

Darrow Cited by Judge For Contempt of Court

Chicago Lawyer Must Appear In Court Tomorrow Before Judge Raulston Who Presided at Scopes Trial.

REMARKS FRIDAY GROUND FOR CASE Darrow Required to Furnish Bond In the Sum of $5,000. Scopes Trial is Continued During the Morning.

Dayton, July 20.—Judge John T. Raulston today cited Clarence Darrow, defense attorney in the Scopes evolution trial, for contempt of court, and directed that the Chicago attorney appear tomorrow morning to show why contempt proceedings should not be instituted.

The judge named as ground for citation remarks of Mr. Darrow to the court Friday when the court excluded the testimony of scientific experts from the jury. The Chicago lawyer was directed to make $5,000 bond for his appearance tomorrow.

On last Friday the judge said "contempt was committed in his court." He quoted from the record Mr. Darrow's exchange with the court on the discussion after Judge Raulston excluded expert testimony.

"Until passion had had time to subside, the court has withheld any action," the judge read, "I feel it is now time to speak."

"Men may become prominent but they should never feel themselves superior to the law."

"He who would hurl contempt at my court insults and outrages one of the greatest commonwealths of this country. I feel that further forbearance would cease to be a virtue."

The court received a guarantee of Mr. Darrow's surety and the trial proceeded by efforts of the defense to introduce documentary evidence in the absence of the jury.

In announcing the contempt citation, Judge Raulston read from the record of Friday's proceedings. Mr. Darrow frequently smiled and chuckled as the court read.

Reads Statement. Dayton, Tenn., July 20.—As soon as the Scopes evolution trial opened this morning Judge John Raulston began reading a statement in which he stated that one of the responsibilities of a judge is to avoid exciting passion or prejudice among any persons, particularly among the jurors.

CARRYING CHILDREN TO SCHOOL IN MOTOR CARS

North Carolina Ranks Second Among the States of the Union in This Matter. (By The Associated Press)

Raleigh, N. C., July 20.—Public transportation of school children has been the subject of an exhaustive study made by W. H. Pittman, of the State Department of Public Instruction, who has made public his findings. Such transportation, reports Mr. Pittman, was first undertaken at the Craven County Farm Life School at Yauceboro, in 1912-13.

The next year Edgecombe county began the transportation at the Leggett Consolidated School, using three horse drawn vehicles. Mr. Pittman gives figures to show the enormous increase in the public transportation of school children during the past few years.

"The first motor truck for transportation of school children was purchased by Pamlico county, in August, 1917. The same year Edgecombe county purchased a truck. There is some disagreement between the superintendents as to which truck was first used in hauling children to school. At any rate, both counties used motor trucks that year for the first time, and these were the first two counties in North Carolina using automotive transportation."

"The state supervisor of elementary schools reported six vehicles in 1914-15, which transported 150 children," Mr. Pittman said. "In 1920, five years later, there were 150 vehicles transporting 144 children. There was an increase of 144 vehicles in five years and an increase of 7,680 in the number of children transported."

"No figures are available as to the number of vehicles used, nor as to the number of children transported in 1920-21," continued Mr. Pittman. "In 1922 there were 628 vehicles used daily to transport 20,358 school children. This shows an increase in two years of 378 vehicles and represents 252 per cent, and the increase in the number of children hauled represents 157 per cent."

In 1923-24, 93 of the 109 counties in the State were transporting children to the public schools. These 93 counties used 1,818 conveyances, mostly motor trucks, and transported 48,251 children to and from school. There were 460, or 54 per cent, more conveyances used in 1923-24 than in 1922. Also, there were more children transported by 10,707, or 53 per cent, in 1923-24, 330,803.41 as against 351,444.22 was spent for new conveyances. This was an increase of more than 65 per cent, in one year."

Mr. Pittman then went into a discussion of comparative figures affecting counties. "Wilson county ranked first as to the number of trucks used in 1923-24," he said. "This county reported 68 motor trucks that year. Granville was second, with 66 trucks; Johnston was third, with 44 trucks and two other cars; Edgecombe was fourth with 42 trucks, and Guilford was fifth with 31 trucks and five touring cars."

"Each of 34 counties operated 15 or more trucks in 1923-24, and 41 other counties which employed transportation had less than 10 trucks each."

Wants to See Some of the World

REPUBLICANS FEAR THEY WILL LOSE SOME STATES

At Least Ten States Where Democrats May Win—Harding Men May Pass. Washington, July 18.—The fear among Republicans that they may lose control of the Senate in the election next year, is reported to be more acute now than ever.

Some political observers here see in such reports a "warning" to have the party get very busy in its efforts to retain control of the next Senate. Indeed, the Republicans have control of only the organization of the present Senate; they cannot control its legislative action.

But the great danger next year to Republicans is that they may lose control of the organization. There are at least ten states in which seats held now by Republicans may be captured by Democrats. And there are five other states in which seats held now by staunch administration Republicans may be won by insurgents.

Indiana, where Senator James E. Watson, the assistant Republican floor leader of the Senate, is a candidate for re-election, is now classed as a doubtful state, because Watson is opposed by the Beveridge and New factions. Beveridge is expected to be a candidate against Watson in the primary and it is predicted the contest will be so bitter as to badly divide the party.

In Wisconsin the La Follette followers are reported to be determined to defeat Senator Lenroot who is a dependable administration senator. Utah, one of the two states that cast its electoral vote for Taft in 1912, is reported to be turning Democratic. It elected a Democratic governor last fall and it is now believed a Democrat stands a good chance in defeating Senator Smoot for re-election.

If Governor Al Smith decides to make the race in New York for the Senate against Senator J. W. Wadsworth, Smith's election is regarded as reasonably certain. Both are wet, but the dries in New York are saying that they would prefer a wet Democrat to a wet Republican.

THE COTTON MARKET

Prices Affected by Private Condition Reports, October Declining to 23.89 From 24.12. (By The Associated Press)

New York, July 20.—Following the lead of Liverpool, the local cotton market opened firm at 8 1/4 to 14 points higher today, with an early demand from shorts, Liverpool, New Orleans and commission houses. Sentiment for a time appeared to be quite bullish over the absence of any Sunday rain in the south-west together with a number of unfavorably increased on the suggestion of local weather map readers that barometer lines indicated possibly showers in Texas.

Prices reacted from their early high points, October declining from 24.12 to 23.89 and January from 23.65 to 23.43. Several private condition reports were issued, with conditions ranging from 74 per cent to 75.3 per cent, and indicated yields around 14,300,000 bales. The average of the private reports thus far issued indicated a crop of approximately 14,130,000 bales.

Cotton futures opened firm: July 23.80; October 24.07; December 24.18; January 23.57; March 23.93; May 14.14. PLANS PROGRAM. President Getting Ready for the Next Session of Congress. (By The Associated Press)

Swampscott, Mass., July 20.—With half of Congress' recess gone, President Coolidge today began formulation of the administration's program for the December session. The visit to the summer White House of Senator Curtis, the republican leader, afforded the Executive an opportunity of going over the legislative situation with one who will be called upon to carry into effect proposals of importance. Conferences with other leaders during the summer are planned by the President, the conference with Senator Curtis constituting the first of a series that is expected to give definite shape to the administration stand on a number of issues.

Weylins in Wayne County. (By The Associated Press) Goldsboro, July 20.—In visiting farms to determine the percentage of boll weevil infestation, County Agent A. K. Robertson, of Wayne county, reported that weevil punctured squares had been found in crops on all but two farms visited during the past week. In some cases, he stated, the infestation had reached alarming proportions. On the farm of Larry Parker, of the Mount Olive section, he said, 23 lives weevils were picked from about two and one-half acres and the next morning more than two dozen more weevils were found on the same acreage. A number of farmers are beginning to use poison dust, it was stated.

SAYS HIS ADMINISTRATION WAS TREATED UNFAIRLY

Thinks McLean "In Fairness" Should Clear Up Issue—Facts Should Be Known. Charlotte, July 18.—Former Governor Cameron Morrison today gave out a statement in reply to the "accumulated balance debit" report of the state and says "the program of Governor McLean's administration looking to shifting the state from a revenue and accrual basis of legislation as well as accounting to the cash system as of the 30th of June has been retroactively throwing the so-called Morrison administration upon a cash basis of legislation and accounting instead of the revenue or accrual basis upon which it legislated."

Governor Morrison would like for it to be distinctively understood that the "accumulated balance debit" does not say and he contends does not mean that the Morrison administration went in the hole over nine million dollars. He does say, however, that the report of the McLean administration has left this impression and tells Governor McLean that in fairness to the Morrison administration he ought to clear up the point. Referring to the "cash system" Governor Morrison says that during his administration "there was no way to shift to the 'cash system' without borrowing money for a capital fund upon which to do very thing. It may be wise to do it, but it ought to be openly done and the people given the facts."

Mr. Morrison calls upon "that grand army of progressives who helped write the 'program of progress' into law in this state to help me resist this cruel wrong and injustice. The foul blot shall not be written upon the banner of the progressives of this state. We did not spend nine and one-half millions of dollars that we levied revenue to pay, or any substantial sum as state finances go." Mr. Morrison in the course of his statement inferentially informs Governor McLean that he made him and tells the progressives that "we must fight if we continue to win."

BORGLUM READY TO CREATE MEMORIAL IN NORTH CAROLINA

Deposed Sculptor of Confederate Memorial in Georgia Says He Will Carry Out Work in State.

SEVERAL SITES OFFERED HIM

Has Not Selected Site, But Says He Is Impressed With the Rock On the Face of Chimney Rock. (By The Associated Press) Charlotte, July 20.—Gutzon Borglum, deposed sculptor of the Confederate Memorial at Stone Mountain near Atlanta, Ga., declared here today that his "original conception of a massive memorial on the face of a rock mountain expressive of the true spirit of the Confederacy," will be carried out in North Carolina. The sculptor said he had been assured of ample financial backing to carry his project to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Borglum said the location of the proposed memorial in North Carolina has not been selected. "Several locations have been suggested, one or two have been recommended, and I am seriously considering the great expanse of rock on the face of Chimney Rock Mountain," the sculptor explained.

GIRLS TOLD OF NATURE'S WAYS TO GIVE RED CHEEKS

"Nature's Vanity Case," the Title of an Ingenious Pamphlet. Manchester, Eng., July 20.—"Nature's Vanity Case" is the title of an ingenious and entertaining beauty pamphlet issued by the British National Milk Publicity Council recently to enlist the interest of people in wholesome food. The little booklets are sent particularly to girls' clubs and to factories throughout the country where young women and boys are employed. Lectures from the council visit the clubs and recreation centers of the factories from time to time, to emphasize the importance of good health.

The lecturer takes as her model those indefatigable saleswomen placed in large shops to interest the passer-by in some special article. Assembled upon a table in front of her are her "beauty products," or samples of nature's vanity box. "No dressing table is complete without rouge these days," says the lecturer, "but the best kind consists of creamed carrots, which we call nature's own paint or complexion brush. Eat them cooked or raw. No matter how tender or delicate your skin, you can use yellow carrots cooked in milk twice a week. By mixing these two colors within the body, a promising color will appear upon the cheeks of almost any person whose health is anyway near normal."

Continuing on the question of the complexion the lecturer goes on to say: "If people are pale and sallow, try our highly recommended skin softener, an apple hanging from the bough of the fruit tree. It is delivered in an air tight package, but be sure and always eat the package itself, the apple skin. "One most important product of all is cows' vanishing cream. Kings, queens, princesses, actresses, film stars and mothers all recommend it. It gives you good bones, white teeth and sparkling smiles. There is enough produced in England for every one to have four or five glasses each day, or even more if, he desires it."

"Here is our complexion powder extracted from wholesome cereals—porridge, rice and barley; equally well suited to blond or brunette. The best powder puffs are fluffy potatoes baked in their skins, but always be sure and eat the skin too. Eye sparklers, made from the phosphorus in creamed onions, are excellent. "We have also vanity cases in several shades of green, made from leafy vegetables. The spinach case is perhaps the most popular among business women. And always remember that the beauty secrets of the bonniest English girls are yours, for the eating!"

A new company has been organized under the name of Link-Pickens Publishing Company, with a number of local citizens as stockholders. The name of the new daily has not yet been announced, and no definite statement has yet been made as to whether it will be an afternoon or a morning paper, according to James A. Hartness, who is one of the local stockholders. The company has been incorporated with $40,000 paid in, with privilege of increasing the capital to $100,000. Messrs. Pickens and Link own a majority of the stock.

READY FOR PEACE IF KRIM REFUSES PEACE TERMS OFFERED HIM

French Are Getting Ready For Great Offensive in Morocco If Terms to Riflan Leader Are Declined.

KRIM KNOWS THE NATURE OF TERMS

And France Is Ready For Any Answer He Might Make, Premier Painleve Tells Cabinet of France. (By The Associated Press) Paris, July 20.—France will start a great military offensive in Morocco against Abdel Krim, Premier Painleve said today, if the Riflan leader refuses the peace terms offered him. The Premier told today's cabinet meeting that Abdel Krim now knows the terms upon which he can have peace with France and Spain in Morocco and the Riflan leader can open negotiations if he desires.

The French front is now so strengthened, the Premier said, that there is no longer justification for any uneasiness. The first section of a new division of reinforcements have reached Morocco and will be moved to the Taza district, where Abdel Krim's recent attacks had been practically menacing. Further evidence of the French government's expectations of important large scale operations in Morocco was given when Premier Painleve told the cabinet that Marshal Pétain, who recently flew to Morocco, would remain there "as long as necessary."

He added that the Marshal had been "welcomed with joy everywhere." VAN SWERINGEN INQUIRY BEING CONDUCTED TODAY. Personal Affairs of O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen Being Investigated. (By The Associated Press)

Washington, July 20.—All attempts to limit the inquiry into the personal affairs of O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, were abandoned today when the Interstate Commerce Commission resumed consideration of the Nickel Plate Railroad consolidation plan. O. P. Van Sweringen, who was on the stand when hearings were adjourned recently, returned to the witness stand, and H. W. Anderson, counsel for the C. & O. minority stockholders who contest the consolidation project followed with cross examination which went back to 1915 in its consideration of Mr. Van Sweringen's realty and suburban and railroad interests at Cleveland.

Newton D. Baker, counsel for the Van Sweringens interests, strenuously had objected to the questioning of his clients as to the business projects in which they were engaged previous to their railroad connections, but he gave notice today that the objections had been withdrawn. Farmers Organize Power Line Companies. (By The Associated Press)

Charlotte, July 20.—During the past year farmers of four communities of Mecklenburg county have organized companies to build power lines. "It is becoming very common to see water being pumped, churns, cream separators and milking machines being operated by electricity and the houses lighted by electricity," said County Agent Hope Ellis. "We hope within a few years to see power lines to all communities in Mecklenburg county furnishing power to the farmers." An increased flow of milk from cows grazing on barley on the Selwyn farm is also reported by County Agent Ellis. Last fall, he said, three acres of well prepared land were sown to barley and three acres of rye. Fifty cows grazed these fields alternately for two months, and Mr. Hunter, the manager of the farm, reported to Mr. Ellis that the barley not only furnished twice as much grazing as the rye, but also caused the cows to produce more milk.

Pure Bred Stock Pays. H. Yeager. Mr. Morgan's original investment was made at the suggestion of the county agent, who now reports that the Morgan cream check throughout the year has been the envy of the neighborhood.
