

Earth Tremors Did Damage In Four States Over Week End But No Deaths Are Reported So Far

BUILDINGS ROCKED DURING THE QUAKE

In Los Angeles Tremor Continued For More Than Minute, But No One Has Been Reported Killed So Far.

RAILROADS FEEL EFFECT OF QUAKE

Wires Are Also Down In Some Sections of California, and Power Houses Report Heaviest Damages.

Los Angeles, June 29 (By the Associated Press).—A severe earthquake shock rocked Los Angeles at 5:43 a. m. today. Downtown buildings swayed considerably but the movement was slow and easy and there was no indication of danger, although the motions continued for more than a minute.

The earthquakes continued at regular intervals, but all were the slow and steady, yet extremely severe movements. The tremors were felt as far north as Newhall, some 37 miles from here, according to telephone company reports.

The tremors were continuing at 6:50 o'clock. The earthquakes were felt in an unusual degree of severity at Mojave and Lancaster, Antelope Valley, 100 miles north of here, according to operators of the Los Angeles bureau of the power and light system.

Bakersfield, Oxnard and Santa Barbara, to the north of Colton to the east, all reported to the Southern Pacific train dispatcher here that they felt the tremors. No reports of damage came into the Southern Pacific office here.

The center of the disturbances seemed to be in Los Angeles and at the north, preliminary telegraph and telephone reports indicated.

Ventura reported that the movement was severe there. Clocks were stopped by the tremors in Los Angeles. El Centro reported that the tremors were not felt in the Imperial Valley.

Western Union and Pacific telephone and telegraph wires west of Ventura in the direction of Santa Barbara went dead in the earthquake and an hour later the companies reported they were not able to establish communication with Santa Barbara.

Damage in Several Cities. San Francisco, June 29 (By the Associated Press).—An earthquake at 6:44 a. m. today caused the Southern Pacific round house at Santa Barbara, Calif., to cave in, demolished the railroad station at Goleta, nine miles north of Santa Barbara, and thrust the railroad tracks out of line at Naples, fifteen miles north of Santa Barbara, the Southern Pacific dispatcher's office informed headquarters here just before the telegraph wires failed. All wire communication with Santa Barbara ceased after the shock at 6:44 a. m. and efforts are being made to ascertain whether additional damage was done.

The earthquake did not reach San Francisco. An oil tank collapsed at Nables, submerged the Southern Pacific Company's tracks there, the company was advised. The quake seemed to center at a point between San Luis and Carpinteria.

Small landslides were reported at Benham and Puenta. Southern Part of State Rocked. San Francisco, June 29 (By the Associated Press).—Southern California, in the vicinity of Santa Barbara, 300 miles south of San Francisco, was rocked by an earthquake of major proportions at 6:35 a. m. today, information received by the Western Union Telegraph Company indicate. The principal lines of communication into the area believed the most seriously affected, have been snapped.

Reports from Gaviota indicated that the region most severely rocked is between Ventura and Santa Barbara. At Gaviota rail lines were broken by the quake, and a large water tank was toppled over on the railroad right of way and flooded over the yards.

Hotel Destroyed. San Francisco, Cal., June 29 (By the Associated Press).—The Cabrillo House and a big beach house at Santa Barbara were destroyed in the earthquake, the Southern Pacific Co. was advised here. Most of the buildings on State Street were destroyed.

The Gibraltar Dam said by the company to be part of the city's water system, broke and emptied, the message said. The Cabrillo Hotel first split in two and then collapsed. No word was received as to deaths or injuries from any source.

The Cabrillo Hotel which was demolished was a recently constructed brick building of considerable size and located one block from State street, the main thoroughfare of the city. The hotel had accommodations for about 300 guests.

Telegram Office Damaged. San Francisco, June 29.—The main entrance of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at Santa Barbara was demolished here by earthquake this morning, information to the company headquarters at San Francisco over a crippled cable shortly before 9 a. m.

All Brick Building Demolished. Santa Barbara, June 29.—All the brick buildings in Santa Barbara were demolished this morning, including the Arlington Hotel, by the earthquake which swept the state. Water mains and river reservoirs were broken and the city was partly flooded.

Report Much Damage at Santa Barbara. San Francisco, Cal., June 29.—Information relayed here to the Associated Oil Co. offices over private wires from Santa Barbara said that "many large buildings in Santa Barbara had been leveled by the earthquake which struck that section this morning."

The information was received at Santa Maria through private lines extending close to Santa Barbara. It extended from the Santa Barbara. It extended from the Santa Barbara. It extended from the Santa Barbara.

State Street is the main thoroughfare of Santa Barbara. It extends for a distance of several miles. Business blocks ranging in height from two stories to ten, line each side of the street. These buildings mainly are of brick and concrete construction. Arlington Hotel, one of the famous resorts, is on upper State Street, about a mile from the beach.

No Damage at Hollywood. Hollywood, June 29.—Hollywood experienced a shock early this morning from earthquake tremors. No damage was reported.

Relief Train Off to Santa Barbara. San Luis Obispo, Cal., June 29.—A Southern Pacific relief train is leaving here at once to assist at Santa Barbara. Reports received here by the Southern Pacific officials say the railroad round house, the city reservoir and the San Mauc building and the Arlington Hotel have been destroyed.

It was also reported that State Street had been torn up by the shock. Reports from Los Olivos, Santa Maria, Tompoc, Orcutt and Nimono, south of here, said that these points had been shaken up but not damaged. All telegraph and telephone wires between here and Santa Barbara are down.

Red Cross to Give Aid. San Francisco, Cal., June 29 (By the Associated Press).—The American Red Cross headquarters here are negotiating for all available army airplanes here to be fully equipped relief force to Santa Barbara. One of those who will go from here is J. W. Richardson, who headed the Red Cross relief in the tornado stricken towns of the Middle West.

History in Granite. Brussels, June 29.—Two hundred and forty granite landmarks stretching from the Swiss frontier to the sea-coast of Belgium indicate the limit of the enemy advance in the great war. Seven of these are in the Ypres salient, and the Ypres League, at the invitation of the Belgian government, has provided the stones. They are four feet high, and each is surmounted by a carved representation of the "tin hat." On each is inscribed in English, French, and Flemish the phrase: "Here the invader was brought to a standstill."

The League has also erected forty landmarks on sites which became famous during the fighting in Flanders. Each is an iron post bearing the name by which the place was known to the troops engaged. Some of the names which have become immortal, like "Sanctuary Wood" and "Kitchener Wood," have a curious origin. The latter has no connection with the name of the great British soldier, but is a soldier's translation of its real name, Bois to Cuisinier.

The former owes its strange title to the fact that when, in October, 1914, General Bullfinch had collected there a number of small parties and stragglers, he issued orders that they "were in sanctuary and not to be employed except by his instructions." The soldiers came to the natural conclusion that they were in Sanctuary Wood.

QUAKE ALSO FELT DURING THE NIGHT

No Loss of Life Was Reported Anywhere in the State, However.—Large Crevice Extends Ten Miles.

Helena, Montana, June 29.—Residents of the Gallatin Valley, the apparent center of the earthquake which shocked four States Saturday night and yesterday, remained out in wide open spaces today looking back at $500,000 worth of ruins, the aggregate cost of the tremors.

It was a whimsical earthquake. No one was killed. Nearly a score of buildings craked and fell. There were a half dozen landslides.

A crevice extending at irregular intervals from Manhattan to Three Forks, a distance of 10 miles remains as one of the scars caused by the quake. The Lombard Tunnel of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, was caved in, and an avalanche at Deer Park, covered 500 feet of railroad track nearby, leaving it buried under earth and rocks 100 feet deep. This was caused when a cliff 800 feet high toppled and fell.

Sikes was instantly killed and his wife, their son Humbert, their daughter Miss Talton Job, and her husband, were seriously hurt when westbound Southern passenger train No. 111 struck the automobile in which they had started to Norfolk at 2:05 this morning. The family were prepared to take a vacation trip and left early in order to reach Norfolk by tonight. Mr. Sikes stopped the car when he saw the eastbound train 112 approaching. Mrs. Cochran is a sister-in-law of Mrs. A. H. Probst, of Concord, who left this morning to be at her bedside.

RADIO EXPERIMENTS TO BE MADE BY MACMILLAN

Messages and News Are to Be Sent Every Wednesday Night. (By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, June 29.—As broad as the field for scientific discovery on the present MacMillan-Navy Arctic expedition is the field for radio experiments. Of outstanding importance to the radio world will be the results of new low waves transmitting and receiving.

The latest engineering design in low wave apparatus is represented in the radio equipment carried by the Peary, installed by John L. Reinartz, radio operator, and chief engineer of the Zenith Radio Corporation. Its work has been proven in laboratory and was developed exclusively for Arctic use as the result of experiences gained on McMillan's last trip, when radio was first introduced in that region.

The radio lay-out includes four transmitters, three of which are set up on the boat. They are of 20, 40, and 80 and 180 metres. The 180 metre transmitter was taken chiefly to prove that it will not operate in daylight, Reinartz said, although it works successfully by night.

A single transmitter of four k.w., capable of sending on 20, 40, 80 and up to 600 metres, is one of the Peary's mouthpieces.

When this country is in darkness the night will be done on 40 metres. While in daylight, 20 metre wave length will be used. The 80 metre transmitter has been set up especially for experimental purposes Eugene F. McDonald, radio chief, felt certain that communication would be established in all zones of the expedition, as his Chicago station had been able to hear code from Glasgow, Scotland and New Zealand in the daytime with this equipment.

Messages and news to and from families of members of the party will be sent every Wednesday night from the Zenith station. Reinartz pointed out that the public will be unable to hear the messages, however, because no standard instrument is able to pick up the low wave length upon which the messages will be broadcast.

The expedition proceeds up the coast, the sending time from the ships will be as follows: 12 to 3 a. m., E. S. T. 6 to 9 a. m., E. S. T. 12 to 2 p. m., E. S. T. 6 to 9 p. m., E. S. T.

The schedule which gives the best response will then be used, probably 6 to 9 p. m.

PREHISTORIC RACE BUILT HUGE APARTMENT HOUSES

Largest Prehistoric Apartment House on American Continent. (By the Associated Press.)

Tucson, Ariz., June 29.—The Pueblo Bonita, in northwestern New Mexico, is described by Dr. Neil Morton Judd, curator of Southwestern archeology for the National Museum in Washington, as the largest prehistoric apartment house on the North American continent.

The Bonita had 800 rooms and space enough to house between 1,200 and 1,500 persons.

Excavations of the pueblo may lead to the discovery of a prehistoric race hitherto unknown. Dr. Judd believes, traces in the form of pottery, relics, skeletons and hieroglyphic inscriptions are expected to lead to archaeological revelations of the first magnitude.

The Bonita contains evidences of the life and pursuits of the race which, scientists believe, inhabited it thousands of years ago. It covers an area of a little more than three acres. Four stories of the pueblo are standing, and Dr. Judd thinks there may have been a fifth.

Further research into the cave dwellers of southern New Mexico has established the possibility that the Carlsbad cavern, one of the largest crystal formation caves in the world, once was the meeting place for cave-men of the vicinity. Hieroglyphics, not unlike Chinese characters, were found on the smooth surfaces of the bluffs and in the caves.

THE COTTON MARKET

Opened Firm at Advance of 12 to 25 Points, and During First Hour Gained More. (By the Associated Press.)

New York, June 29.—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 12 to 25 points, and by the end of the first hour about 19 to 31 points net higher, all months making new high ground for the movement. October sold up to 24.17 and December to 24.25 on covering, trade and commission house buying, which was stimulated by bullish private crop reports, relatively firm Liverpool cables, and complaints of continued dry weather in the southwest.

Four more private end-June crop reports were issued, with conditions ranging from 72 to 75.3 per cent. and figures on the indicated yield from about 13,000,000 to 13,800,000. One of the reports did not give the indicated crop, but on the basis of condition and acreage figures was interpreted as pointing to a yield of 13,100,000 bales.

Cotton futures opened firm. July 23.98; Oct. 24.05; Dec. 24.18; Jan. 23.70; March 23.88.

Frogs Imbedded in Cement For Years Are Found Alive. (By the Associated Press.)

Okanogan, Wash., June 29.—Several green frogs, imprisoned in cemented gravel were set free when a road crew made a cut in a country road near here. They were found firmly imbedded three feet below the surface of the old highway. The frogs showed considerable animation on being released, giving no signs of the inconvenience caused by several years imprisonment.

Trevor Kincaid, professor of biology in the University of Washington, declared the existence of frogs imprisoned in cement over a period of years quite possible, though he said no scientific data has been gathered on the point.

NOTHING DEFINITE ABOUT EAST DEPOT

Aldermen of City Met Saturday Night But Decided to Wait Until Tuesday Night For Decision.

BANK OPPOSES THE PROPOSITION

This Message Carried to the Meeting Saturday Night by Mayor Barrier.—Speakers All Favored the Plan.

Saturday night's meeting of the board of aldermen was purely conversational. Nothing was done in regard to the widening of Depot Street and the only definite action forthcoming from the meeting was that it was decided to hold a final session Tuesday night, at which time all persons interested in the matter were urged by the mayor to be present.

During the course of the parley several items of interest were brought out. In the first place, there came to light the fact that a contract had been entered into between the city and bank officials in the former administration which bound the city to a limit of six feet in widening the street at this point. Secondly, it developed from remarks by the mayor, who had just previously been in conference with the bank officials, that the bank was opposed to any widening whatsoever. A third fact brought out was that in the representative sprinkling of interested persons in the audience Saturday night, there was not a voice raised in opposition to the widening, while a number made talks advocating it.

The meeting was called to order after about forty minutes wait on the mayor who had been detained, he said. He briefly gave a historical sketch of the movement relative to the matter of Depot Street and declared it would be impossible to come to any definite agreement at the meeting Saturday night. The National Bank had found it impossible to send representatives to the meeting, he stated, and since they were an interested party, he had promised "that he would do nothing drastic."

After several talks by citizens, among them G. Ed Kester and J. B. Linker, the mayor again took the floor and gave the reason for the opposition by the National Bank. It was, according to his remarks, due to the fact that the Concord Telephone switchboard, just in the rear of the bank property, was only two feet and six inches from the street line and that any moving back of the street line would necessitate that the Telephone Company change the whole arrangement of things in the interior of the exchange.

H. S. Williams declared that the aim of the board should be to represent the city looking toward the future. What was under consideration, he said, would effect Concord long after all these present were dead. He further declared that it ought not to be widened less than ten feet but that if it were less than ten feet the property of those people on West Depot Street which was taken for a ten-foot addition should be given back to them.

The building line, said F. C. Niblock, should be established ten feet from the present line. He added that he believed that the Reed heirs would sell more than five feet if they were asked.

W. M. Linker, owner of Bell and Harris Furniture store which is at the other end of the block to be widened, favored a widened street and suggested that the city get additional property from the Reed heirs without regard to the cost.

A discussion of the contract between the city and the National Bank calling for a six-foot limit was entered into. There had been an intimation that bank officials were planning to revoke this agreement.

It was learned this morning, however, that such was not the case. It was said that the bank was entirely willing to live up to their part of the contract.
