A REAL STATE PROBLEM.

Rocky Mount Telegram. The tenant problem is one which North Carolina must consider...

The problem of excessive tenancy, which is the problem of the landless and homeless country man is not a negro problem...

Illiteracy, which has thrived so well in our state, has contributed its full portion to the creation of the homeless man...

There are one million, two hundred and forty-one thousand citizens of the state who do not own an inch of the ground they cultivate...

Three-fourths of all the farmers in North Carolina are tenants, living from pillar to post...

As Dr. Branson says, the citizenship of the state cannot forget the problem, and this newspaper believes the leaders are not trying to forget it...

Dr. Branson compared the conditions in North Carolina with those in Denmark. "There are," he says, "no problems of illiteracy..."

Dr. Branson says this roving population has created a problem that seems hopeless, but one which no thinking man can forget...

What Figures May Do.

The Pathfinder. Here is a little story often told but it is one that affords much amusement.

A Jewish youth working in a clothing store for another Jew received only a small salary but felt that he should get more.

"Well, this is leap year and there are 366 days," he wrote this "down" "Now, Isaac, you work a third of your time, play a third and sleep the other third. Isn't that so?"

"Yes," replied Isaac. "One third of 366 days is 122 days; this is the time you spend in actual work. Now, there are four legal holidays every year. On those days you do not work, do you?"

"Very well, we will take four days from the 122 days of actual work you do, and that leaves 118 days. All right, Isaac, Jewish people never work on Saturday and there are 32 Saturdays in every year. Take 52 from 118 and you have a remainder of 66 days. Our store is never open on Sunday, Isaac. Subtract that amount from 66, and you have just 14 days left. Now, Isaac, my boy, I am pretty liberal with you. Don't I give you two weeks' vacation every year?"

"Yes," replied Isaac.

"Good. Now you subtract the two weeks, which is just 14 days, from the 14 days you have left and you have nothing. No, Isaac, my boy, you aren't working at all according to this, and don't need a raise. Go back to your work and be content."

When telling the story one should jot down the figures and do all the subtracting so that the listeners can see how well it works out.

The Health-Cost of the Tobacco Habit.

The Progressive Farmer. It just happens that only yesterday I talked with two of the foremost medical authorities in the Southern States. One of them is the medical director of what I believe is the greatest life insurance company in the South.

What the medical director had to say about tobacco came up quite accidentally and unexpectedly and impressed me all the more for that reason.

"Why is it that while we read in the papers almost every day of some man suddenly dropping dead, we very rarely hear of a woman dying suddenly in this fashion?"

The statement is a correct one so far as my observation goes, and so I simply put it up to this famous doctor to give me an explanation.

"In my opinion," he said, "the answer is largely found in the widespread and often excessive use of tobacco by men. A hardening of the arteries is generally found to precede these sudden deaths that we read about, and the tobacco habit is especially liable to promote this hardening of the arteries."

"As a matter of fact, I told a group of college students a short time ago that I could pick out the students who smoked simply by testing their arteries. I have proved my ability to do this on a number of occasions. Unfortunately, some girls now are beginning to smoke also, and I recently tried out the girls in an office building and picked out a few who were smoking simply by this test of the arteries."
