Post and Flag's Cotton Letter. New York, Aug. 10.—The report was hardly a market factor except in so far as the winning figures served to confirm the feeling that the crop is early and that a considerable increase in Hedge selling can properly be expected in the near future and will be difficult to absorb, without concessions in price even if only for a time.

A readjustment between the price of goods and that of raw material is considered essential and is apparently expected to come through a decline in cotton. In that connection, however, the extent of foreign demand will play an important part and there seems no good reason to suppose that that will be on any smaller scale than last season as reliable advice indicate a fairly high degree of prosperity in textile industry abroad. The governments may be broke but the individuals seem to have plenty of money.

Domestic trade requirements may continue on the hand to mouth basis for a time but the grand total will probably be fully up to last season as the country at large was never in a more satisfactory and healthy condition with every indication of a continuation of that condition. Stocks of goods everywhere are light and will have to be frequently replenished.

A crop of thirteen and a half will not meet requirements at this level or below but while it may turn out larger due to later favorable weather. It can also lose further if weather is adverse, and frost comes early. The market acts lower for a time but if bought on a scale down promises ultimately satisfactory results.

Think Zionist Movement Will Fail. (By the Associated Press)

Wilmington, Mass., Aug. 11.—Arab leaders in Palestine have predicted that the Jews will either relinquish their Zionist movement there or be eliminated by a general massacre, Dr. William E. Rappard, of Geneva, a member of the league of nations permanent commission of mandates, said at the institute of politics here today. He was addressing a round table conference on the Mediterranean area.

Ensign Clarence Winecoff, who has been stationed in Boston, is spending several days in the city at the home of his mother, Mrs. Laura Winecoff, on North Union street.

MISSING FARMER HAS NOT BEEN FOUND YET

No Trace Found of N. A. Blackwelder Who Was Last Seen Here Saturday Afternoon. No trace has been found so far of N. A. Blackwelder, Cabarrus county farmer who was last seen on the streets here Saturday afternoon shortly after noon. Relatives have kept up a continual search for Mr. Blackwelder but no word has been received that gave any clue as to his whereabouts.

All thought of foul play has been abandoned by reason of the fact that Mr. Blackwelder was given a seat in the Tennessee car in which he left the city at the suggestion of Sergeant E. F. Widenhouse, of the local police department. Mr. Blackwelder asked Sergeant Widenhouse, who was on duty at the square, about the next bus to Salisbury just as the Tennessee car came along. The driver of the car asked for directions to Salisbury and Sergeant Widenhouse suggested that Mr. Blackwelder be taken along so he could direct the driver. The driver agreed and made room in his car for the farmer.

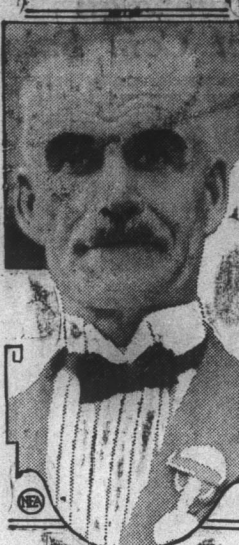

Relatives of Mr. Blackwelder living in High Point have advised local officers that the Cabarrus man has not been to their homes, and so far as they can learn he has not been seen in High Point. Salisbury has been searched and no trace of the man found there.

Mr. Blackwelder had only a small amount of money with him when he left home, relatives say, and for that reason it is believed he cannot get very far without asking for aid. It is thought by relatives that he can be traced easier once it becomes necessary for him to publicly make known his need of food and other necessities.

The belief is expressed by some friends of Mr. Blackwelder that he probably decided to take a trip for pleasure and that he will return home within a few days.
