JUDGE CALDWELL'S ACTION DISPLEASES CITY ENGINEER

Failure to Close Liberty Lunch Brings Rife in Ranks of Officials—Calls Cafe "Public Nuisance"

A slight friction has developed within the last few days in the city administration. Quint E. Smith, city engineer, is dissatisfied with the action taken by the City Judge Morrison Caldwell, in regard to closing the Liberty Lunch which failed to come up to specified cleanliness in a recent inspection and, according to Mr. Smith, "is a public nuisance as every one knows."

The ill feeling came when, instead of closing the lunch room at once, as Mr. Smith requested, Mr. Caldwell gave the owners ninety days in which to run.

Mr. Smith and a State inspector, in making the rounds of the cafes recently, gave the Liberty Lunch the once over. Not having as many as twelve chairs, the State inspector was unable to do anything about it. Mr. Smith, however, not satisfied that it should continue to run in its alleged filthy condition, called on Mr. Caldwell to examine it with him and then to close it.

The two went over it thoroughly, using as a basis of comparison, the score card which had been used in inspecting the other eating places of the city. After adding up the grades, it was found that the place had a score of 46 per cent. Passing grade for cafes where the State can take a hand is 70.

After some hesitation, Mr. Caldwell decided that he would allow the lunch to continue dispensing eats for ninety days and at the end of that time, was it not improved, it could be closed.

This fact has caused Mr. Smith's ire to be roused. He maintains that if he has not the co-operation of city officials in the matter of cleanliness, he cannot keep Concord in the spotless condition he would have it. And the cafe, as he pictures it, is in a wretched shape.

Said Mr. Smith in speaking of the matter today: "I am well pleased with most of my work as city engineer thus far. My clean-up week has been a great success; I have taken up over twice as much trash as any previous administration was able to do. Of course the reason for this was that I advertised and also received good space in the papers. Other projects I have planned have also received hearty co-operation from the people."

"In the matter of the cafe, however, I have been sorely disappointed. It is something that needs immediate attention and relief should be granted from this nuisance before ninety days."

THE RUNAWAY GIRL IS AT HOME AGAIN

Miss Ruth Murrie Says There Was No Real Reason for Leaving

Burlington, Aug. 3.—Ruth Murrie, fifteen-year-old girl runaway, is back at the home of her father, Ira Murrie, Burlington, Route 4—glad that her wanderlust is at its end.

She was accompanied from Knoxville, Tenn., by Joe Fogelman, and a sister, who left here the morning following her arrest with two companions, J. E. Clayton of Concord, and L. H. Lyerly of Charlotte.

According to Police Chief R. D. Bain, who talked to her last night, she could give no reason for leaving home. She had departed in her father's roadster, in which she had driven to Burlington to have some dentist work done.

"I had no idea of running away that afternoon when I came to town," she told the police chief, "but later on I got to thinking about it and drove away, going to Salisbury." She said she had no definite itinerary when she left.

The last report of the girl before a wire came from the Knoxville chief of police, telling of her arrest, was that she had been seen in Salisbury and Charlotte, and that she had no funds. She drove with the young men who had joined her via Spartanburg to Asheville and Knoxville.

Clayton and Lyerly played the luckiest hand in their lives this morning when they walked out of the Knoxville jail, freed by a wire from police here on evidence given by the girl. It is thought she took full responsibility for them leaving the State with her, claiming that it was she who took them instead of them taking her.

However, it is said the circumstances of the girl's leave may yet develop something sensational from this point, although Chief Bain would give out no information other than that he was investigating some statements of the girl made to him which may lead to an arrest.

BIRTHS EXCEEDED DEATHS BY BIG MARGIN IN CONCORD

More Than Two Births For Each Death During First Six Months of Year in This City

Statistics just compiled by W. M. Sherrill, registrar of vital statistics for Concord, show that during the first six months of 1925 births far exceeded deaths in this city. Figures made public by Mr. Sherrill were secured from monthly reports submitted to him by physicians of the city.

According to the reports submitted to Mr. Sherrill by the physicians there were 174 births in Concord during the first six months of the year against 76 deaths, a rate of increase that is said to be in keeping with other cities in the state.

In making public the reports Mr. Sherrill pointed out that the figures are not complete as several physicians of the city have not submitted birth reports for May and June. "However," says the report of the registrar, "the number of deaths is given in full, by reason of the fact that death certificates must be signed by attending physicians so burial permits can be issued, and undertakers send in their reports promptly each month."

"LET WOMEN ALONE" NEW COMEDY-DRAMA

Fine Cast Interprets Viola Brothers Shore's "Post" Story, "On the Shelf."

"Let Women Alone," the picture at the Concord Theatre, is an adaptation by Woods of Viola Brothers Shore's Saturday Evening Post story, "On the Shelf," and revolves about an elderly woman and her son, an insurance salesman. Throughout her life, the mother has dreamed of a leisure that her limited circumstances would never permit until her children have gone out into the world and made their mark.

After they have transplanted her from her country home and into a life of ease she becomes restless. There is no work for her to do and time hangs heavy on her hands. Finally, without the knowledge of her son, she obtains work as companion to the three-year-old daughter of a widowed interior decorator. Eventually she is the indirect cause of a romance springing up between her son and her employer.

The story is rich in drama and replete with comedy situations, and the cast is an unusually good one. Ethel Wales plays the part of the mother, Pat Malley is the son and Wanda Hawley the interior decorator. Others in the cast are Wallace Beery, J. Farrell MacDonald, Harris Gordon, Margaret Morton, Lee Wilentz and Betty Jane Spowden. Paul Powell directed.

Mrs. D. E. Fitch, of Burr, Iowa, was given a contract to paint all the school houses in her township, and she did most of the work herself.

Harrisburg Community Club. The Harrisburg Community Club will meet at the school house Thursday night, August 6th, at 8:30 o'clock.
