

Southern Governors Organize Campaign For Confederate Memorial Coin Sale

Governors and accredited representatives of governors of southern states at Stone Mountain July 29, following conference with executive committee of Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association, at which great harvest campaign for the sale of Confederate Memorial Half-Dollars was organized under the direction of the chief executives of the states of the south.

In the group above, taken in front of the great wall of granite on which is being carved the Confederate Memorial, are the following from left to right: H. N. Randolph, president of the Association; General R. A. Sneed, secretary of state of Oklahoma, representing Governor Trapp of that state; A. B. Foster, of the Houston Chronicle, representing Governor Miriam Ferguson of Texas; H. H. Denhardt, lieutenant-governor of Kentucky, representing Governor Field of that state; Governor Thomas G. McLeod of South Carolina; A. S. Caldwell, commissioner of banks of Tennessee, representing Governor Peay of that state; Governor John W. Martin of Florida; Governor W. W. Brandon of Alabama; James J. Bailey, secretary of state of Louisiana, representing Governor Furguson of that state; Governor Henry L. Whitfield of Mississippi; Col. W. L. Peel of Atlanta, member of Association executive committee; General W. B. Freeman of Richmond, commander-in-chief of United Confederate Veterans, representing Governor Trinkle of Virginia; E. W. Martin of Atlanta, uncle of Governor Martin; Robert F. Maddox of Association executive committee; Joseph A. McCord, treasurer of Association.

Each state accepted a quota of the coins to be calculated on the basis of white population and bank deposits and each governor assumed official executive control of the harvest campaign to be conducted in his state, and pledged his people to purchase his state's quota.

A Real Tragedy

Raleigh News and Observer.

It is nothing less than a real tragedy in life disclosed by the recent statement of the widow of Champ Clark, following the death of Bryan. She holds Bryan responsible for the defeat of her husband for President and says Bryan's actions "caused many faithful Democrats to lose communion with God." Naturally the widow shared her husband's view, but it is to be regretted that she felt called upon to revive the old bitterness. The whole world sorrows with the widows of these two great leaders.

Champ Clark, "full of years and honors," died the day before his term of office expired—a long career, ending with election to the speakership and declination of the tender of the senatorship. Bryan was stricken younger in years after a brilliant career. Both missed the presidency and both died honored and beloved by Americans. No reopening of the old sores of the Baltimore convention can add to or detract from either. Both of them followed the right as God gave them to see the right and each in his own way added lustre to American statesmanship.

Sureties Can Surrender Bowman if They Choose

Morganton, August 10.—Solicitor Huffman said tonight that only in the event that Bowman fails to appear for trial in November can the State order his re-arrest. He added that if the sureties on the present bond in the light of what has transpired desires to surrender Bowman they can have him re-arrested. Solicitor Huffman said he understood that the sureties were trying to make the arrest in order to be relieved of the bond.

New Bryan?

The Rev. William Bell Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Minneapolis, is hailed as the successor to William Jennings Bryan as leader of the fundamentalists. At least, Maynard Shipley, president of the Science League of America, so regards him. Rev. Mr. Riley is in Los Angeles now, shaping a fundamentalist campaign there.

Roadway Raised as a Barrier to Guard Crossings

Barricades operated by hydraulic pressure applied by the trains, have been suggested for prevention of accidents at railway crossings. They are to be constructed as triangular platforms elevated from the road level by the weight of the engine and cars, and sink back to a horizontal position when the train has passed. Vivid "Stop" signs on the sides, illuminated at night, would give motorists ample warning at a distance.

Hundred Bolts of Lightning Flash Every Second

According to a London weather-bureau report, there are about 1,800 thunderstorms in progress every minute throughout the world, giving 360,000 lightning flashes an hour or 100 every second. Observations made from 3,000 stations, indicate that the earth experiences 16,000,000 storms of this character each year, about 44,000 daily. At certain posts in tropical countries, during the rainy seasons, distant thunder is such a common occurrence that the observer frequently forgets to enter it in his register.

"Deadliest Ray" Is Reported

Said to be more destructive than any previous invention of its kind, a new death ray discovered by a German has an effective ground range of forty miles and operates to an altitude of more than 45,000 feet. Men and animals are rendered unconscious by the mysterious force of its waves, the paralyzing influence lasting for six hours, according to reports to the department of commerce.

Oil Extracted from Locusts Lubricates Watches

Oil extracted from locusts is being used in South Africa as a substitute for porpoise oil as a lubricant for watches and other delicate mechanisms. The insects are fed into presses which crush them and the resultant oil is refined and allowed to stand for a year. Its quality is then determined by its color, consistency and odor. The solid matter remaining after the oil is extracted, is made into cakes that are used for poultry feed and defray much of the expense of making the oil.

Improvised Electric Stove

When one housewife wanted an electric stove, she took a tin can, 6 in. square and 6 in. high, and cut a slot, 6 in. long and about 1 in. wide, in one side with a can opener. One end was also cut open. The electric flatiron was slipped into the slot with the bottom up, as shown, and the stove was ready for cooking. All kinds of liquids may be kept hot on it, and it has various other uses.

OLD HANDS

The men who drill the deep oil wells, 5,000 feet or more down into the earth, are old hands. They have been drilling wells all their lives, always deeper, always in more inaccessible places. They are experienced in overcoming delays, in avoiding accidents, in getting the job done on time or ahead of it. It is largely due to the efficiency of these men that the motorists of this country can depend on a plentiful supply of power whenever and wherever they want it.

So it is in every department of this company. In the executive offices, in the refineries, in the shipping and marketing departments many of our employees have followed in the footsteps of their fathers, carrying on their work with the accumulated experience of two generations. The result shows in the uniform high quality of "Standard" products. Hundreds of thousands of motorists will testify to it.
