Yadkin Bridge Advertised.

Lexington Dispatch:

The current issue of The Saturday Evening Post gives the Yadkin Riverbridge between Davidson and Rowan counties a fine bit of advertising. Among ten pictures of roads and bridges in the United States used to illustrate an article on road building, the Yadkin bridge is the only one that is definitely located. The others merely are titled according to types, with the states not even mentioned in several. Unless we are mistaken several of these illustrations of types are taken from North Carolina.

The Dispatch feels a somewhat personal pride in the picture in The Post. A local photographer made a coupleviews from on top the bleachery building on the Rowan side. The Dispatch chose one of these and made the first cut of the completed bridge, with the Pan-American road delegates on the structure, that was published in North Carolina. This cut was unusual in that it showed a train crossing the Southern Railway bridge nearby. The cut in The Post evidently is made from the other of the two pictures referred to, the only difference being that in this one the train is not shown.

Millions each week read the Saturday Evening Post and throughout the country people contemplating automobile tours will look up their road maps and locate the bridge between Davidson and Rowan counties, and will be inclined to want to ride over it. It is a piece of advertising that won't hurt us a bit, to say the least.

The article, by the way, also gives North Carolina perhaps the strongest boost of any state mentitoned for its progress in building good roads.

England has had women stockbrokers for some years, but in Ireland the feminist advance has not been quite so rapid. Consequently, the announcement, that Miss Conah Keogh, the 22-year-old daughter of a Dublin stockbroker, has been admitted on 'Change has caused something of a sensation in the Irish capital.

Next Month's Salary-Whom Does It Belong To?

The man and wife who pay cash and shop where they can save most will tell you that next month's salary will be set aside to accomplish several things in their Thrift Plan.

Most of them have a Budget similar to this one.

The man and wife who buy on charge accounts will tell you that next month's salary (providing there is no sickness to face), belongs to "the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker," because the privilege of charge accounts tempts people to buy beyond their means. And charge accounts mean higher prices.

There is only one argument for "Charge Accounts" and that argument favors the SELLER, not the BUYER! It's this: People buy more when they can "Charge It" than they do when they Pay Cash As They Go!

Why We Say "Buy Goodyears Now"

Goodyear quality is at the peak-never so high as it is today!

Goodyear prices are low—in many cases, way down below the prices asked for ordinary tires. We think this is every tire-buyer's opportunity. So we say "Buy Goodyears now!"

Railroad profits are limited by law, and rates are fixed by the Government. In no other large business is so great an amount of capital risked for so small a return as in railroad transportation.*

The new money put into a railroad, therefore, must be profitably employed, either in increasing capacity for service or in effecting economies of operation.

The Southern, never yet able to control all the new capital its management would be pleased to invest, necessarily has to give preference to productive improvements, such as yards, shops, engines, cars and tracks.

But it is because it has devoted its resources to necessities—rather than non-productive improvements like monumental passenger stations—that the Southern has been able to keep its service abreast of the demands of the territory it serves.
