LAST OF TOURISTS FOR EUROPE LEFT YESTERDAY

They Spend Today in New York. Go to a Show Tonight, and Sail Tomorrow for Southampton.

The last eight of the local tourists to Europe left the city Thursday afternoon on train No. 34 for New York, where they will arrive this morning to spend the day preparatory to leaving for Southampton, England, tomorrow morning on the steamship Leviathan.

The other ten had already left the city, H. W. Blanks starting the peripatetic Tuesday afternoon when he went to New York to complete the arrangements for the tour which is under his guidance.

Approximately fifty people were at the station to see the tourists off. As is customary on such leave takings, there was a great deal of the "now take care of yourself" conversation and a great deal of promising to bring all sorts of things back from Europe for the people at home.

When the train pulled in, the car on which reservations had been made for the Concord party stopped almost directly over the bridge which spans Buffalo creek.

This occasioned a hurrying and scurrying of the entire crowd to get to the car. So long did it take the eight passengers to get on the train that the conductor was a little peevish and remarked rather crossly to two of the tourists who were loitering on the outside that he was going to leave them if they didn't hurry.

Arrangements have been made for the members of Mr. Blanks' tour, a total in number of 48, to go on eight-day trips in New York today. Tonight they will attend a performance of the show "Rose Marie."

When they arrive in England they will tour the British Isles and then go to the continent for a tour of France, Italy, Holland and Belgium.

Some of the party will return to this country on the 15th of August, and the others will take additional sailings to the Scandinavian countries.

Mary McEachern, winner of the Bible story contest, is for the first time taking an extended trip. Her only previous trip has been a short one to Virginia.

The party which left yesterday on train 34 included Miss Rose Harris, Miss Addie White, Mrs. Ada Gorman, Miss Rebecca Daywalt, Miss Margaret Hartwell, Mrs. Bess McConnel, Miss Mary Belle Umberger and Leonard Umberger.

Other members of the party leaving before are Miss Helen Marsh, Miss Ruth Crowell, Mrs. P. B. Ketter, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Scovill, Martin L. Cannon, Jr., Miss Mary Propst, Miss Ruth Blackwelder, Miss Mary McEachern and H. W. Blanks.

Arrangements have been made by The Tribune to have accounts of the progress of the tour published from time to time.

Entertains at Informal Dance.

Miss Bertie Louise Wilford entertained last night at an informal dance at her home on South Union street honoring Miss Catherine Fink of Atlanta, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Womble. About fifty of the younger set was present at the affair which proved to be one of the most delightful of the entire season.

ORDER UNITED STAGE BUS LINE TO STOP SERVICE

Corporation Commission Suspends United Stage Line Pending Financial Reorganization.

Suspension of the United Stage Line bus service between Raleigh and Greensboro was ordered yesterday by R. O. Self, of the Corporation Commission, until the company can iron out its financial difficulties sufficiently to provide proper service under the new motor bus laws.

Under the orders of Mr. Self the buses ceased operating with the last one on the schedule last night and service will continue suspended until the Corporation Commission approves the company's reorganization.

Order of discontinuance was hastened by the recent seizure under a mortgage held by the White Motor Bus Company of several of the buses operated between Raleigh and Greensboro by the company.

Other equipment was hastily accumulated by the bus company and the schedule was continued but the new equipment was not of a nature to meet the approval of the bus inspectors who see that the provisions of the law are carried out and the line was ordered to suspend until financial reorganization is completed.

It is understood that G. T. Elliott, of Norfolk, is seeking the receivership of the United Stage Lines and that he is at present in Michigan at the Commerce Bus factory making arrangements for the purchase of eight or ten buses which he will put in operation between Raleigh and Greensboro if the plans go through.

He is said to be prepared to pay those whom the bus line owes.

Suspension of the bus service leaves only one bus line, the Safety Coach, operating between Raleigh and Greensboro. Buses are operated on an hourly basis.

The fire loss in the United State for 1923 amounted to $535,000,000, the largest in the history of the country.

CONTRACTORS WANT $4,800 FOR EXTRA EXCAVATION

An Adjustment to Be Made Monday When Arbitrator Stoddard Reaches Concord for Conference.

Intimations that the extra excavations at the hotel property, which will be necessary since the decision by the board of aldermen to widen Depot street five feet, will cost $4,800 were verified yesterday afternoon by G. L. Patterson, president of the hotel company.

Efforts to get in touch with J. R. Torney, southern manager of the Hunkin-Conkey Co., who has been in the city in charge of the work, failed, Mr. Torney having left the city early yesterday for the remainder of the week.

With Mr. Torney out of the city, it was impossible to ascertain the reason for the excavation costing the sum indicated. It is said, however, unofficially, that the Hunkin-Conkey Co. has in Concord a force of high priced men who are only waiting for one part of the digging to be completed before they begin laying the foundations for the structure.

It is claimed that the digging itself would not be so much but the fact that the entire operations are being held up is responsible for the necessity of charging such an enormous figure.

The matter will be thoroughly thrashed out Monday when W. L. Stoddard, the architect and the arbitrator of disputes that arise, reaches Concord to discuss the cost with the hotel company and the contractors. The hotel company is hopeful that the price may be reduced.

Much discussion has been rife as to the problem of who is to pay for the extra cost. The city disclaims any responsibility in paying for anything except the land which was purchased from the Reed heirs. The hotel company heads declare that they were told that there was no possibility of getting extra property and that they could safely go about their excavation. They are not, therefore, disposed to pay for the cost of digging out the newly acquired territory.

The whole problem is at the present at a standstill, but an adjustment between the various sides will, in all likelihood, be made when Mr. Stoddard reaches Concord.

Excavation work at the hotel continues to go on and the new property has not been touched yet.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Patterson in State.

The following from the Albemarle News-Herald will be of interest to many Cabarrus people. Dr. Patterson is a native of China Grove and has served a number of Lutheran churches in this section:

"Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Patterson, of Freemont, Neb., are guests in the home of their son, Mr. F. B. Patterson. A daughter, Miss Virginia Lee, is a guest of her cousin, Miss Margaret Ellen Patterson, while a son, Widener, is visiting A. L. Patterson, Jr. Dr. Patterson holds the chair of Bible in Midland College, Freemont, and they will spend the summer in North Carolina."
