Post and Flagg's Cotton Letter. New York, July 3.—The disposition to sell arising from the report yesterday was to some extent increased by the hope that there might be some rain in the southwest over the weekend, though that was not at all strongly suggested by the forecast. Prices fluctuated rather aimlessly with the market turning easy whenever demand from scattered shorts tapered off but steadying again after moderate dips on demand from trade interests who are credited with having taken a large amount of cotton on this break.

The selling is once more largely for short account as scattered longs either liquidated prior to the report or promptly dumped their cotton after the figures were given out. It is fair to say that many who for years have made a close study of cotton and its conditions are completely at a loss to understand how the average figures could have been arrived at. That there should have been such an immense increase since the early years of this century with all the diversification that has been preached and apparently practiced to a large extent is a statement which they find great difficulty in swallowing.

Many of these same people also hold the express opinion that it is tough and go with the crop, whether it will prove really large or will blow up completely during the summer even in sections where it looks now most promising.

Certainly a highly favorable kind of weather is essential to enable the crop to overcome the known disadvantages under which it labors. There is no disposition to support rallies, however, but on dips the buying is distinctly better than the selling, whether on rallies, or on dips.

POST AND FLAGG.

Claims Americans Are Seeking the Overthrow of Mexican Government.

Mexico City, July 3.—General Candido Aguilar, foreign secretary of Mexico during the Carranza regime and who at present is residing in Cuba, has sent to Mexico City a written statement declaring that he has been approached by "American interests in invited to participate in a new revolutionary movement to overthrow the government of President Calles and establish another government which will fully protect American lives and property." General Aguilar in the statement offers evidence in proof of his statement should the state department deny his assertions.

Bruges, Belgium, known as the Venice of the North, derives its name from the many bridges over its canals.

The average cost per man paid the British government for transporting American soldiers to Europe was $88.

GIBSON'S PITCHER SIGNS WITH NEW YORK YANKEES

Broadus Simmons Will Get a Try-Out in Big Show.—WHI Complete Collegiate Career.

In a story published this morning in the Charlotte Observer, it was announced that Broadus Simmons, one of Wake Forest's pitching aces, who is hurling for Gibson every Saturday afternoon, will probably get a trial with the New York Yankees.

It is said that Simmons has accepted the terms with the Yankees and is now awaiting a contract. He conferred recently with Paul Kritchell, one of the Yankee scouts.

Simmons was also looked over by Dick Hoblitzell, former Charlotte manager, and is said to have reported very favorably on the work of the big collegian.

The story goes on to say that Simmons is anxious to finish his college career and for that reason will not agree to go to the Yankees before next summer after his graduation from the Baptist institution.

Simmons has pitched four games for Gibson and has held his opponents to very few hits in each contest. It is probable that he will continue to pitch for the local team during the remainder of the summer.

GLORIOUS FOURTH IS NOT SO GLORIOUS THIS YEAR

No Celebration of Any Kind Planned for Concord and Day Has Been Like Other Days.

This is the "Glorious Fourth," but in Concord it is not so glorious so far as any celebration is concerned. Business is going on about as usual and the day has been like any other hot Saturday except that the business district is flying its quota of American flags.

The military company gave a little touch of the extraordinary to the day by staging a parade during the afternoon, but their actions were controlled by the war department which decreed that this shall be Mobilization Day as well as Independence Day, and a parade was ordered.

No real celebration was planned for the city for today but on Monday colored citizens will celebrate with a big picnic at the fair grounds. Various features will be offered during the day by them and the celebration will come to a close with fireworks at night.

Few July fourths have been hotter than this year. The mercury had already climbed to the 85-degree mark at 8 o'clock and it continued to climb during the morning with the result that the city swelters in the grip of unseasonable weather.

The Kannapolis "Y" Campaign Proved a Record Breaker.

Charlotte Observer.
 The Kannapolis Y. M. C. A. celebrated the opening of its imposing new building with a membership campaign that caused the enrollment to soar to a point exceeded in the South only by two cities.

The Kannapolis association has a membership of 2,424. Louisville, Ky., leads the South with a membership of 3,324 and Memphis, Tenn., is second with 2,520.

J. Wilson Smith, state secretary, thought so well of the Kannapolis supremacy in state membership that he issued a circular letter to "Y" leaders in the state, announcing the record. E. J. Sharpe is the Kannapolis secretary. The membership is composed largely of the cotton mill operatives in the town.

Concord Does Right Thing.

Salisbury Post.
 Concord is going to, when Depot street at the crossing of Main. Pity it could not be carried through to include the whole business section, for Concord has about as little to brag about in the business section as any town we ever saw. The tearing away of the old hotel to make way for a new one and a modern bank building brought up the discussion and after the usual amount of talk and trade the proposition seems to be all set. It is a wise move and it is likely that this will not be the last of effort to improve the business section of a good town, but one that is cramped into a small space with unpromising outlook.

City League Union Will Meet Monday.
 The Concord-Kannapolis Mt. Olivet City League Union will hold the regular monthly meeting at Mt. Olivet Monday evening, July 6th, at 8:30.

A picnic is planned for this meeting and each league is asked to attend and bring well filled baskets. Also, a debate and a number of interesting games are being planned, so Leaguers, don't miss this. Come one and all.

IMPORTANT MATTERS BEFORE KIWANIS CLUB

Several Children Run to Orthopedic Hospital.—Committee on Playgrounds Appointed.

Work being done for the underprivileged child, and playgrounds for the children of Concord were the chief matters taken up by the Kiwanis Club of Concord at its regular meeting on Friday at the Y. M. C. A.

Morrison King, chairman of the committee to make a survey of the county and find how many crippled children there are who need attention in order to remedy their condition, stated that he has had several of the children taken to the Orthopedic Hospital in Gastonia already, and that there are several more who should go real soon. Some of these, he stated, will need braces, crutches and the like, and these will cost money. The Kiwanians instructed Chairman King to go ahead with this work.

The matter of playgrounds for the children of the city was again brought before the club. Upon motion, Will Foll was reappointed chairman of the playgrounds committee, and with him on the committee were named Morrison King and Tracy Spencer. The committee has the assurance of the support of the other civic organizations in Concord, and a probability also that the city itself will lend assistance in the establishment of the playgrounds.

The program for the meeting was in charge of Bill Burns. He introduced Miss Dorothy Norman, talented young musician of Concord, who rendered a piano solo which was very much enjoyed by her hearers. Bill then called on President Brevard Harris to give an account of the Kiwanis International Convention in St. Paul, Minn., from which place the President had returned on Wednesday night. Brevard gave an interesting and enthusiastic report of his trip, and of some of the major things done by the great international body in session at its annual convention. He declared that it was the biggest thing of its kind in the world, and urged all Kiwanians who have an opportunity to be sure to attend one of its sessions. The meeting for next summer will be held in Montreal, Canada.

The meeting next Friday will be in charge of Howard Collier.

MILITARY COMPANY IS OFF FOR CAMP GLENN

Members of Company Spent Morning Loading Train and Getting Ready for Departure in the Afternoon.

Despite the torrid weather this has been an active day for members of Company E, Concord's military unit, for they entrain during the afternoon for Camp Glenn where, for two weeks, they will be fed, housed and clothed by the state of North Carolina as they train in annual encampment.

The work of loading the company equipment on the special cars was begun early this morning and most of the stuff had been loaded by noon. Engine trucks were used for the work and details from the personnel of the company did the actual loading. The baggage cars with the equipment will be picked up at the same time the day coaches containing the men, are picked up by an afternoon train.

The company members observed Mobilization Day before entraining. A recruiting officer from the company was stationed on the court house lawn during the day to receive enlistments from one-day recruits, and shortly after the noon hour a parade was staged by the company.

The company will be at Camp Glenn two weeks and will take up various phases of modern training while there. All of the mornings will be given over to drill work with schools in the early afternoons and recreation periods in the late afternoons.

The company expects to reach its destination early tomorrow so camp can be pitched during the day.

Concert by Children of Orphans' Home.

The concert class from the Children's Home at Goldsboro, will appear in Concord in the High School auditorium on next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. This is the occasion of its annual visit to the city, and as on former occasions a splendid program has been prepared which will delight the large numbers of people who attend these entertainments. The proceeds from the concert go to the support of the Home, which has in connection with the industrial feature a splendid graded school, with a High School which is accredited in the A class with the State educational department. The home gets its financial support from the Old Fellows of the State, and from the concertists. There are at present about 150 children there, and the plant is one of the best in the State, being located in the heart of the city of Goldsboro, with every advantage that is necessary for the successful work of the institution. The class will appear here under the auspices of Cold Water Lodge of Old Fellows. The public is asked to give its support to the class on this occasion.

At the Theatres.
 Tom Mix in "The Foreman of Bar Z," and a comedy are again being shown today at the Pastime.

A Bayart chapter play, "Battling Brewster," starring Helen Holmes and Franklin Farium will begin today at the Concord Theatre. A comedy will also be shown.

"Back Home" in "Gold and the Girl," and a comedy are being shown today at the Star.
