTE BUSINESS MAN KILLED

R. G. Brice Meets Death When Automobile Overturns Near Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Charlotte, May 16.—R. G. Brice, 55, secretary of the Parker-Gardner Furniture Company and for many years one of the leading business men of the city, was killed, and two other prominent Charlotte business men suffered minor injuries when their automobile overturned near Rock Hill, S. C., at 9 o'clock tonight.

The injured men are J. W. Zimmerman, produce merchant, and Joe Garibaldi, prominent jeweler. Reports from Rock Hill said the two were seriously injured and were expected to reach here later tonight.

The party was returning from a fishing trip at Great Falls, S. C., with Mr. Brice driving Mr. Zimmerman's car, a heavy machine. He lost control of the machine, which turned over twice, throwing Zimmerman and Garibaldi out of the machine and crushing Mr. Brice, who was killed instantly.

Another car of Charlotte men were behind the car occupied by Mr. Brice and his companions. Mr. Brice's body was carried to Rock Hill and prepared for burial and will be brought to Charlotte early Sunday morning.

Messrs. Garibaldi and Zimmerman were taken to a Rock Hill hospital where they received emergency treatment, later departing for their homes. The funeral arrangements of Mr. Brice were not complete late tonight, but the services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, of which he was an elder, it was tentatively announced tonight.

Mr. Brice is survived by four children, one of whom is Mrs. A. T. Sumner, wife of one of Charlotte's leading bankers. His wife died several years ago.

"Help! Help!" Father (over banister): "What's the matter, Helen?" Excited male voice: "It ain't Helen that's calling for help."

KANNAPOLIS DEPARTMENT

Kannapolis, May 18.—"The Largest unincorporated city in the South." It is a well known fact that hundreds of our boys and girls are leaving the home town to seek their fortunes in other cities.

There they work and struggle against frightful odds—the majority failing to realize their dreams of future prosperity.

How much better if these young people could stay in their home town. And they could.

If we had always spent our money at home and helped to build up stores and industries that could give them profitable employment.

Our neglect and lack of loyalty to home interests has doubtless driven away to other cities many who would have made good citizens of our city.

We—those who sent their money away from Kannapolis—have retarded the growth of our city and have caused the loss of many desirable citizens.

But, it is not too late to do our duty by the young boys and girls who will soon be ready to take upon their shoulders the business of life.

Will you? Will you help make Kannapolis prosperous? Make it grow to the point where none of our people will have to seek employment elsewhere?

Then do all your buying in Kannapolis, as far as possible.

Work prosperity; Build now, by now. Work more, earn more. Always give your local merchants first chance.

Mr. Sherrill, the editor of this paper, has been kind enough to give the Kannapolis people a page each The Tribune and it's up to us to fill every square inch. Merchants, advertise! Put Kannapolis on the map!

Three Automobiles to Every Bath Tub. Orphans' Friend.

Somebody says that there are three automobiles in the United States to every bathtub, which must be stretching a good yarn mightily. If he had said the automobile is three times as popular as the bath tub, especially with a bare-foot boy, there could be no argument about it. Most people find it easier to get in a car and put on more dirt than it is to get in a bathtub and take it off. Hotel men say that very often certain guests who make a big noise about getting a room with bath do not use the bath when they get it, although sometimes they do stend the towels.

Mrs. Henpeck: "It says here that this new elixir of life will make a man live for 200 years."

Mr. Henpeck: "If I was a bachelor I would buy a bottle."

Sports.

"Smoky" Johnson is Manager Fowler's selection to pitch against the Bleachers in the official scheduled Cabarrus-Bleachers affair at the Cabarrus park today.

Parker, ace of the Ewan pitching staff, will take the hill for the Bleachers.

Manager Harris, of the Employed Boys, will likely use Ethel against Midway, while Walters will in probability be the Midway manager's choice in the game at the Cannon park.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Mark Bartin's, Kannapolis' own Solomon selections:

Many a good wife is spoiled by a bad husband and vice versa.

Every married man appreciates the gratitude of the New York man who will fifty thousand dollars to the woman who, twenty years ago, married another man.

Compulsory education may be a good thing. But, at that, a whole lot of men imagine that Alpha and Omega are the names of new fangled automobile oils.

Every married man is in love with his wife's husband.

The men who invented suspenders and hose supporters did a great deal towards upholding the dignity of their country.

Men are born equal all right, but equal to what?

A judge has ruled that a man who steals a girl has a weak mind. How about the man that marries one?

Now begins the spring of the umpire's discontent.

Big Audience Greets Records Breaking Senior Play.

Frances Wood, whose penchant consist in taking a simple tale and evolving a tensely dramatic story out of it, formed another subject for the expression of her art in "Clarence," the latest play to be presented by the high school students under her direction.

Heading the company was Clarence Troutman. His capital playing of the leading role before local audiences Friday and Saturday nights, was an important factor in the tremendous success the play proved to be.

"Clarence" is splendidly humorous. It is also a sort of mystery story. One playgoer said that this play was funny—he didn't know whether to laugh himself to death or just succumb from the thrills that chased up and down his spine. In any event, no high school dramatic offering of the last generation has taken such a firm hold on playgoers.

This play, however, wasn't the only attraction, as the singing and dancing of the high school girls were of such excellence as to compare most favorably with any high class show to play Kannapolis this season.

Without a doubt the perfection and variety of dance numbers offered between acts of "Clarence" is not equalled in any other attraction of the boards.

It would be useless to attempt to single out star performance in the dancing line. Every dancer was a star.

Cabarrus "X" One of First to Organize "Wolf Cubs" For Boys.

The program of Wolf Cubs, paralleling the plan of scouting for Older Boys, has been built up about the natural activities and interests of the boys from eight to twelve years of age. The organization has proved popular in England and in Canada, but has not been used extensively in the United States.

The replies to a questionnaire recently circulated indicated a lack of enthusiasm on the part of our executives, but it must be remembered that most of them speak from theory only, and without actual experience with the Wolf Cub program.

Every boy between the ages of eight and twelve may join the Wolf Cub pack. A pack consists of not more than twenty-four boys nor less than six. It may be divided into squads of six boys each.

The Cub promise: On my honor I will do my best to be:

First—Loyal to God and my country and to the law of the Wolf Pack.

Second—To do a good turn to some one every day.

The law of the Wolf Cub Pack:

"The Cub gives in to the Old Wolf."

"The Cub does not live in to himself."

Motto: "Do your best."

Physical Culture magazine for June, a Macfadden publication, contains an article of Judge Lindsay's dramatic articles dealing with various social problems, this time he asks "Why Condemn the Unmarried Mother?" It is written in the fearless way that Ben Lindsay has. There is a very interesting article on fat reduction "Those Horrible Extra Pounds Are Going," a strong article dealing with vaccination "The Viciousness of Vaccination." Also this issue has a Bernarr Macfadden exercise chart, which is being used in conjunction with the setting up exercises broadcast over the radio from WOR. Dr. Edmund C. Gray advises you to "Get Your Exercises Through the Air." Altogether you will find the current issue most instructive and entertaining.
