Doctor Rankin.

Charlotte Observer.
Formal severance by Dr. W. S. Rankin of his connection with the State Health Department is occasion for a few words of earnest appreciation on part of both the State Board of Health and the State Medical Society. Doctor Rankin had been secretary of the State Board for sixteen years, in which position he functioned as State health officer. The joint expression of appreciation makes declaration that Doctor Rankin's "enthusiasm, lofty conception of duty and far-sighted statesmanship have aroused our people, giving them a larger and finer vision of the importance of improving health conditions and the value of increasing human efficiency." In detail of his accomplishments, it is set forth that in spite of the fact that Doctor Rankin's public health policies have been largely of a pioneer type, he has made but few mistakes, which have been mistakes of good intention, and his achievements have been so outstanding as to completely overshadow his errors and to attract the attention of scientists throughout the world, bringing to him, and through him to the State, the honor of holding such positions as president of the American Public Health Association, president of the Conference of State and Provincial Health Officers of North America, and field director of the Committee on Municipal Health Department Practice of the American Public Health Association.

Although during the time he has held this office, it is further stated, his manifold duties have greatly increased, his comprehensive and workable scheme of health activities, including such marked and outstanding features as public health education through pamphlets, bulletins and newspapers, sanitary oversight of hotels and restaurants, the development of a practical scheme of rural sanitation; the physical examination of school children, and many other agencies and plans for the betterment of the health of our people, have been so feasible as to create and develop a practical organization of such value as to give assurance of greater results in the future and of the continued gradual lowering of the death rate of the State—which rate is already one of the lowest in the Union, therefore—
Well, they gave him a gold watch, expressed their deep regret at losing his services, and did not forget to congratulate Duke University in acquiring his personality and his talents.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULED FOR CATAWBA COLLEGE

Annual Missionary Conference Will Be Held There This Month.

The Reformed Church people of North Carolina will hold their annual Missionary Conference in the new Catawba College buildings, Salisbury, July 18-24. This is the eighth annual Conference, and is the first to be held in Salisbury. It is the first gathering in the new College buildings. Several hundred of the leaders and the young people will spend the week, preparing themselves for a better leadership of the church.
Prominent among those who will attend are Missionaries Rev. and Mrs. Frank L. Fesperman, for six years located in Japan; Rev. and Mrs. Sterling W. Whitener, for six years located in Hunan Province, China. These were the first young people of the Reformed Church in North Carolina to go out as Missionaries to China and Japan. This is their first furlough. Mr. and Mrs. Whitener are at home in Catawba County, and Mr. and Mrs. Fesperman will be in North Carolina next week. Their many friends will meet them for the first time at the Conference.
The twenty-five active pastors within the Classis of North Carolina will attend—many of them for the full time. Their churches will be closed for the preaching services Conference Sunday, July 19th, while they and their people attend the services in Salisbury. The speakers on Conference Sunday are Drs. H. N. Kerst, of Canton, Ohio, J. C. Leonard, of Lexington, N. C., and F. William Leich, of Dayton, Ohio, and Missionary Whitener, of China. The conference committee is expecting an attendance of more than a thousand people. The spacious auditorium of Catawba College will seat more than 800.
The courses in Mission Study are inter-denominational. The text books are published by the Missionary Education movement, together with the Council for Home and Foreign Missions. The leaders have had special training at special training schools.

DAVID GASTER

Grand Master, I. O. O. F., Fayetteville, N. C.

The meeting of the Tenth District of Odd Fellows will be held in Concord this afternoon and evening, beginning at 3 o'clock. The meeting at this time will be presided over by Grand Master David Gaster, of Fayetteville, at which time only business pertaining to the order will be discussed. After the business meeting a supper will be served the delegates and those present in the lodge room.
At eight o'clock tonight an open meeting will be held in the court house, to which the public is invited. This meeting will be presided over by Fred Helms, of Charlotte, district supervisor. The address of welcome will be delivered by M. L. Ross, N. G., of Cold Water Lodge, the response to be made by a member of the Kannapolis lodge. The principal speech at the time will be made by the Grand Master, David Gaster.
The district is comprised of the counties of Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Gaston and Lincoln, and about 200 delegates are expected.
A quartette composed of negro singers will sing a number of negro melodies and spirituals at the night meeting.
Accompanying Mr. Gaster on his visit to Concord is John D. Berry, Grand Secretary of the I. O. O. F.

ODD FELLOWS OF TENTH DISTRICT MEET HERE TODAY

Two Hundred Delegates From Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Gaston and Lincoln Counties Expected.

KIWANIS MEETING

Dr. W. H. Frazier, President of Queens College, Heard at Meeting.

A talk by Dr. W. H. Frazier, president of Queens College, a musical program, and reports of committees featured the meeting Friday of the Kiwanis Club of Concord.
Morris King, chairman of the committee, reported that his committee is still working actively to give the necessary attention to the crippled children of Cabarrus county. He reported the donation by a citizen of Concord, of a special brace to be worn by a child with hip trouble, and stated that this donation represents a fifty dollar investment. The intention of the committee, he stated, is to let the Orthopaedic Hospital have the use of this brace on such cases as they have which will need it, and in exchange they are to furnish other kinds of braces to children from this county.
The musical part of the program consisted of several violin selections by Master Eugene Kidd, the piano accompaniments being rendered by his mother, Mrs. Paris Kidd. The Kiwanians listened with much appreciation to these selections.
Dr. Frazier was introduced to the club by Luther Hartwell, Jr., and made a most helpful Kiwanis talk. His message to the local Kiwanians was that they take inventory of their accomplishments, and see whether the organization is living up to the slogan which it has adopted, "We Build." This building should be of several kinds—the building of better economic and business conditions, the building of better educational conditions, the building of better men and women out of the boys and girls. The existence of anything which will injure or retard a community in its growth or improvement is a challenge to the Kiwanis and other civic clubs, which are supposed to be the leaders in combatting such things or forces.
The attendance prize, given by Howard Collie, was drawn by James P. Cook. The program next Friday will be in charge of James P. Cook.

Trustees of Library Meet

Trustees of the Concord Library met Friday afternoon to discuss several matters presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Reed, librarian, and L. T. Hartwell, chairman of the board.
Matters pertaining to the present library building were discussed but no definite action was taken.
It was decided by the board to increase the pay of Miss Gladys Swink, assistant librarian, the increase to be effective so long as sufficient funds were available to meet it.
Mrs. Reed submitted to the board her report for the year's work, the report being accepted. The report, which will be published in full later, shows a very active year for the library.
