CHINESE ANIMOSITY AGAINST FOREIGNERS

Japanese Most Hated Among Those Being Attacked—Martial Law in Shanghai.

San Francisco, June 23.—Conditions in China today took a turn for the worse.

The reaction abroad as well as in foreign centers in China was quickly felt. The New York stock exchange noted the disturbances; shipping companies in Manila hastily revised their schedules; while missionary societies and others interested in the far east sought more complete reports of the welfare of their representatives.

Attacks against Japanese featured the day's dispatches. The present wave of anti-foreignism has been directed principally against the Japanese and British, so that phase was not unexpected. Reports of assaults on Japanese came from four different Chinese cities—Wuhu, Chinkiang, Chungking and Wuho—all interior points, although Chinkiang is close to the mouth of the Yangtze river.

Other disorders were rife from Ningpo, a city in Chekiang province, south of Shanghai. A report by way of London said disorders also had broken out in Manchuria. The report did not include details. Diplomatic exchanges bearing on the unsettled situation continued. The diplomatic corps at Peking answered the central government's latest note with another in which responsibility for delays in effecting a settlement at Shanghai was disclaimed. The Peking government also was accused of presenting a garbled version of happenings at Shanghai.

Attention to Eyesight is Showing Results.

Visual imperfections of school children in Cleveland, Ohio, have been notably reduced. In 1910, one child in every 3,708 had to learn to read with his fingers; in 1924, one in 4,367. This improvement is due principally to legislation requiring prompt attention to inflammation of the eyes of new-born infants, to providing classes for partially and entirely blind children, the increase of sight-saving classes for those unable to see well enough to keep up with the regular school work, and by cooperation with parents and physicians for local treatment and fitting of glasses when needed.

Ninety per cent. of the foreign correspondence clerks employed by big export firms in Great Britain are foreigners, many of whom work for little or no wages in return for the knowledge and experience they pick up.

HOUSE WILL RUSH TAX REVISION BILL

Committee to Meet October 19th to Draft Measure for Session in December.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—The House Ways and Means Committee will meet October 19th to draft a tax revision bill, Chairman Green announced today, adding that it would hold public hearings for two weeks, and would have a bill ready for congressional consideration in December. He predicted the House would pass the bill before the Christmas holidays and that it would become a law in time to apply to taxes due next year.

Recent suggestions looking to the elimination of dual taxation on the part of states and the federal government received support today in the announcement by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of the results of a referendum dealing with the question.

The constituent organizations holding membership in the national chamber voted overwhelmingly in an expression of opinion that the federal government should repeal its present estate tax; should refrain from imposing estate and inheritance taxes in the future, and should join with representatives of the states in co-ordinating their taxation systems.

"Death taxes have, by an unbroken series of precedents, been recognized as exclusively a field for state taxation, except in time of war emergency," the committee submitting the referendum report to members of the chamber contended. "At present, state taxes on inheritance taxes and estates are numerous and burdensome."

These taxes form an appreciable part of the current revenues of many of the states, the committee found, and their imposition by the federal government brings about "multiple taxation of estates and still further confuses a situation which is already chaotic, due to the conflict of state laws." Federal income from such levies, the report added, "has never formed more than an insignificant portion" of its total of ordinary revenues, and "is no longer necessary in order to balance the national budget."

In setting forth a general principle of co-ordinating national and state tax systems, the committee asserted that confusion growing out of dual taxation was particularly obvious in relation to corporation, income and death taxes.

"It is conceivable that should this condition continue without check," it said, "there may develop the same competition between the national government and the various states as now prevails among the states in regard to certain types of taxes; that is, each will tax to the maximum on the theory that if it does not collect the tax the other jurisdiction will."

Post and Flag's Cotton Letter.

New York, June 23.—With July notice day Thursday and a very important report due a few days later, it is not surprising that trading has been on a limited scale and largely confined to evening up scattered accounts. All but one of the private reports which have so far appeared have shown a loss for the month rather than a gain, but the result in all such calculations hinges largely upon the importance assigned to Texas conditions and there is no means of estimating how much weight will be assigned to that by those who make up the official figures. There is also the probability that weevil damage in the eastern belt will be much more extensive than last year, and the opinion is expressed by some that the trade will be well advised to pay less attention to Texas weather and more to the weevil question, as any weather favorable for the crop will be equally favorable for the pest.

Just where or when any safe anchorage will be found in this troubled sea of uncertainty is impossible to say. Meanwhile, however, every one is fully entitled to his guess as long as it is admitted to be a guess and nothing more. Some one is sure to come close to what the actual facts will be, but it looks hardly prudent for any one to take any large risk that his guess will be the lucky one. The idea in local circles now is that July will have to do a discount as compared with October sufficient to cover carrying charges before the notices will be taken care of Thursday, but there is no real agreement on that point, and spot houses are credited with buying all the July offered at five over October.

'HUCKLEBERRY' PIE PROVES FATAL TO LAD

Little Sister Also Becomes Desperately Ill—Will Cook No More of Them.

Wilson, June 23.—Edwin, Jr., 3 1/2, and Edna, 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barnes, of this city, on Saturday last ate what was supposed to be huckleberry pie for lunch. Violent convulsions followed, and notwithstanding two physicians were in constant attendance Edwin died 48 hours later. Edna's condition today is critical. Dr. Sidberry, specialist, was rushed from Wilmington Sunday, this round trip by automobile, 280 miles, being made in seven hours. It is thought that deadly nightshade berries had been carelessly gathered by the huckleberry pickers.

A child of Floyd Page and several grown-ups have been poisoned from the same cause, and local bakers have destroyed all huckleberry pies and will make no more.

Living to Be 100 Years Old.

Philadelphia Record. Dr. Royal S. Copeland, United States Senator from New York, the most widely read expert medical adviser in the world, says that one should read the daily newspapers and take a vital interest in the affairs of the world if he would live to be 100 years old.

This is the sentiment the senator expressed as he told of his great uncle, George Augustus Peters, who will celebrate his hundredth birthday at Dexter, Mich., on June 30th.

The senator naturally linked the discussion of his uncle with a health talk. "I account for my uncle's long life and excellent health through his tremendous interest in all the events of the day. He can hardly wait for the papers to reach him each day. He is so interested in the affairs of his locality, of his state, the nation and even international matters that he doesn't have time to think of himself."

Undoubtedly Dr. Copeland is correct in his statement of the therapeutic value of the daily newspaper, with its news and advertisements, its editorials and features. Read "The Record" today and every day and you will feel better and better in every way.

Ink From Used Ribbons.

The North Wilkesboro agency of the Southern Railway has not received any ink on requisition for nearly two years as the result of a plan adopted by Cashier E. A. Schneider of making all the ink required from worn-out typewriter copy ribbons. Used ribbons are placed in hot water and allowed to remain until all the coloring matter is bleached out. A very good quality of ink is thus produced.

She Found HERB JUICE to Be the Medicine for Which She Had Long Sought.

"I began taking HERB JUICE on the recommendation of a friend and this statement is sufficient proof that I have been helped and am now feeling like my old self again. I have really gained in weight and sleep, which of course has quieted my nerves. I have no more pains after eating and have a splendid appetite. There is absolutely no reason why anyone should suffer as I did and I sincerely trust this statement may convince them that HERB JUICE really is great."

"I have been taking HERB JUICE only a few weeks, but in that short time I have been so improved in health that I am positive that HERB JUICE is just the medicine that I have needed all the time for stomach trouble, indigestion and constipation. Never before have I taken a medicine that has worked so quickly and as effectively as HERB JUICE." Mrs. M. Small, of Caldwell street, Concord, N. C., most eagerly made the above statement to the HERB JUICE demonstrator.

In continuance, she said: "I was suffering from constipation, as thousands upon thousands of others in America are today, and I would have dreadful pains in my back and feet tired and sluggish all the time. No appetite, no energy and so nervous that the slightest sound made me jump. I slept very little. I also had stomach trouble and indigestion. My stomach was upset all the time and nothing I ate agreed with me."

"I can scarcely realize that it was only a few weeks ago that I was in such a condition, for today I am well. I feel better than I have in a long, long time and it is to HERB JUICE that I owe my thanks. I am stronger, full of energy, sleep and eat as I formerly did and my bowels move regularly. I could not but hope for better results from a medicine or medicines and I gladly recommend HERB JUICE to all."

See the special HERB JUICE demonstrator now at Gibson Drug Store, who will courteously explain the effect of HERB JUICE that you may get the best results from its use. More Concord people are now taking HERB JUICE than any other medicine. HERB JUICE also sold in Kannapolis by F. L. Smith Drug Co.

COMPANY E TO LEAVE FOR CAMP ON JULY 4TH

Will Be at Camp Glenn for Annual Encampment for Two Weeks.—To Observe Mobilization Day.

Members of Company E, Concord's National Guard unit, will leave on train No. 46 on Saturday, July 4th, for the annual encampment at Camp Glenn, according to latest orders received by Capt. Norman Alston, commanding officer of the company.

Heretofore the company members have always left on Sunday mornings, but this has put them in camp so late at night that there has been some difficulty with pitching camp. In order to make conditions more pleasant the company has been ordered to leave this year on Saturday afternoon, so camp can be pitched Sunday. Under present plans the company will reach Camp Glenn early Monday morning and they will thus have the entire day to get their camp in order.

Under orders of the war department, as sent to national guard units through the office of Adjutant General Metts at Raleigh, Mobilization Day will also be observed this year on July 4th. As his company must entrain shortly after 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the fourth, Captain Alston plans to carry out his Mobilization Day program at 1 o'clock. Company E will be stationed at Camp Glenn for two weeks, the usual encampment period.

To Attend Battery Reunion.

Roy and James Spaffenfeld, Brice Wilford, Jack Wadsworth, Ray Morris and James B. Cannon, of this city and county, plan to go to Mooresville tomorrow to attend the reunion of members of Battery F, the artillery unit with which they served during the World War.

Major Bulwinkle, Major Crayton, who aided in the organization of the battery, and Capt. Morrison, who commanded the battery throughout the war, will be present for the reunion.

From reports received by Capt. Morrison, between 80 and 90 members of the battery are expected for the reunion festivities which will begin at noon tomorrow. The reunion is being held in Mooresville because the battery was stationed there during its organization.

A Big Bumble Bee Wrecks Ford Coupe.

Stany News-Herald.

Early this morning as Mr. R. B. Sibley was going to the mill that is cutting lumber for his plant, a bumble bee entered his Ford coupe, and while trying to get this unwelcome visitor to leave, Mr. Sibley for the first time in twenty years took his eyes off the road, and his car tumbled down an embankment near Long Creek bridge, and did considerable damage to the running gear.

Mr. Sibley was not injured in any way, neither was any of the glass broken in the car, but his nerves were rather shocked. It may be that the bee caused the nerves to give way to an extent, anyway, that he had the time of his life this morning.

Photographers Elect Ben Matthews President.

It would Help Some.

If those who can't sing wouldn't try. If those who can't play would shun piano.

If those who can't dance would sit 'em out. If those who can't drive would walk.

If those who don't know anything would keep still. If those who can't spell wouldn't get jobs as stenographers.

If those who can't get along with each other wouldn't marry. If those who can't make money would never be born.

An unusual record in longevity is furnished by the case of a woman in England who was seventy when his first son was born, and his son was seventy when his daughter was born. The grandfather of this living woman was thus born two hundred years ago.
