MEETING OF KIWANIS CLUB

Tribute Paid to Mr. Bryan.—Interesting Talk by Rev. Mr. Fesperman.—Mrs. Gibson Slips.

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club which was held Friday at the Y. M. C. A. was marked by tributes paid to William Jennings Bryan, solo by Mrs. H. G. Gibson with accompaniment by Mrs. Leslie Correll, a talk on Japan by Rev. Mr. Fesperman, returned missionary, and the announcement of a scholarship at Johns Hopkins University for which some young man of this community will be eligible.

John Palmer, manager of the local Concord & Kannapolis Gas Company, announced to the club that the Southern Gas & Power Corporation, owners of the Concord and other gas properties, has offered to give the Johns Hopkins scholarship, worth $500, to a resident of Concord or any town where they have gas plants, who is desirous of taking a course in gas engineering.

Will Foil, in charge of the program of the meeting, introduced Rev. Mr. Fesperman, who made a most interesting talk on the conditions in Japan and the manners and customs of those folks with whom he has been working for the past six years.

The program chairman then announced a memorial for William Jennings Bryan and called on Kiwanian Ralph Gibson to read the club in prayer. Ralph responded in a most beautiful and touching manner. The prayer was followed by Mrs. Laura Hidenhour Gibson, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." At the conclusion of the song, Jim Cook was recognized by the chairman, and offered resolutions, which were adopted unanimously by rising vote of the club.

The attendance prize was drawn by John Palmer. The program for next meeting will be in charge of Boyd Grady.

BRIDES NEED REAL SCHOOL FILM SHOWS

Vitagraph Picture Urges More Careful Preparation For Marriage. A powerful story—one which not only entertains but makes for thinking is told in "School for Wives," the Victor Hugo Halperin production which comes to the Concord Theatre Monday for a run of two days. It's the story of a wealthy girl who marries a poor artist, renouncing her father's fortune because it is tainted.

An excellent cast, headed by the always popular Conway Tearle, interprets the various roles. The picture is said to be a welcome combination of thrills, color, action, suspense and romance. It is admirably directed.

Financial difficulties were not the sole cause of the rift on the matrimonial sea of Richard Keith and Betty Lynch (Conway Tearle and Sigrid Holmquist) in the early years of their union. They didn't get along happily for the reason that both had entered upon marriage with little thought and no preparation.

TO ORGANIZE COUNTY FOR LARGER SCHOOL FACILITIES

Plan to Be Presented to Committeemen of the County August 10th. At a meeting of the County Board of Education held on Thursday a tentative plan for a county wide organization for larger school facilities was adopted. This plan will be presented to the committeemen of the county August 18th at 10 a. m. in the court house for their suggestions.

Following this conference and consideration with the committeemen of the county a final plan will be adopted. The proposed plan has for its purpose the organization of all the county for larger school facilities, such an organization as will give to all the children improved elementary advantages and standard high school training. It is the intention of the board to complete the plans of organization at an early date and begin at once on the building program.

ANNIVERSARY DAY FOR NAZARETH ORPHANS' HOME

Great Preparation Being Made For the Crescent Picnic This Year. Thursday, August 6th, is Anniversary Day for Nazareth Orphans' Home at Crescent. Thousands of the people of Rowan and Cabarrus Counties, and all adjacent counties, go to Crescent on Anniversary Day, last year's attendance being estimated at 7,500.

Preparation is being made for a larger attendance this year. Nazareth Orphans' Home is located near Crescent, 8 miles south of Salisbury, in Rowan county. It is now accessible by good roads from Faith, Granite Quarry and Rockwell. This was made possible by the commissioners of Rowan county building a hard surfaced road by the home.

Nazareth Home is owned and controlled by the Reformed Church in North Carolina. Its doors are open to children, orphan children, pupils of the fellowship of the Reformed Church. While the home gives a place to such children of the Reformed Church whose parents are no longer living, those in needy circumstances who cannot find a home elsewhere are received. The large share of the funds for maintenance comes from the Reformed Church in North Carolina, but much assistance comes from the Reformed churches north and from many friends of the home outside of the Reformed Church. The Kiwanis Club of Salisbury, and other organizations have been very generous to the children of the home.

The Home is just completing a girl's dormitory. This building has been needed for many years, as the old residence of Dr. C. Banks McNairy has been the girl's dormitory for years. It is inadequate, dilapidated. The new building was contracted more than a year ago, and the cornerstone was laid last year on Anniversary Day, but there have been many delays, and it is still unfinished. This building is constructed of rough texture face brick and tile, and has a capacity for 50 girls, with a dining room and kitchen capacity for 100. The building has large quarters for matron, parlor rooms, infirmary, etc.

Just recently a large cypress tank of 6,000 gallons capacity was erected. This will give ample water supply for the home, and also take care of the large gatherings on Anniversary Day. The large auditorium and school room in which the exercises are held each year will be started this year for the first time. The folding chairs from Catawba College, Newton, N. C., have been placed in the chapel.

Chief features of the Anniversary Day this year are: First, the annual address by Rev. Paul S. Leinbach, D. D., L. L. D., editor of the Reformed Church Messenger, Philadelphia, Pa. Dr. Leinbach is one of the most gifted sons of the Reformed Church, and officials of the home are pleased to announce him as the speaker. Second, the concert class of the home will give a program at 2 p. m. This class is being drilled daily for this program. There is no charge to the chapel for either. An offering is received at the time of the Anniversary address.

The semi-annual meeting of the board will be held August 5th at the home. One of the important items of business is to elect a superintendent for the home to succeed Rev. W. H. McNairy, whose term expires August 30. Supt. McNairy resigned at the annual meeting at Lower Stone Church May 4th. The officers of the Board are: J. W. Peeler, Rockwell, N. C., President; J. M. Peeler, Faith, N. C., vice-president; W. C. Lyerly, Concord, Secretary; and George H. Moose, Gold Hill, N. C., Treasurer.

The Rockwell and Faith charges of the Reformed Church will have lunch stands on the grounds. Bear Creek and Mt. Pleasant Churches will have tables. All proceeds from these tables and stands go to the Treasurer of the home for the current expense fund. Commission agents are not allowed.

Mr. Sikes Writes of His Visit to Concord. Rev. Timothy A. Sikes, who preached here July 19th at Central Methodist Church, thus writes in the North Carolina Christian Advocate of his visit to Concord: "Rev. W. A. Jenkins, who has faithfully served that splendid Central, Concord congregation for the past four years, is spending a much needed vacation in touring several eastern States, invited the writer to spend last Sunday with his people and preach for them. This invitation was gladly accepted. It was at old Center church, which is now almost in the suburbs of Concord, that we attended our first Methodist Sunday school and learned to love the church. In those days we did the errands around the house, and went to market on old Charlie, the faithful family horse. Concord, to the end of those days, was a tremendous city and the people, we thought, were the richest in all the world. The timid country youth would slip into Cannon & Fetzer's and sell his eggs, butter, chickens or whatever he had, buy some coffee, sugar, etc., and hasten back home, and was almost afraid to look at a person on the streets.

"Concord has grown and developed into a real little city and is one of the most delightful places to live in the state. Our Methodist years ago acquired a very desirable church site in the city and on that stands one of the most modern church plants in the state. A new Sunday School addition has recently been erected and is a thing of beauty as well as being equipped for the workings of a well organized Sabbath school. The main auditorium is small, but is sufficient for the congregation for years to come. No more intelligent and appreciative people gather for worship than that which assembles in Central Sunday after Sunday. It must be an inspiration to the pastor as he looks into the faces of such a fine body of worshippers who seem anxious to hear the old time gospel preached. We were greeted by a large summer congregation and it was a pleasure to us to try to preach to them. "The fellowship that we enjoyed in the beautiful home of our good friend, Brother D. B. Coltrane, was delightful. Brother Coltrane and Miss Jenn, his accomplished daughter, make choice hosts, and then Brother W. R. Odell, that prince of good fellows, was also a guest in the home. The entire day brought delightful experiences to us."

Post and Flag's Cotton Letter. New York July 31.—The market has been irregular with occasional minor rallies but on the whole a lower tendency reflecting absence of support and the feeling that rains shown in the southwest by private advices, while for the most part light, have covered a larger area and have been beneficial. This has promoted selling for both foreign and domestic accounts and that disposition has been reinforced by expectation that early ginnings will be heavy as a result of the early maturity and will presently mean more liberal heading and a larger supply of contracts. Pending that development, however, the market will continue narrow and subject to sharp rallies whenever covering becomes at all general.

It is pointed out that while eastern belt advices are so far decidedly favorable it is rarely until after the first of August that complaints from that section are at all general or serious. Meanwhile according to reliable advices there are hundreds of thousands and probably millions of acres in Texas which can hardly be relied upon to yield a bale to 50 acres and there appears little chance of recovery in those sections even with good rains. The crop is not out of the weeds yet by any means and may yet show severe loss and even in localities where at the moment the prospect is quite flattering.

The long interest has been extensively reduced and there is good reason to think that a considerable short interest has been created so that even in the event of a rather bearish bureau there might be more wanted than for sale while if the figures are again bullish covering would probably carry prices once more to the point from which the reaction started or possibly even higher. Until the supply and demand equation can be figured out more accurately and the really legitimate forces begin to exert themselves it will not be safe to have any decided views or extended position on either side.

POST AND FLAG. Doubtful Compliment. The little country parish near a famous ocean resort was having "supplies," as they called visiting ministers. On one Saturday they learned that the expected preacher could not come. They were sore bested, but they heard of the sojourn of a very distinguished doctor of divinity at the hotel by the sea, and with some misgivings appointed the stoutest number of their committee to invite the noted preacher to occupy the pulpit. He received the committeeman with graciousness, and to the latter's surprise and joy accepted. The committeeman, wishing to round out the happy transaction, remarked, "You know, doctor, we would have been satisfied with a poorer preacher, if we could have got one."
