

William Jennings Bryan Will Be Laid To Rest In The Arlington Cemetery Sometime This Week

BODY WILL LEAVE DAYTON WEDNESDAY

Will Lie In State In That Town During Afternoon, and Will Be Carried to National Cemetery Later.

MANY TRIBUTES PAID DECEASED

Last Voluntary Act Was Signing of Books for Friends.—Felt He Had Done Much In The Scopes Trial.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, July 27.—William Jennings Bryan's burial in Arlington National cemetery, Virginia, will be in accordance with wishes expressed by him on his last visit to the capital more than a year ago.

At that time Mr. Bryan went to the home of his intimate friend, Ben G. Davis, in a suburb, and requested that Mr. Davis do him the favor of arranging his burial in Arlington.

"It matters not where I may die," the Comptroller said. "I want to be buried in Arlington. Will you remember this request?"

Mr. Bryan told his wife of the talk with Mr. Davis and it was to the latter that Mrs. Bryan turned yesterday, authorizing him in a telegram from Dayton to carry out the request of her husband.

Mr. Davis obtained permission today for the interment in Arlington. Details as to the time of the funeral and selection of a site in the great cemetery has not been completed.

Body to Lie in State.

Dayton, Tenn., July 27.—The body of William Jennings Bryan will lie in state this afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock while the public will be invited to view the body of the dead politician and religious leader, Mrs. Bryan and a council of friends decided today.

The place will be in the home where Mr. Bryan died, or the Rhen county court house where he fought his last great battle.

The funeral party which will include the widow and an escort of Dayton friends, is expected to reach the national capital early Thursday.

Mrs. Bryan has accepted the offer of a special car from the Southern Railway Co. along whose lines the funeral train will pass from Dayton to Washington.

The car, a combination observation and Pullman, will be taken on the local train to Chattanooga, whence at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning it will be connected to a fast train from Chattanooga to Washington.

No guard of honor will be in attendance on the body of the statesman, in accordance with the expressed wish of Mrs. Bryan, who told her friends: "We are simple people and we want all arrangements simply made."

Mrs. Bryan, although an invalid confined to a chair, continued to display remarkable resolution in the unexpected death of her husband. She gave directions for all arrangements which have been determined upon.

From 2 until 5 o'clock this afternoon the body of Mr. Bryan was to lie in state at the lawn of the Rogers home.

A guard of honor composed of Dayton ex-service men will be on duty during the afternoon ceremony.

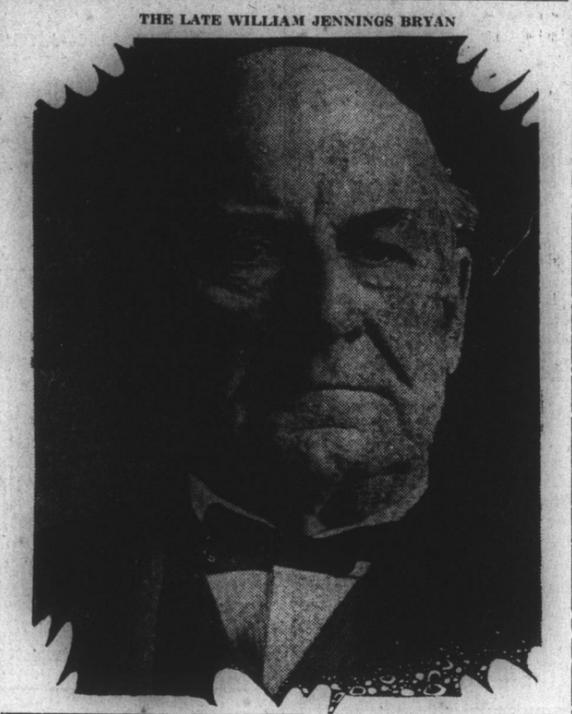

The children of the dead leader have been summoned by telegraph by their mother to join the party in Washington.

The decision to bury the former Democratic chief among the country's military great in Arlington was the result of the reported wish of Mr. Bryan, his widow told friends here. Mr. Bryan was a colonel of the volunteers in the Spanish-American war.

Had Been in Usual Health. Dayton, July 27.—William Jennings Bryan, many years ago known as "the boy orator of the Platte," who with his "cross of gold" speech won a democratic Presidential nomination and a lasting place before the American public, is dead.

The end came yesterday while the Comptroller was sleeping in the house of Richard Rogers, which had been assigned him during his stay here, when he came for the Scopes trial.

James McCartney, family chauffeur, was sent by Mrs. Bryan at 4:30 p. m.

THE LATE WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

to wake her husband. McCartney shook Mr. Bryan twice in an attempt to arouse him and then noticed he was not breathing.

Rushing to the home of a neighbor the chauffeur called a physician who arrived in a few minutes. After examination the doctor said Mr. Bryan had been dead 30 or 45 minutes before he arrived.

The Comptroller had been living under a strenuous program since he came here three weeks ago to assist in the prosecution of John T. Scopes for violating the Tennessee anti-evolution law. He appeared in excellent health, however, and was planning to launch a big campaign this week in behalf of fundamentalism.

Felt He Had Done Much. Winchester, Tenn., July 27.—Before leaving here Saturday after delivering an address, Wm. J. Bryan who died suddenly in Dayton yesterday, made the following statement to a reporter: "If I should die tomorrow I would feel much has been accomplished in the cause of enlightening humanity. I believe that on the basis of accomplishments in the past few weeks I could truly say well done."

Last Voluntary Act. Dayton, Tenn., July 27.—The last voluntary act of Wm. Jennings Bryan, a group of his intimate associates believe, was the autographing of four new books which he presented to Attorney General A. T. Stewart, prosecutor, and Judge John T. Raulston, presiding justice in the Scopes evolution trial.

Body Will Leave Dayton Wednesday. Dayton, July 27.—The body of Wm. Jennings Bryan, who died suddenly in sleep here late yesterday, will move on a special railroad car from Dayton to Washington at 8:40 a. m. Wednesday, Mrs. Bryan announced through her friends today.

Interment of the political and religious leader will be in Arlington National Cemetery, Va., at a time to be determined later.

Tribute By Secretary Kellogg. Washington, July 27.—Secretary Kellogg said today of Wm. Jennings Bryan: "In many respects Mr. Bryan was a very remarkable man. He had strong convictions, high ideals, and was a great orator."

"For 30 years he was a commanding and influential figure in the public life of the nation, and exercised great influence on the public mind. He died as he had lived, fighting for what he believed to be the right."

Tributes to Wm. Jennings Bryan. Vice President Davies: "He never said unworthy or mean things. He may have been mistaken at times, as we all are, but he was trying always to do the right as he saw it."

John W. Davis: "The example he set of devotion to principle, no matter what the cost, is one his countrymen may well cherish. Many of the things he advocated in the face of opposition now are among the accepted policies of the nation."

Clarence Darrow: "He was a man of strong convictions and always espoused his use with ability and courage. I always respected his sincerity and devotion."

Brother Is Grief Stricken. Loveland, Colo., July 27.—Grief stricken at the news of his brother's sudden death, Chas. W. Bryan made the following statement to the Associated Press: "My brother Wm. Jennings Bryan has given his life in defense of the Christian religion. He considered his public life along that line as the most important service to his country and the world that he ever undertook."

"He would voluntarily have offered his life if he believed it would further the cause that was so dear to his heart, and giving the last ounce of his strength and of his great ability in upholding the Divine faith which was in him, would, I believe, be in accordance with his wishes if given his choice in bringing to a close his work on this earth."

Select Burial Spot. Washington, July 27.—A spot high on the slope of Arlington overlooking the capital and near the monument erected to those who died on the Maine was tentatively selected today as the burial place of Wm. Jennings Bryan.

Attorney General Stewart at Dayton. Dayton, July 27.—Attorney General A. T. Stewart, who as state prosecutor of the trial was associated with William Jennings Bryan in the Scopes trial, arrived in Dayton today to offer his condolences to the widow and to aid in the arrangements for the final disposition of the body of the fundamentalist champion. Mr. Stewart repeated his expressions of deep grief at the death of his friend and legal ally.

Judge John T. Raulston, who presided at the Scopes trial, was joined here today by his wife who came from their home at Winchester on an early train. Judge Raulston reached Dayton soon after he learned of Mr. Bryan's death. He spent much of last night at the Rogers residence where the body lies.

(Further detailed particulars of Mr. Bryan's death will be found on page four.)

THE CURRITUCK GAME LAW IS ATTACKED

Unconstitutional and Discriminatory. Says Suit Filed in Mecklenburg.

Charlotte, July 25.—Sportsmen of Currituck county have filed a suit against the county game commissioners that may affect the question of the constitutionality of the local game laws, and eventually may influence statewide legislation in the matter.

A suit filed yesterday in the Mecklenburg County Superior Court alleges that the game laws of the county are unconstitutional and discriminatory.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs made it evident that should their suit be successful, other county game laws that fall into the same class may likewise fall.

The result would be that a statewide law which would allow the counties of North Carolina to replenish their game supply, would seek enactment, it was pointed out.

Duck shooters of the state have charged that Currituck county is dominated by the will of wealthy hunters of the north who maintain hunting lodges on the expansive sweeps of Currituck county marshes.

On the other hand, citizens of the county have stated openly that their county is poor and would not be able to maintain its share of the tax burden except for the fees received from visiting sportsmen.

One count of the complaint charges that the Currituck game revenue laws were passed in the legislature within twenty-four hours and are not valid because of non-compliance with procedure for passing county bills.

Another county sets out that the laws of the county in this connection are unconstitutional by reason of their being discriminatory in that they charge a nominal fee for Currituck citizens, a season fee of $5 for other residents of North Carolina and a fee of $77.50 for non-resident hunters.

THE COTTON MARKET

Buying Movement Started by Absence of Over Sunday Gains in Texas. (By the Associated Press.)

New York, July 27.—The absence of over Sunday gains in Texas started another buying movement in the cotton market early today which quickly advanced prices to new high levels for the movement, and virtually to the highest of the season.

Opening firm at 2 to 12 points advance, the market made net gains of 22 points within the first hour, which carried October up to 25.47 and December to 25.62. There was considerable realizing on the advance in belief that the technical position had been weakened, and insufficient attention was being paid to favorable conditions in the belt outside of Texas and Oklahoma, but the selling was absorbed a little under the highest prices.

Cables were considerably better than due, Liverpool with commission houses in the South were good buyers. Practically all Texas crop news was bullish claiming that the plant was deteriorating rapidly under the burning sun.

Cotton futures opened firm. Oct. 25.25; Dec. 25.62; Jan. 24.90; March 25.0; May 25.46.

PROBLEMS OF LATIN AMERICA DISCUSSED

Speaker Says Balance of Power System Such as Europe Has Is Gaining Much Strength in South America. (By the Associated Press.)

Williamstown, Mass., July 27.—Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union at Washington, asserted at the Institute of Politics today that a distinct trend toward a balance of power exists in the Latin-American countries today and may have as disastrous consequences as had the balance of power in Europe.

Conducting the discussion at a round table conference on outstanding problems in inter-American relations, Dr. Rowe said in part: "The first of the great problems confronting the American continent is to ascertain how it will be possible to avoid the balance of power system in its European form. We must advise some way of preventing that system from taking deep root."

SALE OF MEMORIAL HALF DOLLARS WILL BE SUCCESS

Says G. n. Freeman, Commander-in-Chief of Confederate Veterans.

Nashville, Tenn., July 27.—The sale of Confederate memorial half dollars will be a great success throughout the South, declared General W. B. Freeman, of Richmond, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, in an interview given out here today, following the conference of southern governors held in Atlanta last Monday, which he attended as the officially accredited representative of Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia.

At the conference, the governors and accredited representatives of governors of the southern states officially accepted quotas of Confederate memorial half dollars for their respective states; the quotas to be calculated on the basis of white population and bank deposits, and adopted a plan for a great harvest campaign in the fall, to be conducted under the direct official control of the governor in each of the southern states.

Following the conference, General Freeman came to Nashville to confer with General Harry Rene Lee, of this city, Adjutant General of the United Confederate Veterans, in regard to the Confederate memorial half dollar campaign, and arrangements for the next reunion of veterans to be held in Birmingham.

"We can depend on the people of the South," General Freeman said. "It is their duty to put this campaign over and I am satisfied they will. It is especially the sacred duty of the sons and daughters of Confederate soldiers to see that these coins, whereby the great memorial on Stone Mountain will be completed, are sold at a premium."

"We had a great conference in Atlanta, with practically every southern state represented by its governor or an officially accredited representative of its governor. It was the sense of the conference that each state in the South should take its quota of these coins at a premium, and that the governor of each state should put behind this movement the full official sanction of his office."

U. S. HAS MORE THAN HALF OF TELEPHONES IN WORLD

Has 16,000,000 Investments, to 63 Per Cent. of All in World. (By the Associated Press.)

Los Angeles, July 27.—Statistics compiled here recently by Southern California Telephone Company show that the United States, with approximately 16,000,000 instruments, leads the world in telephone development. Of the world's telephones, 63 percent are in the United States, 26 percent in the countries of Europe and 11 percent in countries of other continents.

In European countries the average number of telephones is 12 for each 1,000 inhabitants, while in the United States the figures show that there are 131 telephones for every thousand.

The statistics revealed that in cities in the United States of 50,000 population or over the average number of instruments was 177 for each 1,000 inhabitants. Atlantic City, N. J., shows the greatest development, having 366 phones per 1,000 persons. Omaha, Neb., with its 284 per 1,000, is second. Pasadena, Cal., with 275; Des Moines, Ia., 267; Lincoln, Neb., 262, and San Francisco with 259, rank third, fourth, and fifth in the order named.

Chicago ranks thirteenth with 238 telephones per 1,000 population; Boston is twenty-fourth with 222, and New York City, despite the fact that it has more instruments than Berlin, London, Paris, Liverpool, Rome, Antwerp, Brussels, and Shanghai, combined, ranks in forty-third place.

Much Accused, But Grateful in Kind.

Charlotte, July 26.—Proffering thanks for the kind treatment of the welfare officials under whose charge she had been since her arrest, Mrs. Nan Dowd, the pretty matron found guilty Thursday morning in police court on charges of check-kashing and improper relations with J. H. Sargent, a traveling man, yesterday afternoon went to the Mecklenburg Industrial home to serve her sentence of from six to 12 months.

An obstacle appeared in the way of the sentence that was quickly overcome. Inasmuch as she is also being held as a material witness in the federal case charging Sargent with violation of the Mann act, it was necessary to obtain permission for her to be held at the home and be serving her sentence pending this trial.

Communication with Federal Judge E. Yates Webb and Frank Patton, assistant district attorney, resulted in this necessary permission with certain minor reservations.

Mrs. Dowd, despite the sort of charges preferred against her and her frank confession of guilty, has been the subject of considerable sympathy and has been considered a model prisoner.

EXPECT OPERATORS TO ANSWER MINERS

That Demands of Operators Will Be Presented at Wage Conference Soon. MINERS WANTED TO SEE DEMANDS. They Have Charged That the Operators Are Making Them Do All of Talking In Wage Negotiations. (By the Associated Press.)

Atlantic City, N. J., July 27.—Reports were current today that the anthracite operators would likely present their counter demand to mine workers on resumption of the scale conference tomorrow or soon afterward.

Miners have been expressing impatience that the mine owners have been forcing them to "do all the talking" the past two weeks. The operators have rejoined that the miners as plaintiffs would be expected to state their case in full before they themselves would return fire.

The miners have in large measure submitted their case. John L. Lewis, the miners' international president, is expected to return soon as indications that the scale negotiators will have a busy week.

GIRL LEAPS FROM CAR ON HARD GRAVEL ROAD

Moore County Officers Were Taking Her Back to Charlotte Institution. Carthage, July 26.—Rather than return to the Mecklenburg Industrial school Tillie Moore, young white girl, leaped to safety from the rapidly moving automobile of Sheriff R. G. Fry early Thursday morning about two m's beyond Albemarle. Before Deputy Sheriff Kelly could bring the car to a stop, she disappeared in the thick woods.

How she escaped instant death is a mystery to the officers. The car was making about 36 miles an hour and she fell upon a hard gravel road. Deputy Kelly believes she was fatally injured and is now lying in the woods near the spot where she made her perilous jump, in a critical condition or has sought relief from earthly worries by jumping in the nearby lake.

The Moore county officers made a futile search for the girl early Thursday morning, and returned again to the spot at daybreak Friday morning, and made another vain effort to find some trace of her. In this search they were joined by Albemarle officers who are still on the lookout for the girl.

The Moore girl, with a companion, were picked up here Wednesday for the Charlotte authorities. When told she was going to be taken back to the Mecklenburg school, Tillie protested vehemently, stating that she had rather die than return. She even begged Deputy Kelly, who drove the car to Charlotte, to wreck the car.

That the leap was premeditated was borne out by the statement of the girl's companion who said Tillie had told her she was going to jump from the car at the first favorable opportunity.

On reaching Charlotte, the Moore county officers were informed that Tillie voluntarily entered the industrial school. This information together with the statements of the girl, lead the officers to believe that she was a child of misfortune. She told them she lived in Greenville, S. C., where her father was in the mercantile business up until his death about a year ago. When his estate was wound up, it was found he was insolvent. Facing bitter want, the mother soon followed the husband, and Tillie without relatives, says she married a man who turned out to be a rascal of the worst sort. From there she went to Charlotte.

Blairs Give School Site in High Point Homeplace.

High Point, July 26.—Commissioner David Blair, of Washington, and his brothers and sisters, have offered a site of nearly 25 acres for a new high school building here.

The property is across the highway from the old Blair homeplace on South Main street. The school board is considering the site along with several others. The voters of the city decided in an election recently to issue bonds in the sum of $750,000 for a new high school building; and the school board is looking now for a location for that structure.

Commissioner Blair was born in High Point, and has always taken much interest in this city. He frequently visits his old home here.
