SLUGGEST GOES TO KANNAPOLIS BY THE SCORE OF 17 TO 6

Locals Run Wild on Paths to Annex Teeth Triumph

Kannapolis, July 18.—Clover, conquerors of the powerful Great Falls baseball machine, and heralded as one of the best amateur teams of the Palmetto State, suffered a severe drubbing at the hands of the local club here this afternoon, the score being 17 to 6.

Herman Holshouser, who left last night for New York to confer with John McGraw, pitched mercurial ball for the Kannapolis. Only two bingles were garnered from his delivery in the seven rounds of mound duty he performed.

Can You Beat It? The rampaging locals bunched nine of their sixteen bats in the first two scores of the fracas, and forced Hitch, Clover, mainstay, to retire in the second in favor of Roberts. But the latter fared little better than his predecessor, and the locals continued the attack.

A total of eleven bases were collected in the pair of innings.

Johnson was given a trial in the last inning. However, he learned that short-stop was the position for him. He was nipped for two hits, a couple of walks, and a quartet of runs.

Ex-Big Leaguer Joins the Roster. Dick Miller, former major league infielder, joined the Kannapolis today. He failed to exhibit the old form of playing that made him famous. He recently required as manager of the Newberry, Carolina League team.

Pardon Us, Please.

We were about to forget about the other team's playing. But their side of the argument was devoid of the least semblance of a feature. Dullis, Carolina fresh, probably played the best for them. Gibson here Saturday.

Umpire Laughlin's part in the program brought more applause from the crowd than did the locals' superiority showing.

Four innings had dragged along with the score standing 15 to 2. Time and again the crowd of eight hundred tired people started to leave after being assured the locals had sewed up the contest.

Then came the arbiter's announcement that the Kannapolis would get another chance at Concord next Saturday. This audience seemed pleased, and yelled for more home runs and hits.

Charges against former Gov. Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, Democratic vice presidential candidate in the last election, will be aired in criminal and civil suits promised in Nebraska by State Attorney General Spillman. Bryan's regime has long been under fire. George Johnson, former secretary of the state department of public works and a Republican, charges Bryan with violating the state corrupt practices act and state budget law by forcing a deficit so as to embarrass the former Republican administration.

GIBSON WALLOPS SOUTHSIDE IN WEEK-END FRACAS 13-3

Harrell Steps Out of Batting Slump and Hits Safely Five Times—Errors Feature Gibson's Playing.

BY R. P. BELL. The mighty Southsiders, of Winston-Salem, after having held Gibson to their smallest score of the season a few weeks ago, were crushed Saturday afternoon under an avalanche of seventeen hits and lost to the local team by the score of 13 to 3.

Leading the attack against them was Harrell, clever first baseman of the Gibson team, who emerged from a prolonged batting slump to swing the apple safely five times in five tries. Watts and Haynes also batted well for the local, while Simpson was Winston's best hitter.

Afield both teams played like school boys—Gibson making a total of ten errors and Winston five.

Simmons worked a nice game and with good support would have scored a shut-out. His change of pace had the opposing team baffled at all times.

Southside used three pitchers in an attempt to curb the storm of hits, but in vain.

HOLLARS IS DECLARED TO BE OF WEAK MIND

Sensational Robbery Case At Charlotte Ends—Anonymous Letter Read in Court.

Charlotte, July 18.—Ralph Hollars, central figure in a long series of sensational house robberies here, today was adjudged of weak mind and legally irresponsible for his confessed crimes.

Judge T. D. Bryson, in Mecklenburg county Superior court, at the conclusion of a trial in which several rather sensational statements were made by witnesses, announced that the 17-year-old Charlotte youth would be committed to some corrective institution. The choice of this institution will be made, Judge Bryson said, after conferences with Solicitor Carpenter and defense attorneys.

The trial was finished this morning after the state had announced it would rest with the introduction Friday afternoon of the testimony of four witnesses and the defense this morning had presented eleven witnesses. One psychologist and three physicians, on the stand for the defense, asserted that this boy, whose crimes caused intense apprehension among Charlotte people, especially the women, has the mental development of a child of eight years.

Solicitor Carpenter made no effort to combat the testimony of the defense that the youth is a mental defective, and asked each defense witness only a few perfunctory questions. The solicitor did not address the judge regarding the decision after all testimony was heard. D. B. Smith, one of the defense counsel, made a short, impassioned appeal to Judge Bryson that the prisoner be sent to a corrective institution and not to a prison, because the lawyer said, Hollars "is mentally deficient and morally irresponsible."

Judge Bryson, in announcing his decision, said that he was convinced of the justice of the defense appeal and of the accuracy of the conclusions of the psychologist, Dr. H. W. Crane, of Chapel Hill, director of the bureau of mental health and hygiene of the state department of public welfare, and the Charlotte physicians, that the youth's mental condition was responsible for his criminal activity.

Mrs. John H. Hollars, of 902 West Fifth street, mother of the prisoner, was the first defense witness sent to the stand. She testified that Ralph had been sickly all his life. He has never shown indication of normal mental development, does not know right from wrong and has never shown an ability to plan or to exercise will power. Two former employers of this youth testified that they had discharged him because of his inability to hold jobs as a soda dispenser.

A stir was caused in the crowded courtroom on several occasions when the name of the "Cutter Boy," son of J. H. Cutter, millionaire cotton broker and real estate owner, was mentioned by witnesses.

While the trial was in process, Judge Bryson read in open court an anonymous letter, signed "Taxpayer," which was written, the judge declared, by a "mental and moral coward." That letter asked: "Is the Hollars boy is crazy, is his accomplice crazy? This other boy lives on North Tryon street, in a home of luxury and, while not of legal driving age, has the use of several automobiles and is reported to have loaned to Hollars. I also understand that most of the stolen property was recovered at his home, but that his father has 'pull' enough or money enough to keep his name from going to the grand jury."

All witnesses for the state testified that Hollars repeatedly had said he was alone when committing his house robberies.

After reading the letter, Judge Bryson delivered a brief statement, commending the integrity and ability of the court officials.

Fort Macdonald Now Is State Property

Formally Tendered by Government and Accepted by State Yesterday.

Beaufort, July 18.—Accepting Fort Macdonald today for the federal government, on behalf of the State, Governor A. W. McLean declared that the historic value of the fortification should not be forgotten.

He pointed out that it was constructed nearly two centuries ago "to protect our then young State and nation from foes from without" and that "it served a most useful purpose, first against the Spanish Buccaneers, then in the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, and finally during the unfortunate war between the states."

The governor declared that one of the safeguards of free government is to "exalt patriotism by perpetrating in the memories of the present and future generations the work of our forefathers who built our state and nation."

He declared that Fort Macdonald represented one of the stepping stones by which our State and nation have attained the proud position they hold in the world today.

The governor added: "That while it is our duty, therefore, to reverence and celebrate this occasion, the most important thing for us to do is to perform successfully and wisely the duties and responsibilities of citizenship that have been cast upon us in this new day and generation."

Children Tortured. Complaint by neighbors led police to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Neber at Chicago. In the attic they found six-year-old Marjorie Neber, a foster child, weeping bitterly because she could not play with other children. Her hands were inclosed in home-made stocks fastened to her neck with a rope. She was promptly released from her bondage.

A 10-year-old son of C. R. Chatman, of Yanceyville, N. Y., was discovered tied to a stump with a saw chain "to keep him home during the hot weather." Judge Winstead said he would send the father to jail unless he promised to send his eight children to day school and Sunday school regularly.

The $25,000 American Derby for 2:08 pacers will be the big feature of the Kalamazoo Grand Circuit meeting which gets underway on July 20.

We're not getting all the tire business in town. We never expect to. But we're getting our share and our business is growing constantly. The reason for this is that car owners have found our location is convenient, our service prompt, efficient and courteous, our merchandise of the highest quality, and our prices surprisingly low.

As a matter of fact, and we realize it sounds pretty strong, if every car owner in town who is not buying from us, really knew what we had to offer, we'd come pretty close to having a monopoly on the tire business here.

We honestly believe this, because we're already selling to scores of the brainiest tire buyers in town—smart people who look twice and think three times before they buy anything. If we can satisfy them and keep on doing it—we can please you, too.
