BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
 Bible Thoughts furnished will prove a precious heritage in after years.
 GIVE GOD THE BEST:—Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase.—Proverbs 3:9.

AIR MAIL SERVICE.
 Air mail service is now an established thing. It has only been a short time, to be sure, since the experiments with the airplane as mail carriers were made, but the tests have proved the idea a feasible one and the service is to be retained. In fact, the air mail routes which were first established proved so satisfactory that announcement is made of the establishment of eight new routes.
 The eight new routes will be used in part for night flying. The first night route was operated recently and it has proved feasible, the plan opening up a service that extends from one side of the country to the other.
 On the eight new routes to be established, according to a report from Washington, the mail is to be carried at an average speed of 90 miles an hour. This means that the airmen at times will have to make 100 miles an hour, establishing a new speed record for the transportation of mail.
 One of the new routes, say Washington dispatches, comes into the southeast, connecting Birmingham and Chicago. Under the schedule of this route mail leaving Birmingham a few minutes before midnight will reach Chicago about 7 o'clock in the morning. "This means," says the dispatch, "that Birmingham business men can mail letters at the close of their business each day, with the assurance that they will be delivered in Chicago in time for the opening of business the following morning." Of course the service will be of great benefit to the entire section around Birmingham, for mail reaching that city late in the afternoon and early night can be rushed to Chicago on the night planes.
 The most important business centers were first bridged by the air mail service, but it seems reasonable to presume that in the near future the service will be extended to all sections of the country. There seems to be no doubt that a service will be inaugurated very soon connecting New York and New England points with the South Atlantic States and even Florida.

ANOTHER "CLEAN UP WEEK."
 Plans have been outlined for another "Clean Up Week" in Concord. Such an event is to be welcomed, especially in view of the fact that it comes at an unusual time. Heretofore Concord has observed "Clean Up Week" during some Spring month and nothing else has been done until another Spring rolls around. However, the present city officials deem it wise to conduct such a campaign at this time of the year and they are offering an opportunity for every household in Concord to get its premises cleaned up.
 The opportunity should be seized with zest, and it no doubt will be. Thousands of persons in this city never clean up their yards until the city comes along with a free proposition, and then they respond almost unanimously.
 It is to be hoped that in the very near future a plan can be devised by which weekly "Clean Up Weeks" can be observed in Concord. This city should have a system by which garbage and trash can be collected on every street at least once each week. The fact that the city officials are going to conduct the campaign now, in view of the fact that a smaller one was conducted only a few weeks ago, is an encouraging sign. It indicates that perhaps before long the campaigns will come close enough together to constitute a regular schedule.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE BALANCE.
 The favorable trade balance of the United States for the twelve months ending June 30 was $1,042,681,497; imports totaled $3,824,972,848, and exports $4,867,654,344.
 Foreign trade for the year shows a heavy increase over 1924 and 1923.
 "The most permanently significant change in our export movement," said Secretary Hoover, in a review of business conditions for the last calendar year, "was an increase of 7 1/2 per cent, in manufactured goods as compared with the previous year."
 "Our merchandise exports exceeded our imports by $980,000,000. The current items of 'invisible imports'—that is, tourist expenditure, immigrant remittances, payments for shipping, etc., totaling about $1,180,000,000 in 1924, however, considerably exceeded the current 'invisible exports' (chiefly interest on foreign loans, etc., and receipts of our merchant marine), amounting to about $790,000,000."
 "Nevertheless a large fraction of the heavy merchandise balance in our favor was taken care of by our loans to foreign countries of nearly one billion dollars. We imported on balance about $258,000,000 of gold and there was some cross-current of European capital toward the United States in the flight from the unstable currencies of certain countries."

 Family Convicted of Manslaughter.
 Newton, July 16.—After deliberating for an hour a jury in Catawba Superior court returned a verdict of manslaughter today against the whole Spencer family, Tom Spencer, his wife, Myrtle, their children, Dallas and Bala Spencer, charged with the murder of Ray Hedrick, on the morning of June 7. The case went to the jury at 11:30 o'clock, the verdict being given to the judge at 12:30. Sentence has not been passed.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN F. AND N. EXTENSION
 Has Stirred Piedmont Section As No Other Project In Decade, Says Morrison.
 Charlotte, July 15.—With the machinery definitely established in several towns in the movement intended to persuade J. B. Duke to build an extension of the Piedmont and Northern electric railway from Charlotte to Winston-Salem, via Lexington, former Governor Cameron Morrison, who is the active leader in this effort, declared here today that the proposal, first announced here Saturday, has stirred western North Carolina as no development project has in a decade.
 Charlotte, Concord and Salisbury business men, at mass meetings, already have taken action intended to give strength to the new movement, which, if successful, would entail an expenditure of about $15,000,000 by Mr. Duke. The Lions Club of Charlotte was the first civic organization to name a committee from its membership to co-operate with the central Charlotte committee named Saturday.

Former Governor Morrison expressed the opinion that the definite proposal would be presented to Mr. Duke within ten days. Mr. Morrison declared the present plan is for the committees from the various organized bodies of the towns along the route will be formed into one committee, having a membership of about 200. This committee will seek a conference with Mr. Duke soon after his return here, which is expected to be early next week. At that time, he will be formally asked to consider taking early action looking to the carrying out of his dream of many years relative to further development of this electric line.
 Vigorous denial was made by Mr. Morrison that Mr. Duke has determined to construct this extension of his railway. "I know what I am talking about and I know he has decided no such of a thing. I think he is very friendly to the proposition, and would like to build it, but I know he has no notion of doing it now, unless he can be persuaded that the people of the communities, through which the proposed road will pass, will pledge to him their favorable sentiment, co-operation and a fair amount of their patronage." Mr. Morrison added that Mr. Duke, he knew, would not entertain a proposal to sell stock in such a project.

THE WATER SITUATION ACUTE IN ASHEVILLE
 Stringent Regulations For Conserving Supply Again Placed In Effect.
 Asheville, July 15.—With the water shortage situation in Asheville more serious than ever stringent regulations for conserving the supply were placed in effect again today. Washing of automobiles, sprinkling of lawns, and use of water for shower baths in barber shops and other places, have been placed under the ban. Unless some relief is experienced before the end of the week, F. L. Conder, commissioner of public works, said today, it will be necessary to limit the water supply to suburbs. The first move in this direction will be to cut the water off from suburbs during certain hours of the day.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER IN RUNNING OVER A BOY
 Newton, July 16.—Wofford Hilton was found guilty of manslaughter late Tuesday afternoon. Sentence has not yet been passed by Judge Shaw. The case was begun Monday morning. There were a large number of witnesses on each side. The case hinged on the question as to whether the defendant was complying with the automobile speed law and the highway warning requiring him to drive slowly in passing a school, and whether he did so in his power to avoid running over the little boy who was killed by his car at Blackburn school on the morning of February 18th. There was direct conflict between witnesses for the state and the witness for the defendant on these points. The judge eliminated all other verdicts except manslaughter and not guilty. The jury reached an agreement on manslaughter after a short deliberation.

 Before 1847 the Cape of Good Hope was called the "Cape of All Storms," there being a storm there almost every day, no sailing ship ever having been able to pass it before the time of Diaz.

DINNER STORIES
 Quite Likely.
 "And now will your niece sing for us?" asked the visitor.
 "I guess so," replied the nominal head of the house. "I told her before you came not to do so."
 One Advantage.
 Mrs. Smith: "Ain't girls' clothes awful, Mrs. Jones?"
 Mrs. Jones: "They is that, but there's one good thing about 'em. When Myrtle gets through with hers they'll do more often than not, for either little Jimmie or little James."
 The Other Side.
 "You are lucky to have such a handsome daughter," remarked the caller.
 "Maybe sighed the tired mother, 'but I am not quite as lucky as my handsome daughter is in having a mother who doesn't shy at a cook stove, dishpan, scrubbing brush and work basket.'"

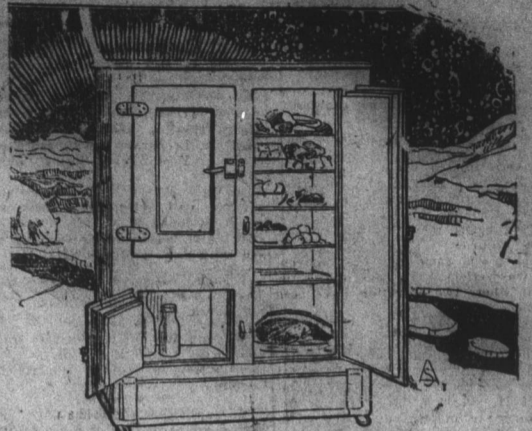

The Sunday school girls of a certain church put flowers in front of the pulpit each Sunday. One was asked by an elderly person what they did with the flowers after the service.
 "Oh, we take them to people who are sick after the sermon," was the innocent reply.
 "Why, no, this is roast beef!" exclaimed little Willie at dinner one evening when a guest of honor was present.
 "Of course," said his father. "What of that?"
 "Why, you told ma this morning that you were going to bring an old mutton head home for dinner this evening."

Spurring Him On.
 "Why do you refuse him if you want to marry him?"
 "Because he has only proposed 11 times so far, and I want him to beat the record."
 Bobby—Grandma, can you break out with your teeth?
 Grandma—Why no, Bobby?
 Bobby—Then keep these for me while I go out to play.

The word "thoroughbred," often confused with pure bred, is a term properly applied only to a breed of light horses that were introduced into America in 1730.
