

DR. DIXON ELECTED HEAD OF THE CASWELL SCHOOL

Children of Higher Grades Immediately Show Regret at Change by Mourning.

Kinston, June 18.—Dr. W. H. Dixon, of Ayden, was today elected superintendent of the Caswell Training School, State institution for mental defectives here, and assumed charge of the school.

The trustees formally accepted the resignation of Dr. C. Banks McNairy, superintendent for many years, and Dr. Wm. Newbold, his assistant. Dr. McNairy said he was pleased over the selection of Dr. Dixon as his successor.

Dixon was introduced to the children of the higher grades in chapel as their new superintendent. The meeting was broken up instantly by the lamentations and mournings over the loss of Dr. McNairy.

A statement from the board and the trustees had found Dr. McNairy and Dr. Newbold completely at cross purposes with each other and that his division of opinion had permeated the whole institution.

Members of the board praised both. It was stated that they had performed their duties in a faithful way as they saw it, and no evidence of moral turpitude or dishonesty were found.

Representing the local press, H. Galt Braxton told the trustees the sentiment in Kinston was preponderant toward Dr. McNairy.

Board members said they had been deeply touched by the children's manifestation of affection for the retiring superintendent. There was reference to the falling of the mantle of responsibility upon younger shoulders.

Dr. McNairy said his soul was tied up in the school. His sorrow was with the fate of the children; his heart was broken, he declared.

As for local sentiment, it is quietest this evening but the community appeared sorry. It will be months reconciling itself to Dr. McNairy's going from the Caswell school. Piteful little figures in the dormitories continued to weep on into the night.

Post and Flag's Cotton Letter. New York, June 19.—While somewhat reactionary the market showed no symptoms of actual weakness and offerings were on the whole quite readily absorbed.

You can't tell if a man is working too hard or has a radio.

tioned to this drought area as part of the general landscape and are disposed to question if so much stress should be laid on the fact that some 15 per cent of the belt is in bad shape while the remaining 85 per cent is reported from good to excellent.

The point which those traders seem to miss is that all this has happened in what is usually the most favorable period of the season and the really dangerous period is about to begin during which the 15 per cent may go from bad to worse and the 85 per cent suffer some severe losses. There is always the possibility that that will not happen and that the weather will be of the made to order variety which is about on a par with the possibility that a male will refrain from kicking if sufficiently provoked.

It looks, however, that the market may have got somewhat in advance of developments to date and will be the better for a reaction. Not a few seem to think so, including some who were staunch friends in the time of trouble's advances. It is a weather market still rather deeply committed to the short side for speculative account, though technically somewhat easier as a result of more or less liquidation by those who supported the market at lower levels and would do so again if it should return to those levels before a really clear view of the future can be had.

ILLEGAL TO FLOG COUNTY CONVICTS

Judge Sinclair Says County Authorities Can't Order Flogging.

"The courts can put an end to flogging without statutory action, just as they put an end to wife beating in the Oliver case in 1874," declared Judge N. Sinclair in a statement prepared while holding court this week at Williamson.

Judge Sinclair goes into the Supreme Court decisions at length to show that so far as the law goes, there is plenty of authority to prohibit the flogging of county convicts, and states that he has so instructed all grand juries in his court.

Seven Graduate at Home For Children. Winston-Salem, June 19.—The senior class of the Methodist Children's Home this week observed commencement season. The remainder of the young folks at the home joined in the celebration.

All during the week there has been something doing, and the climax was reached tonight with the graduating and class night exercises given in the school auditorium.

Sheriff Caldwell is anxious, he says, to have all persons who are delinquent in the matter of paying their poll tax to attend to this at once. If the fines are not paid at once, it will be necessary for him to come and collect, he says.

Margaret Suther, who appeared before Judge Caldwell at Recorder's Court Friday charged with shop-lifting from Park-Bell's and Robinson's, was bound over to Superior Court on a $200 bond.

The local branch of the Ku Klux Klan attend services last night at Henry Blackwelder's tent on North Church street.

The regular weekly baseball game at the Gibson Mill park will be played this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The local branch of the Carolina Motor Club issued more licenses Friday than on any day since the distribution of new tags was begun on Monday.

A large number of persons are taking the free typhoid inoculation at the county health office, it was stated this morning by the authorities.

"Day by Day our Chain Sale is growing better and better," declared E. L. Harris, manager of the local link of the big Efrid chain of stores.

Word received from Mrs. H. S. Williams and Miss Virginia Smoot on their Western tour stated that they were in San Antonio Thursday and would leave some time during the day for Los Angeles where they expected to spend Sunday and Monday.

Attorney Frank Armfield, member of the local bar, has just returned from a trip of several weeks to Georgia, where he was supervising work on his plantation there, particularly the planting of his peach grove.

The unusually warm weather which has been prevalent for the past few weeks continued Friday unabated.

The temperature hovered around the ninety mark during the entire day, getting above ninety around noon and hanging just a little below this mark the rest of the day.

The heat today was practically the same as it was yesterday but a brisk breeze made it less oppressive than it had been.

TAM BOWIE QUITS AS A MAKER OF LAWS

Will Not Be Member of Another Legislature; Might Run For Senate Job.

Raleigh News and Observer. Thomas C. "Tam" Bowie, member of the General Assembly from Ashe county for six terms and once speaker of the House of Representatives, stated here yesterday that "under no circumstances" will he be a member of another legislature. Washington and the legislative halls there, he indicated, constitute another story.

"As far as I now know I shall stick to the practice of law, but whether I run for anything else or now I have definitely decided that I shall never be a member of another legislature; I have worried with that long enough and under no circumstances will I run again," declared Mr. Bowie.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Bowie was seriously considering contesting the seat in the United States Senate now held by Senator Lee S. Overman when the Senator comes up for re-nomination next June. He stated yesterday that he does not now think he will run and that he anticipated that Mr. Overman will be unopposed.

"I may change my mind about the Senate, but I do not now expect to run," stated Mr. Bowie. He did not disclose any plans he might have in connection with any other office.
