

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Y. W. A. Meeting.
The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock with Misses Louise and May Medlin.

Entertains at Bridge.
Miss Adelaide Foil was hostess at a charming bridge party Wednesday morning at her home on North Union street complimenting her house guest, Miss Mattie Taylor, of Winston-Salem. After play refreshments were served.

Miss Foil's guests were: Miss Taylor, Misses Jennie Brown and guest, Elie Hardaman, Virginia, Wilkinson, Askins Ivey, Ruth and Helen Dayvault, Frances and Mary Orchard Boger, Rosa Caldwell, Marian Coltrane, Willie White, Orchard Lafferty, Frances Butte, Kathryn Carpenter, Annie Louise Hoover, Mary Lore Flowe, Emily Pounds, Elizabeth MacFadyen and Alice Wall.

Emotional Actress As Apache Queen.
The great emotional actress, Nazimova, in "The Redempting Sin," a Vitagraph picture, comes to the Concord theater today to remain one day and from all accounts picture-goers are due to have a rare treat.

"The Redempting Sin" is a J. Stuart Blackton production, from an engrossing novel by L. Y. Jefferson. Nazimova has the role of Joan, "Queen of the Paris Sewers." She is sought after by Lupine, the Apache leader, but is attracted by Paul de Gaflet, a young nobleman. That she may be worthy of this young man, she renounces her old life. When Lupine, determined to win her, steals a pearl necklace for her, she bids him return it, and he complies. Then the girl decides that she loves the Apache leader after all.

All the scenes in the picture are laid in Paris, and J. Stuart Blackton has reproduced the narrow streets and old buildings with remarkable fidelity. A fight in the Paris sewers, with gangsters rixing it up, is declared to be one of the most realistic combats ever screened.

Lou Tellegen impersonates the Apache leader, and is said to give an excellent performance. Others in the well-balanced cast are Carleton D. Miller, Otis Harlan, Rosita Marstini, Rose Tapley, Eric Mayne and Violet Virginia.

Textile Outlook Is Somewhat Brighter.
Gastonia, Aug. 6.—Gaston County cotton mills have enough yarn orders now to carry them to the end of the old year in September and are now accepting new orders only on margins permitting profitable operation. Mill owners say first scales of yarn for the new crop year were made here last week, deliveries being for October, November. Buyers' stocks are apparently low, as orders continue to pour in, generally small in poundage, endeavoring to cover needs until the new cotton crop enters the market. There is some ground for belief that the market is stiffening considerably and that the outlook for fall business is somewhat brighter.

The home of Mrs. Hamilton Fish, on Fifth Avenue, New York, will be razed and an apartment house will take its place. Mrs. Fish will receive an average annual rent of $50,000 for the property, the lease running for 84 years at an aggregate of approximately $5,000,000.

LIMA WOMAN BELIEVES WORLD OWES HER LIVING

En Route to Home She Stops Here Long Enough to Collect Part She Considers Due Her.

Mrs. D. W. Smith, said to be a resident of Lima, Ohio, believes in the theory that the world owes her a living. She dropped into Concord Thursday and did what she could toward cancelling the debit entries in her ledger against this part of the universe. She was accompanied by her little daughter, Elizabeth. Mrs. Smith arrived unannounced. Leaving her car at a local garage, she at once went to the Y. M. C. A. where she introduced herself and made known her wants. Harry Lee Johnston, boys' work secretary, listened to her plea. She had been in Florida, where she had gone in search of work. The work had not been as steady as one could have wished nor had it been so remunerative, with the result that Mrs. Smith saved but little cash. In the meantime, her husband, whom she left in Ohio, became ill and Mrs. Smith concluded that it was her wifely duty to journey thither at once.

Packing her few belongings in the antiquated Ford she owned, she started gaily northward. The fact that she did not have money sufficient for the trip in no way bothered Mrs. Smith. On the contrary, she calmly collected as she went, charitable persons sending her from one town to the next. After she had narrated her troubles, she asked for sufficient cash to have her car repaired and additional money for food, which was becoming scarce. Mr. Johnson thereupon politely but firmly advised her that there was no fund in the Y. M. C. A. treasury for that purpose but agreed to take her to the Chief of Police who might be able to accommodate her.

Chief declared that he had not a cent for such purposes and advised that the Mayor be seen. The Mayor hardly knew what to do but after the lady announced that if they didn't get enough money to leave the city she would have to be taken to the county home, he got busy, deciding that it would be better to get her out rather than have her a charge on the county. In this manner the county commissioners, the city council and the Y. M. C. A. were all touched and pooled their resources to the amount of $25 for spending money and $25 for repairs to the Ford. Thus outfitted, the lady from Lima left Concord with renewed courage and with renewed confidence in her belief that the world did owe her a living and that she was performing her rightful task in collecting it.

Melon Patch Was Too Enticing For Youths.
Salsbury Post.

Three young men of the Langis community, whose ages range from 17 to 26 years, were defendants in the county court this morning on a charge of which many youths have been guilty at some time in their lives, that of being too friendly with the watermelon patch of another. They were caught in the patch of a man on the outskirts of Landis and although several melons had been pulled they failed to get away with them. Judge Coggin said watermelon stealing was not really as bad as other larceny but that nevertheless stealing was stealing, whether it be a diamond or a melon. Judgment was continued twelve months on condition of good behavior and payment of costs.

MRS. SAUVAIN INJURED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Slightly Hurt When Car Fell Off Ten-Foot Embankment at Point on Asheville-Lake Junaluska Road.

Mrs. Edward Sauvain, who is spending some time in western North Carolina, was slightly injured several days ago when the auto in which she was riding from Asheville to Lake Junaluska ran off a ten-foot embankment and turned partially over. Her injuries were very slight and other persons in the car were not hurt at all.

The driver of the car, engaged from an Asheville garage, let the machine slip from the road while trying to fasten securely the catch on one door of the car. The car turned over on one side, but fortunately no glass was broken and with the exception of a slight injury to Mrs. Sauvain's nose, the occupants were not hurt.

In the car with Mrs. Sauvain were her daughter, Elizabeth, and Mrs. Mills and her eight-months-old baby. The baby slipped from its mother's lap when the car turned, slid through one of the open windows and lodged safely between the car and the ground, the top raising the car far enough from the ground to create a pocket into which the child slipped.

The car, a Buick coupe owned by Mrs. Sauvain, was not badly damaged.

At Buckfast Abbey, South Devon a community of Benedictine monks are building an abbey on the site of the old abbey which dates back to 904 A. D. The abbey is sacred to man, and the only woman permitted to enter is the Queen.
