With all the confusion, misunderstanding and general lack of information on the subject of tire buying, one might think Abraham Lincoln coined his famous phrase after an experience in tire buying. The truth of what he said as applied to tires is best summed up today in this statement of fact: MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND. Of course there is a real reason.

GIBSON READY FOR STRONG
TABERNAE TEAM SATURDAY

Manager Basinger Has Galaxy of Stars
Lined Up For the Occasion After Ten Consecutive Wins.

Another thrilling game is promised Saturday to local baseball enthusiasts when the Gibson Mill team, undefeated in ten starts, meets the Tabernacle team from Charlotte for the big fourth of July celebration.

Despite the fact that the Tabernacle nine is considered unusually strong, Manager Basinger declares that he is prepared to lead his cohorts to an eleventh victory. There are few who question this statement, especially after seeing his re-vamped team in action last week.

The manner in which Basinger's proteges played at the national pastime when they took the lofty Southside Mills nine off their perch was a thing not to be forgotten soon. Persons who had before despised Sid getting a team which would equal the first team were pleasantly surprised. His new one can probably beat the old one.

Tabernacle has thus far been quite successful. Only one game has been lost. Their principal claim to fame comes from the fact that Maiden, unbeaten in eleven tries, fell before the prowess of the Charlotte stars. With them are such players as Bell, Moody and Thomas.

Gibson has a galaxy of stars ready to shine in the local firmament Saturday. Sid Basinger, always a snappy player, has gone back to third and has placed in his place at second, Young, who was so effective as a pinch hitter last week. Harrill, the brilliant first baseman, will be in action and so will Sluggers Watts, hero of last week's contest.

The Wake Forest star, Simmons, will again do the pitching for the locals and Haynes is playing shortstop. Dago Smith is in centerfield and Tip Andrews is in right field. White will be used as a pinch hitter.

SHRINERS TO STOP IN CONCORD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

A Band Concert and Exhibition Drill
Will Be Given Before Going to Meet in Winston-Salem.

The Patrol of the Oasis Temple at Charlotte will leave that city Friday afternoon en route for the celebration at Winston-Salem and will stop over in Concord for fifteen or twenty minutes to give a band concert and drill on the Y. M. C. A. lawn.

Preparations are now being made in Concord by members of Stokes Lodge, No. 32, and by local Shriners to provide for the entertainment of the visitors. The street in front of the Y. M. C. A. will be cleared and a reception will be tendered to the visitors. After the concert, refreshments will be served by the DeMolays.

The letter was as follows:
Mr. Gilbert Hendrix,
Concord, N. C.
My Dear Noble Hendrix:
Captain Brockmann of the Patrol wishes me to advise you that the Band and Patrol of Oasis Temple will leave Charlotte at 3 p. m. Friday, July 3rd, for Winston-Salem, in buses. They expect to stop on the main street—probably in front of a drug store—for ten or fifteen minutes, and if the band has time they will have a little music for any spectators, and if you know of any members of our Temple who are going to Winston-Salem in their cars have them line up and get behind the buses so we will have a caravan. We expect to stop in all places where we have members along the way. So join the caravan.

Yours in the Faith,
THOS. GRIFFITH, Recorder.

"Woman to Woman"

By the Press Agent.
Betty Compton has outdone herself in "Woman to Woman," the throbbing photodrama, which opened yesterday at the Concord Theatre. Those who have seen Miss Compton in the past remember her exquisite acting, but nothing she has ever done can compare with her delineation of Delorise in this picturization of Michael Morton's successful stage play of the same name.

As for the story itself, it is brimming with poignant appeal. The little French girl, Louise Boucher, dances her way into your heart and when she becomes the great artist, Delorise, she not only retreats but increases her grip upon your affections.

All in all, "Woman to Woman" is distinctly worth while and no one who enjoys a really good photoplay can afford to miss it.

DAILY BUDGET SYSTEM
BECOMES EFFECTIVE TODAY

The Law, in Brief, Sets Up a Control of State Finances.

Raleigh, N. C., July 1.—The executive budget law, establishing executive supervision over State expenditures; the budgetary accounting system, holding the State departments and institutions to strict accountability for all disbursements and requiring them to live within their appropriations, and the daily deposit law became effective today. These measures, advocated by Governor McLean, were enacted by the General Assembly of 1925, effective July 1, which marks the beginning of a new fiscal year. The Governor, in messages to the law making body, definitely requested legislation to pay each of these measures into effect.

The executive budget law, in brief, sets up a control of State finances. The Governor is the director of the budget and, under the law, he "shall have power to examine under oath any officer or head of any department or any institution, and any clerk or employee thereof." Further, he is empowered "to cause the attendance of heads or responsible representatives of the departments, institutions and agencies of the State to furnish information; to compel the production of papers, books, and accounts or other documents in the possession or under the control of such officer or head of department, and the director, or any authorized representative, shall have the right to examine any State institution or agency, inspect its property and inquire into its methods of operation and management."

The law provides for an assistant director of the budget to be appointed by the Governor. The chairmen of the house and senate appropriations and finance committees and two other persons, to be appointed by the Governor, shall constitute an advisory budget commission.

Further, the law provides that: "On or before the first day of September, biennially, in the even-numbered years, each of the departments, bureaus, divisions, officers, boards, commissions, institutions and other State agencies and undertakings, receiving funds under authority of any general law of the State, shall furnish the Director all the information, data and estimates which he may request with reference to the past, current and future appropriations, expenditures, receipts, revenues and income."

It is provided that the statements required under the preceding section shall be itemized in accordance with the budget classification adopted by the Director and shall be approved and certified by each of the respective departments, bureaus and agency heads. "If it is the intent and purpose of this act," says the law, "that all institutions to which appropriations for permanent improvements and maintenance are made shall submit to the Director of the Budget their requests for the payment of such appropriations in the form of a budget, following the requests made by such institution for such appropriation, to the end that the Director of the Budget may be advised as to whether or not the moneys are being used for purposes other than that for which it was appropriated."

Although this law technically became effective "from and after its ratification," it in reality, becomes operative today, with the beginning of the new fiscal year. A stringent provision of the new law reads: "Any trustee, director, manager, building committee or other officer or person connected with any institution who appropriates or who shall expend any appropriation for any purpose other than that for which the money was appropriated and budgeted, or who shall consent thereto, shall be liable to the State of North Carolina for such sum so spent and the sum so spent, together with the interest and costs, shall be recoverable in an action to be instituted by the Attorney General for the use of the State of North Carolina, which action may be instituted in the Superior Court of Wake County."

The budgetary accounting law provides that each Department shall, in effect, do its own auditing and shall keep the Governor advised as to how its appropriations are holding out. Each department head is expected to keep the appropriation of his department in mind at all times.

Under the daily deposit law, which becomes operative today, all receipts a state agency takes in, with the exception of trust and endowment funds, will be deposited daily to the credit of the State Treasurer. "Duplicates of the deposit slips," said Governor McLean, explaining the new law, "will be sent to the Treasurer and the State Auditor. The amounts of the deposits will be credited to the institutions' allotments. "Whenever the impressed fund of an institution may draw from its allotment account, now swollen by the receipts credited to it, enough to bring the impressed fund back to normal. At the end of the quarter any balance in the allotment account is credited back to the appropriation of the institution and can be used during the remaining quarters of the year."

"This system," the Governor continued, "involves very little change from the present method. The only difference for those institutions which have been on a proper basis is that instead of making daily deposits to their own credit they will be to the credit of the State Treasurer and instead of receiving from the auditor their appropriations in twelve installments they will relinquish their impressed fund as needed by drawing on their allotment accounts, which will be consistently built up by the deposits and always available on request."

TO CHARGE FOR INMATES WHO ARE ABLE TO PAY

Law Was Enacted by Last Session of the Legislature.

Raleigh, N. C., July 1.—State institutions for the insane, deaf, blind and delinquent, under legislation enacted by the 1925 session of the General Assembly, are now making a charge for those students and inmates who are able to pay. Further, the law provides that should a person enter one of these institutions an indigent and later inherit or acquire money or property he would have to pay for his support or instruction as the case might be.

The Constitution provides that "the General Assembly may provide that the indigent deaf, blind and insane of the State shall be cared for at the charge of the State." In the next section, however, is the following:

"It shall be steadily kept in mind by the Legislature and Board of Public Charities, that all penal and charitable institutions shall be made as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purpose of their creation."

Advocates of legislation making a charge mandatory in every case where the inmate or pupil is able to pay, insisted that this was in line with the provision of the constitution declaring that institutions should be as nearly self-supporting as possible.

The institutions specifically named in the 1925 legislation include the State Hospital at Raleigh, the State Hospital at Morganton, the State Hospital at Goldsboro, the State Home and Industrial School for Girls and Women, (Samarcaud) the Caswell Training School at Kinston, The Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord, the East Carolina Training School for Boys near Rocky Mount, the Morrison Training School for Delinquent Negro Boys in Richmond County, the State School for the Blind and Deaf at Raleigh, the State School for the Deaf and Dumb at Morganton and the State Sanatorium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis.

The law provides that the governing bodies shall fix, in their discretion, the cost to be imposed on each patient or student.

It is specifically provided, however, that where these institutions shall the policy of caring for the indigent free of charge to them be abandoned, although it is further provided that any person listed as an indigent who afterward acquires means of payment shall pay Suit for the recovery of such pay may be entered in the Superior Court of Wake County, the law provides.

It has been pointed out that the charters of the original institutions for the care of the insane, that is, the asylums at Raleigh and Morganton made specific provision that preference was to be given indigents and that those who were able to pay should be made to do so.

These institutions, it is said, have charged for the support and care of persons who were able to pay, from that time to the present day. It is only the institutions later created that are said not to have carried out this policy.

Governor McLean recently announced that he intended to appoint a commission, headed by Dr. Watson S. Rankin, to look into the affairs of the Caswell Training School and to determine definitely what class of patients should be admitted there.

Whether the Governor later would conduct similar investigations of other institutions was not stated.

BEST MEDICINE
EVER USED

Says HERB JUICE Has Helped All
Who Have Ever Used It.

"I am most pleased to make a statement testifying as to the unquestionable merits of HERB JUICE, for I believe in telling others when you have found or discovered something really worth while. However, as far as I can learn, there must be very few people left who have not already discovered that HERB JUICE is the best tonic-laxative on the market today and an absolute cure for stomach trouble, indigestion and constipation, according to the reports gathered from the druggists who sell HERB JUICE in such quantities. As far as I am concerned, it will always be as big a seller as it is today, for I intend to take it as long as I live and I believe others feel exactly as I do. It is a compound of nature's gifts—herbs, bark, gum, etc., so prepared as to be a really pleasant dose and one from which there are no bad after effects, the only result being a decided improvement in the condition of one's health."

Mr. W. N. Simpson, who resides at 54 Charlotte Road, Concord, N. C., make the above remarks to the HERB JUICE demonstrator quite recently. Mr. Simpson merely voices the sentiment of thousands of other people, not only in this territory, but all over North Carolina, where HERB JUICE has been introduced. Continuing, Mr. Simpson said: "I had a bad case of stomach trouble and indigestion. I would have the most suffocating gas pains around my heart, my stomach being so bloated at times that it made me look ridiculous. I would try every kind of food, trying to get something to agree with me, but I never succeeded. I really had no desire to eat, for I had lost my appetite completely. I became so nervous that I could hardly do my work. At nights I was so nervous and worn out that I could not sleep and therefore was never in condition to go to my work the next day."

See the special HERB JUICE demonstrator now at the Gibson Drug Store, who will courteously explain the effects of HERB JUICE that you may get best results from its use. More Concord people are now using HERB JUICE than any other medicine. HERB JUICE is also sold by F. I. Smith Drug Co., at Kannapolis.

The Judicial Conference.

Asheville Citizen.
The Judicial Conference, established by the last Legislature, should become an effective instrument for bringing closer together lawmakers and administrators of laws. In this conference the State judiciary, the Attorney-General and the lawyers designated by the Governor as members will meet from time to time to consider defects in the judicial machinery and propose ways and means of making the machinery run more smoothly. In this forum there must come up for study all those practical questions that arise in the minds of judges, lawyers and litigants as they strive to have order and justice prevail among men and the recommendations of the conference will unquestionably guide the legislators into sound action as they undertake to improve process of law so that it will be more worthy of its name.

The judges and the bar have not heretofore had much part in legislation dealing with the judiciary, as Chief Justice Stacy said in his address opening the first conference. The judiciary is often criticised for the shortcomings of the law for which the Legislature is responsible, although the Chief Justice did not put it as bluntly as that. The Judicial Conference, proposed by Governor McLean, if its work is taken seriously by the members, can go far in correcting this state of affairs. There has been a vast deal of talk about making the courts more worthy of public confidence. This advisory body is a practical method of doing as well as saying.
