STEPS AHEAD

At the Height of the Season

Comes Good News for You

If confidence begets confidence, and judgment—sound judgment—is the bulwark of successful business manipulation, here is a move we think you will appreciate:

Instead of announcing and advertising our Annual July Clearance Sale to begin in July, we will step ahead and announce the beginning of this event to begin Tuesday, June 16th. Right in the heart of the Spring Shopping Season you are accorded an opportunity to satisfy your Summer Apparel wants at prices that do not prevail until the season is over. Our stocks are ample and complete. They will not remain so at the prices we quote. We ask that you "step ahead" and take advantage now of the many attractive values that prevail at Robinson's.

TAX LISTERS FINISH THEIR WORK FOR YEAR

Persons Desiring to List Taxes Now Must Make Returns to Register of Deeds Elliott.

Tax listers of the county finished their work Saturday and in the future persons desiring to make returns must give them to Register of Deeds Elliott.

"Tax returns should have been made during May, but we continued the work until Saturday for the convenience of the public," said J. W. B. Long, tax supervisor of the county, this morning, "but we are finished now. Those persons who have failed to make their returns must give them to the register of deeds."

Mr. Long and a corps of assistants are preparing the tax books now and this work will be continued as the various tax listers turn in their books. Two books have already been completed.

The Burial of Henry Wade Ivey. D. E. A. has in the last issue of the Starly News-Herald the following tribute to the late Wade Ivey, who was buried in New London last week:

All that was mortal of Henry Wade Ivey, was placed securely in a grave Monday afternoon and covered with a profusion of the most beautiful flowers that could bloom beneath the canopy of Heaven, and witnessed by scores of friends from different points of North Carolina and Virginia. All that devoted family and fond friends could do for Wade was of no avail, and as the church bells rang Sunday morning calling us to the house of worship, the bells of Heaven rang to summon his brave spirit to the eternal resting place. There is no doubt but that he is with God. His last hours were peaceful and he told his sisters in the last minutes of his life that he was not afraid to die, and breathed his last without a tremor.

For the last few months he realized that he could not live long, and wanted every business transaction satisfactorily adjusted, and be even with everything in a material way. His mother had been with him constantly for a long time, and had untiringly done everything that a mother's love prompted, the brothers and sisters were untiring in their devotion to him, he was devoted to home and loved ones, and is the first of the family to be taken. The chain is broken, the courageous gone link is gone.

He did not die in war, but died from the effects, and has fought bravely all this time to overcome the cause. A prayer of condolence to bereaved ones, an undying reverence and love to the memory of Henry Wade Ivey, who as a boy was pleasant and kind, as a young man, honorable and clean in character, and respected by young and old; as a soldier, loyal and valiant, even unto death, as a son to mother, devotion and obedience and love, as a brother, the best one ever.

Marjorie Daw at Concord Theatre Today. The screen success of Marjorie Daw, one of the principals in James Young's First National production of "Wandering Daughters" to be seen at the Concord Theater today can truly be said to be the result of keen intelligence and sheer histrionic ability for she does not possess any "cute tricks," according to casting directors and producers.

Marjorie Daw is very much a serious minded girl whose poignant tenderness bespeaks hidden depths and her simplicity and unaffectedness make her one of the most popular of our younger screen set. Though she could not be imagined as an elaborately dressed and frilled society bud or the girl who would ruin her young screen lover's career or drive him to the depths of despair by her extravagance, Marjorie possesses, as James Young expressed it, the sweet bashfulness and confidence that would endear her to the most critical audience.

Attracting the attention and admiration of Geraldine Farrar, Marjorie Daw obtained small parts in "Joan the Woman" and a number of other screen-productions at the Lasky studios while the opera star was appearing in productions there and later, so marked was her talent even in unimportant roles that various producers vied for her services.

Rev. Dr. R. G. Miller Resigns. Charlotte Observer.

A call to succeed Dr. R. G. Miller as pastor of Sardis A. R. P. Church in Mecklenburg county has been extended to Rev. W. P. Grier, of Clover, S. C.

Mr. Grier is brother of Dr. R. C. Grier, of Erskine College, and son of the late Professor Paul L. Grier, of the institution. He was reared at Due West, S. C., and has been pastor of the Clover Church for eight or ten years, his only pastorate. He is a young man, 30 to 35 years old.

Dr. Miller resigned his charge at Sardis a few weeks ago after serving as pastor 38 years, succeeding the late Rev. John Hunter there. He has been preaching for about fifty years, being pastor of the A. R. P. Church at New Hope, S. C., before going to Sardis Church.

Meeting of Georgeville Community Club. An interesting program featured the meeting of the Georgeville Community Club Saturday night before a large audience. Three short plays were presented and musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Paris Kidd and Prof. J. B. Robertson.

It was decided at the meeting to purchase a piano for the school house, the club to pay for the instrument.

The club has taken keen interest in the work of the school and only recently has completed many improvements to the school grounds.

Methodist to Build New Broadway Temple.

The new Broadway Temple to be erected by Dr. Christian F. Reinsner and the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal Church in the Borough of Manhattan, city of New York, will be a cathedral, hotel, apartment house and many stores under one roof. It will cost $4,000,000, of which only $750,000 remains to be raised. Over the temple proper will be apartments. In the great tower there will be 644 rooms and public offices that will bring in annual rental of $402,200. The wings will contain housekeeping apartments for 500 people, renting at $106,200 a year. The entire income from rentals, it is estimated, will be $506,000 a year, which will more than support the church and pay the taxes and the interest on the bonds.
