BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated. A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work." One cent a dose. NC-161

DEFICIT WAS BOOSTED BY PRISON SHORTAGE

Accountants Who Figured On Deficit In January Didn't Consider This Item. Raleigh, May 22.—Accountants who figured on the deficit and guessed at its size in January do not think that their judgment should be impeached by the turn of things yesterday which sent the total to the dizzy heights of $9,356,105.51. For the statisticians figured the State prison of the books entirely. When they made up their guesses on the revenue basis, they did not calculate on taking the penitentiary over. That institution has added a considerable pile to the deficit and the men who made up the original figures think today that the worst to be shown hereafter is about $250,000 more deficit than they had contemplated. May and June are to turn their receipts into the State treasury and a big bunch of money discovered during those periods would help the situation. The backers of Governor Morrison berated Maxwell greatly when they said that he malignantly refused to figure accruals. When the late 1925 assembly was asked what it meant by not counting against the $9,515,787.63 deficit estimated for June 30, 1925, all revenues accruing for the first six months of the year, leaders replied that there is no such thing as any accrual this year, that the books had been closed and the deficit was more than nine and a half millions. The collections will be very poor in May, if the history of recent collecting runs true. June offers relief from the revenue shortage with the big license month on. But the analysis of the statement last made shows that expenditures exceeded collections more than a million, or as $381,612.64 is to $1,400,737.90. But for all that, the accountants would have been about right if the State prison had not show up shy. And there is no early promise of improvement from it. In 1880 Ernest von Schoeing swam, unassisted, from lower end of Manhattan to Coney Island and return, about 20 miles, in 8 hours 45 minutes.

KIWANIS MEETING

Plans Made to Entertain Visiting Kiwanians in City at Early Date. Plans were laid Friday by the Kiwanis Club of Concord at its regular meeting to entertain the Kiwanians of Salisbury, Statesville and Lexington at an inter-club meeting to be held in Concord at an early date. The Kiwanians also enjoyed a program arranged by Charles Scovil, and carried out by a troupe of boys from the local Boy Scout organization. The matter of an inter-club meeting had been discussed previously, but owing to the fact that the international attendance contest was being held, it was thought best to defer the affair until the close of the contest. President Breward Harris told the Kiwanians he had been in conference with Lieutenant Governor Jim Fletcher, in Salisbury, and that everything indicates that June 5th will be an ideal time to get the clubs together. The club voted unanimously to hold this meeting on the evening of June 5th, and the president appointed committees on arrangements, program, entertainment and the like, which are already at work to insure the success of the meeting. The membership of the four clubs which are to meet is much in excess of 200, and it is expected that there will be a live bunch of hustlers from each of the neighboring cities in Concord. Charles Scovil, in charge of the program, asked that all the members turn in their attendance cards, and he donated the attendance prize in a novel and entertaining manner. The program chairman then introduced a troupe of Boy Scouts, and declared that his work in Concord with the boys had been one of the chief delights during his stay here. He told his hearers something of the origin and purposes of the organization, and repeated for them the Scout obligation. He then put the troupe through a short drill, and had them demonstrate to the Kiwanians some of their first aid methods taught them in their training. The program for the meeting next Friday will be in charge of Fred Youngblood.

KANNAPOLIS VOLLEY BALL TEAM BEATS CONCORD SIX

The State Champions Are Forced to Extend Themselves to Beat the Locals. Kannapolis, Volley ball team, state champions and third rank in the Southern States, played the local Business Men's Sextet in Concord Thursday night and took a hard fought match by the score of 3-1. The games, with the exception of the first, were all interesting and were close. The Concord aggregation were unable to get together in the first round and were beaten badly by a 15-5 score. However, better work was done in the second and Kannapolis was able to nose out the locals by most strenuous efforts. In the third game, the rush of the Concord volleyists could not be halted and Kannapolis was beaten for the first time in months, the score being 15-9. The business men were too tired after their sport to put up the necessary punch in defeating the "champions again" and the deciding game went to the visitors by a 15-12 count. Kannapolis, as usual, put up a steady and fast contest and the many brilliant plays showed what made them state champions. Concord showed marked improvement in all departments of the game. "Most Perfect" Good Say English Scholars. Using the words "most perfect" in advertising matter issued by the Southern Railway System, describing the accommodations offered by the "Crescent Limited," new de luxe train between New York and New Orleans, started an argument as to correct usage which was referred to a number of the leading English scholars of the country, with the result that "most perfect" was given unqualified approval by four out of six servants who replied to a questionnaire sent out by the Southern's passenger department. Dean John C. Metcalf, of the University of Virginia; Prof. Henry B. Lathrop, of the University of Wisconsin; Prof. Samuel Moore, of the University of Michigan, and Prof. J. Leslie Hall, of the College of William and Mary, upheld the use of "most perfect." Quotations from the Constitution of the United States, the St. James Version of the Holy Bible, the works of Shakespeare, John Ruskin, Carlyle, Irving, Addison, and other standard English authors were given, to show the use of this and similar expressions. Prof. Robert E. Park, of the University of Georgia, and Prof. J. T. Murray, of Harvard University, ruled that "most perfect" is illogical, arguing that if a thing is perfect, it can not be more so. Though it was impossible to get a unanimous decision, "most perfect" won by a vote of four to two. McLean Gets Vice Presidency of Good Road Association. Raleigh, May 22.—Governor McLean was elected vice president of the United States Good Roads association at its meeting held in Houston, Texas, April 29-25, to serve during his term of office. In accepting the office, Governor McLean writes J. A. Dountree, director general of the association, as follows: "I am most appreciative of the courtesy extended me by the convention in electing me vice president of the association and I am glad to accept the office. Kindly convey to the president and the members of the nominating committee the assurance of my appreciation of this attention. As you know, North Carolina has followed out a program policy of highway construction, and it is my purpose to make every effort to see that the policy is continued, fully realizing the part that good roads play in the development of a commonwealth. North Carolina, and particularly rural North Carolina, like every other state that has made progress in road building, has benefited materially from her highways." Charlatans take new names to keep pace with the times, but a "consulting psychologist" is often nothing more than the old-time patent medicine faker.
