

Hundreds Pay Homage At The Bier of Bryan

As Body Lies in State In Dayton Persons In All Walks of Life Filed by to Pay Last Respects.

SIMPLE CEREMONY MY SIMPLE PEOPLE

Removal of Body to Washington Delayed That Tribute Might Be Paid Him by His Tennessee Admirers.

(By The Associated Press) Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—Funeral services for Wm. J. Bryan will be held in Washington at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church...

The exact hour of the funeral will depend upon the time of the arrival in Washington of Wm. J. Bryan...

Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—As the body of William Jennings Bryan lay in simple state at the home of a friend here today...

While others from among their midst poured messages of condolence into the little white cottage which housed the remains of the Commoner...

Of varying political view he had found in them a common chord when he came forward as a defender of the inspired Bible and revealed religion.

And while others of the immediate family were hurrying across the continent from California and other western states...

Among the foothills of the Cumberland, where he had spent the closing days of his career...

Out of deference to these simple people, Mrs. Bryan, who had expressed a desire for an unostentatious funeral service...

Their appreciation of this deference was shown today. By foot, on mules, jogging behind rude conveyances...

Lightly they stepped as they left the sidewalk and passed up the four cement steps to the grassy lawn where rested the bronze casket.

They were silent as they stoically viewed the placid features of him who last they had heard and cheered as he defended the Bible in which they believed.

Plans for the journey to Washington and interment in Arlington Cemetery had been taken over by William E. Thompson, youngest son of the dead man...

Although surrounded by friends who sought to attend here every day, Mrs. Bryan has been crushingly alone in her grief.

Yet the fortitude with which she bore her sorrow amazed associates who sought to share her suffering.

She is the bravest woman I have ever seen.

Mrs. Bryan Visits Chattanooga. Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—Mrs. Wm. J. Bryan went by automobile to Chattanooga...

They expect to return to Dayton before 2 o'clock p. m. when the body of Mr. Bryan will be laid in state.

This is the first time Mrs. Bryan had left the Richard Rogers premises since the death of her husband Sunday.

FINAL STATEMENT OF WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

"The Bible Is Good Enough For Me," Appears in Current Issue of Collier's Weekly.

New York, July 27.—William Jennings Bryan's last formal utterance on evolution entitled: "The Bible Is Good Enough for Me," appears in the current issue of Collier's Weekly...

"The theory of evolution," Mr. Bryan says, "is dangerous to society. When one considers man but a bundle of characteristics inherited from brute ancestors..."

"All Darwinians are prone to underestimate the relative importance of environment. To argue that descendants inherit intelligence because of physical laws is to ignore the fact that intelligent people surround their children with an environment that cultivates intellectual ideals and furnishes educational opportunities to the child."

"There is proof in abundance to support the proposition that a child born in a home where neither parent can read or write, may in spite of such an inheritance, rise to intellectual heights, provided the environment is favorable."

"Most of our great men in the United States come from the common people and it is no reflection upon the parent to say that a child surpasses him in breadth of mental vision or in depth of intellectual enthusiasm. And this is not an evolution, because we have examples of ignorant children who were the descendants of intelligent parents."

"Nothing could be more disastrous to the race than to have parents act according to the philosophy of evolutionists. If every parent, who, lacking education, attributed to an inherited defect, and believed that his children would inherit that defect, it would chill the spirit which has led parents to devote themselves to the improvement of their children."

"Darwinism gives us the doctrine of despair; Jesus brought into the world the gospel of hope."

"Darwinism enthrones selfishness, the Bible crowns love as the greatest force in the world."

COMMITTEES PLAN TO GO TO SALISBURY THURSDAY

Will Meet With Committees From Other Cities in Regard to Extension of the Piedmont and Northern Railway.

Quite a number of Concord business men, appointed by various civic organizations as committeemen to work for the extension of the Piedmont and Northern Railway from Charlotte to Winston-Salem, plan to go to Salisbury Thursday afternoon for a conference with committeemen from Charlotte, Salisbury, Lexington and Winston-Salem.

It is probable that the Concord party will leave about 2 o'clock so as to provide time for an informal meeting with other committeemen before the conference is formally called.

The committees from Concord will represent the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Merchants Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the city. Mayor C. H. Barrier and Dr. T. N. Spencer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will be among those present from Concord.

Former Governor Cameron Morrison, who has been acting as spokesman for those persons who believe the railway company can be persuaded to extend its line, will serve as chairman of the meeting at Salisbury, the conference having been called at his suggestion.

It is believed that definite action of some kind will be taken by the conference.

CAPTURED AFTER CARGO OF LIQUOR IS UNLOADED

First Time That a Big Ship of This Size Has Successfully Eluded Rum Chasers.

New York, July 27.—The 2,000 ton steamship Augusta was captured by customs officers in the Hudson river off Dyskman street today after the ship had run the gauntlet of the rum blockade and her crew had unloaded and disposed of a cargo of liquor worth $230,000 at bootleg prices, leaving only 15 bottles aboard.

Nothing could be more disastrous to the race than to have parents act according to the philosophy of evolutionists. If every parent, who, lacking education, attributed to an inherited defect, and believed that his children would inherit that defect, it would chill the spirit which has led parents to devote themselves to the improvement of their children.

As the ship was being towed to the barge office, Assistant Solicitor Barnes of the legal division of the customs service held a preliminary hearing aboard the vessel, examining Charles Wilson, acting captain and other of the crew.

Customs officials said the operations of the Augusta were the most daring in the history of the customs and prohibition laws. None of the officers had a license, it was charged, no log was kept and there was no ship's article giving the names of the crew.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE MOURNS BRYAN'S DEATH

Sends Message of Condolence to Widow of Great Commoner.

Swampscott, Mass., July 27.—President Coolidge today sent the following letter of condolence to the widow of William J. Bryan: "My Dear Mrs. Bryan: The sudden death of Mr. Bryan brought a sense of personal loss to Mrs. Coolidge and myself. It was only the other day that he had been our guest at the White House. We wish to extend to you and your family our most heartfelt sympathy."

"Mr. Bryan has been a prominent figure in public affairs for a third of a century. He has been a leader in the advocacy of many moral reforms and was representative of the effort for purity in our political life. He was endowed with the great gift of eloquence. The sincerity of his motives was beyond dispute. He was three times chosen head of a great political party and held the exalted office of Secretary of State. His career was another example of what American opportunity affords to those who have the will industriously to apply themselves. It would be difficult to find among his contemporaries any one with so large a circle of friends and acquaintances who had so generously bestowed upon him their esteem and confidence."

"I trust that you may be given great consolation in remembering all his worth and in the abiding faith that a Divine Providence has ordered all things well."

Buses on South Carolina Roads Will Be Fumigated

Columbia, July 27.—Samuel McGowan, chief commissioner of the state highway department, announced here today that, effective here today, all passenger busses operating on the highways of the state will be required to undergo fumigation at regular intervals.

The order provides that the busses shall be fumigated at least once in 10 days, under the supervision of the health authorities in the towns which are terminals of the bus lines.

This is for the protection of the traveling public, Mr. McGowan stated.

Bryan Was Not Thinking of Presidency Again.

Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—Reports that William Jennings Bryan hoped to make another campaign for the presidency, or that he planned to make his advocacy of fundamentalism a means to such an end, are without foundation in truth, W. E. Thompson, secretary to Mr. Bryan for the past four years, told the Associated Press today.

High Lights From Last Speech of William Jennings Bryan

(By The Associated Press) "Christ has made of death a narrow starlight strip between the companionship of yesterday and the reunion of tomorrow; evolution strikes out the stars and deepens the gloom that enshrouds the tomb."

"It may be a surprise to your Honor and to you, gentlemen of the jury, as it was to me, to learn that Darwin spent three years at Cambridge studying for the ministry."

"He (Darwin) drags man down to the brute level, and then judging man by brute standards he questions whether man's mind can be trusted with God and immortality."

"Do these evolutionists stop to think of the crime they commit when they take faith out of the hearts of men and women and lead them out into a starless night?"

"What is the taking of a few dollars from one in day or night, in comparison with the crime of leading one away from God and away from Christ?"

"The soul is immortal and religion deals with the soul, the logical effect of the evolutionary hypothesis is to undermine religion and thus defeat the soul."

"The body of our people are so valuable that druggists and physicians must be careful to properly label poisons; why not be as careful to protect the spiritual life of our people from the poisons that kill the soul?"

"Psychologists who build upon the evolutionary hypothesis, teach that man is but a bundle of characteristics inherited from brute ancestors."

ANOTHER SERIAL STORY SOON.

The Tribune is pleased to announce that it will in a few days begin the publication of another great serial story, "The Limited Mail." This is high class fiction, and a great railroad story. Wait for the opening chapter.

MISSING GIRL IS SEEN IN SALISBURY

Ruth Murrie, Aged 15, of Burlington, Has Been Gone Since Friday. Burlington, July 27.—Ruth Murrie, the 15-year-old girl runaway from her home, near here, was seen sitting in the roadster in which she left at the curb on a street in Salisbury Sunday, according to information communicated to her father, Ira Murrie, by a young man who knew her. She was out of gas.

Some time later the girl managed to get gas, the young man said, and disappeared. This information was given the local police department this morning by Mr. Murrie, who is greatly distressed and alarmed at the way his daughter left her home.

Miss Murrie, missing since Friday, is believed to be on a wanderlust journey rather than a victim of foulplay, as suggested in an earlier report.

Although it is said she visited a dentist during the afternoon and idled about Burlington until 11 o'clock that night and left alone in the direction of Greensboro, it is more generally accepted that she had some pact with a young man, possibly to run away and get married. She left in a Ford roadster belonging to her father, Ira Murrie.

It is not believed that she was lured blindly into a trap, and her movements on the afternoon and night revealed that, almost certainly, she executed a plan premeditated to run away.

So far as can be learned, Ruth Murrie had no unhappy home environment to cause her to leave home.

TEXTILE WAGE REDUCTION BRINGS FORTH PROTEST

President of American Federation of Labor Says There Are No Reasons For Wage Cuts. (By The Associated Press) Washington, July 28.—Protest against reduction of wages in the textile industry was made today by President Green of the American Federation of Labor, who declared such action was not to be based on "reason, fairness or justice."

Mr. Green wrote to Robert Amor, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, and to Andrew G. Pierce, president of the American Woolen Co., declaring action taken by them represented the "power of force and might."

To Lay Cornerstone of Salisbury Church. Salisbury, July 27.—Rev. A. L. Coburn, who back in 1890 was instrumental in building a Methodist chapel on South Main street and who was the first pastor for that congregation, is this week accorded the distinction of laying the first brick of a new and handsome church home that will bear his name—the Coburn Memorial Methodist church. This church is being built near the site of the first chapel and a block from the brick church which the congregation has been using for some years and which it has outgrown.

The laying of the first brick is a feature of a program that will include among its number a brief history of the church by the present pastor, Rev. W. A. Rollins, and the singing of several appropriate hymns of praise.

Dr. Gilmer Brenizer is Surprised By Progress.

Washington, July 27.—Dr. and Mrs. Gilmer Brenizer have returned here after a visit to western Carolina, including Blowing Rock, Asheville and other places.

Dr. Brenizer, who was born in Charlotte, has spent most of his time here. He has a position in the treasury department. He has not been to the mountain region of the state in five or six years.

"I never saw anything like the development there," he declared today. "I would not have known it was the same country."

That is the story everybody brings.

East Has Produced Bumper Weed Crop.

Kinston, July 27.—Eastern Carolina has one of the finest tobacco crops in history. This appears to be the case on the face of many reports had here from throughout the belt. The yield is exceptionally heavy in some of the lower belt counties, while the general quality is good. In this immediate section weary farmers have weeks of hard work ahead of them to house the crop, though hundreds have been laboring ceaselessly about in curing barns since the latter part of June.

Fish That Flirts.

London, July 28.—Fish that climb trees, monkeys that brush their teeth after meals, and birds that sleep upside down are among the strange creatures discovered in the Malay Peninsula by Carver Wells, an explorer. Another freak of this part of the world is a fish that flirts. It is the only swimming animal known to have a real wink.

HAS NOT ABANDONED HOPE FOR ANOTHER DISARMAMENT MEET

It Is Said at Summer White House That the President Still Is Hopeful for Conference Soon.

SECURITY PACT WOULD DO GOOD

The President May Call For Such a Conference When He Thinks Conditions in Europe Are Right. (By The Associated Press) Swampscott, Mass., July 28.—Consummation of the European security pact in the opinion of President Coolidge would lay a broad foundation for further disarmament.

Published reports that the President had given up hope for another disarmament conference were denied today at the summer white house, although it was pointed out that conditions in Europe were not yet propitious for initiating a move for a conference.

It was stated here that there had been no change in the status of the proposal which thus far has been confined to preliminary and rather indefinite suggestions from the administration that it would make an effort to have a conference called whenever there appeared to be a likelihood of its going through to a successful termination.

FINEST PEACH CROP NOW IN MOTION TO MARKETS

One Hundred to 200 Cars Daily Are Moving Out of Moore and Adjoining Counties. Southern Pines, July 27.—The finest and biggest crop of peaches ever moved out of the Sandhills peach belt is now in motion, and the prices are holding up on a satisfactory basis, with the expectation that next week will see prices higher, as the Georgia crop will then be out of the way. The peach belt has broadened and more trees are in bearing now than ever.

The army of hands busy in the orchards makes things look like money, which is beginning to float freely with the earlier days. Since the dewberries were harvested, business has picked up, and the temporary lull after the winter visitors left was quickly forgotten.

From 100 to 200 cars daily will move out during most of the opening week, and the ensuing 12 to 15 days will move the big end of the crop to market. The tobacco harvest is also in full swing now, with leaf of fair quality, although hardly so good as last year, have been acreage production not far behind last year. Moore county will have money in its fingers the balance of 1925.

Footprints of Prehistoric Monster Embedded in Coal.

(By The Associated Press) Salt Lake City, July 28.—Large pieces of coal in which are embedded the footprints of a prehistoric animal believed to be a tyrannosaurus, the fiercest of the carnivorous dinosaurs which roamed the earth millions of years ago, have been found in the Panther coal mine in Carbon county, Utah. The find was made several thousand feet underground.

The tyrannosaurus is believed to have been 47 feet long and 18 to 20 feet high when erect, with a tail like a lizard.

(By The Associated Press) Seabright, N. J., July 28.—Only a sportsmanlike default by the opponents averted defeat today for Robert and Howard Kinsey, of San Francisco, national doubles champions at the hands of Arnold Jones and W. W. Ingraham, of Providence, R. I., in the first round of the Seabright invitation tennis tournament. Scores were 10-12; 6-1; 2-5; default.
