NEW LAW PERMITS KILLING OF WILD RANGE HORSES

Wild Horse Roundups Being Organized in Points of Montana.
(By the Associated Press)
Helena, Mont., May 21.—Wild horse roundups, planned under much the same system as is used by some western states for jackrabbit drives, are being organized in several sections of Montana under a law passed by the last legislature. The law, which was hard fought on sentimental grounds by old-time stockmen and ranchers in the legislature, is designed to rid sections of the state of the small, wild range horses, commonly designated cayuses, which are considered by stockmen as utterly worthless. Farmers complain that bands of these horses, when range feed is poor, sweep down upon the unfenced pasture lands in the agricultural districts, break down fences and damage growing crops. The livestock department estimates that there are 400,000 head of these wild horses on the Montana ranges. Under the law county commissioners, upon sufficient petition, may designate a roundup foreman, who organizes the drive, impounds the horses gathered, records their brands, if any, and causes the publication of a notice under which owners may redeem such stock as they wish by payment of a small fee. The remainder are destroyed. There is a market for about 8,000 head of these horses, annually. They are bought by an eastern concern to be slaughtered and the choice pieces of the meat prepared for export. Fertilizers and dog-food are by products. It has been reliably stated that the amount of food consumed by Montana's worthless causes would sustain 2,000,000 head of sheep and 800,000 head of cattle annually.

WATTS AND HIS WIFE ARE HELD FOR COURT

Young Valdeas Couple Charged With Murdering Baby Whose Body Was Found In Stump.
Morganton, May 21.—Willie Watts and his wife, Le'a Watts, the young Valdeas couple who are charged with the murder of their infant, were given a preliminary hearing this morning and recommended to jail without bail to await the next term of Burke county criminal court to be held in August. In the absence of Solicitor R. L. Huffman, who was detained by illness, the prosecution was conducted by Spainhour and Mull and C. F. Cowan. A. A. Whittebour, of Hickory, appeared for the defendants. The state, in order to establish a case, introduced five witnesses—Dr. J. B. Riddle, coroner; J. R. Benfield, a merchant at Valdeas; Sheridan Berry, foreman in the cotton mill where Mrs. Watts worked until last Thursday; J. H. Bug and Deputy Sheriff Julius Haliburton. The evidence submitted covered the finding of a baby's body in an old stump just across the road from the Watts home. Dr. Riddle's testimony as a physician being that it had evidently lived a few hours, the fact that Mrs. Watts had given birth to a baby and also evidence that there had been a birth in the Watts home. Magistrate G. H. Battle heard the case and made the ruling for commitment. Mrs. Watts, had been taken to jail last night from Grace hospital when some fear was entertained that she might not be sufficiently safeguarded at the hospital. Fish and game commissioners of the Western States and Canada have been invited to attend a Western Outdoor Life conference to be held in Spokane, June 17-18.

REV. Z. E. BARNHARDT DIES AT STATESVILLE

One of Most Prominent Ministers in the Methodist Church Succumbs to Illness.

Rev. Zebulon E. Barnhardt, pastor of Broad Street Methodist Church at Statesville and a native of this county, and one of the most prominent ministers of the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference, died at his home in Statesville shortly before midnight Thursday night. He had been in failing health since April 1st.

Rev. Zebulon Barnhardt was born at Mount Pleasant, Cabarrus county, North Carolina, May 19, 1880, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barnhardt. He was educated at Trinity College, graduated at Trinity with the class of 1906. Mr. Barnhardt joined the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference at Mount Airy in November, 1906. On May 1, 1907, he was married to Miss Kate Wagg, daughter of Rev. T. E. Wagg, now superannuated, residing at Rutherford College.

Mr. Barnhardt's first charge in the conference was on Mount Airy circuit where he served for two years. Then, as evangelist for Mt. Airy district, he served for one year. His third charge was at West Asheville, where he remained for four years, during which time he built Balm Grove church. He was next assigned to Lenoir, where he was pastor of the First Methodist church for two years. Then, after serving as pastor of Spring Garden church, Greensboro, for one year, he went to Charlotte, where he was pastor of Tryon Street Methodist church for four years. His seventh charge was Centenary church, Winston-Salem, where he served for four years. During the pastorate in the Twisp City he built a new Sunday school building which is recognized as the best equipped Sunday school building in the Conference. His eighth and last charge was Broad Street Methodist Church, Statesville, coming here from Winston-Salem about the first of November, 1924. Mr. Barnhardt is survived by his wife and seven children, three young daughters and four small sons. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barnhardt, of Mount Pleasant, also survive.

Mr. Barnhardt's death resulted from acute tuberculosis, following an attack of grip which he suffered last March. He had planned to begin a revival in his church the last week in March, but had to call it off, on account of his failing strength. He was forced to go to bed on the last day of March, and although he made a heroic fight against the ravages of the disease, his physicians realized from the start that no medical skill could arrest the rapid advances of the fatal malady which gained ground almost daily. He was optimistic during his illness and faced the Grim Reaper with a smile.

THE COUNTY DOG LAW WILL NOT BE ENFORCED

Decision Made at Meeting of the Game Commission Thursday Night In Concord.

At a meeting of the game commission Thursday night, it was decided the law compelling persons in the county to keep their dogs either leashed or fenced was not to be enforced any longer. The other portions of the law, however, relative to hunting in the county, will be enforced as strictly as is possible, it was decided at the meeting. Game wardens in Cabarrus will be ordered to watch for persons violating the law in regard to shooting birds, rabbits and other game. The decision in regard to the dogs will be received with a great deal of relief by the farmers in general in the county. There had been much complaint since the passage of the law in regard to this section. It was felt that it worked a hardship unnecessarily on the owners of dogs. A recommendation was made by the commission that the farmers have their dogs vaccinated. This is now a law in Concord and although there is no law compelling farmers to vaccinate their dogs, it would be a wise thing, the game commission thought, to have them take this precaution also.
