

Cabarrus Versus Bleachers Likely to Be Hot Game.
By JAZZY MOORE
(Special to The Tribune)
Kannapolis, Aug. 13.—The second half of the Twilight League race has simmered down to a battle between the Cabarrus and Bleachers clubs. On Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock these teams will mix it on the Cabarrus diamond. Should the Bleachers, who have heretofore captured the championship consistently, down the Cabarrus, they will stand a good chance to annex the second series honors. But the Bleachers crew fail to win deciding games. Once before they were afforded the opportunity to cop the last half honors by playing the cellar team and were overwhelmingly defeated.

Both clubs are doing their stiffest training preparatory to this supreme test. A lot of interest in the game will be centered in the work of Bub Sullivan, pitcher and apple-seeder on the leftfielder of the Cabarrus who will be the mound for Cabarrus. Mauldin, leading Davidson twirler, will be Manager Ewan's choice to be sent to the hill for the Bleachers.

The lineup for Friday's game will probably be:
Cabarrus
Revis .. First Basemen .. Lapley
Harrison .. Second Basemen .. Lipe
Fowler .. Third Basemen .. Jeyner
Johnson .. Shortstop .. Smith
Brown .. Leftfielder .. L. McCarnes
Gilliam .. Centerfielder .. Troutman
Funderburke Rightfielder H. McCarnes
Ehrd .. Catcher .. Hutton
Sullivan .. Pitcher .. Mauldin
Parker Pitches Bleachers to Another Victory.

Bleachers, playing a fast fielding game behind the superb pitching of "Red" Parker, shutout the Midway Ramblers 3 to 0. Not a Midway man reached third base.
Midway .. 000 000 0-0 4 2
Bleachers .. 020 001 x-4 7 1
Walters and Smith; Parker and Hutton.

Cabarrus Win Over Cannon.
Smoky Johnson, veteran of many brilliant campaigns, was in wonderful form yesterday afternoon and he turned back the Cannons by the score of 2 to 1, and allowing no runs or hits until the sixth milepost. Only two infield bingles were collected from his delivery during the entire route. Fields for the Cannons pitched exceptionally good ball, but an extra base tap by Funderburke gathered from his slants, cost him the game.
Cannon .. 000 001 0-1 2 1
Cabarrus .. 000 101 x-2 5 1
Fields and Williams; Johnson and Ehrd.

STATE BUS OWNERS TO RESIST RECENT ORDER

Hester Claims Dixie Lines Received Preference On Charlotte-Greensboro Run.
Charlotte, Aug. 12.—The recent order of the state corporation commission, effective yesterday, under which two of the bus lines operating between Greensboro and Charlotte were ordered off the road will be strenuously resisted, according to John W. Hester, of Oxford, attorney for the North Carolina Bus Owners association, who says that the older companies were treated unfairly by the commission.
Mr. Hester, in a formal statement, said that the bus owners association would continue to press the case before the commission until a more equitable solution of the problem is reached.

In the commission's order of last Saturday the Dixie lines, one of the last to enter the Greensboro-Charlotte field, was said to have been given the second best choice.
At a meeting here last night of the State Bus Owners association, a grievance committee was named with S. R. Ellis, of Charlotte, chairman, and the following members: L. A. Love, Charlotte; R. O. Walters, Concord, and Joel W. Wright, Gastonia.

POU ADMITS AN ERROR IN RECENT STATEMENT

Was Wrong About Coffee Being Given to State Prisoners.

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—In a statement issued here, George Ross POU, superintendent of the State's prison, said that he had made an error in issuing a statement to the Associated Press last Thursday in which it was said that during his administration "prisoners have been given coffee, sugar and smoking tobacco, which they did not have in any previous administration." In his statement just issued, Mr. POU admitted that coffee had been furnished prisoners under superintendents who preceded him and said he made the correction "desiring the public to have only the actual facts" and "in justice to former superintendents."

Mr. POU's statement of last Thursday, he said, was written by a newspaper man. He relieved the Associated Press of any responsibility for the errors when he added: "The Associated Press representative did not write the article for me."
Following publication of the article last week, J. R. Collier, former superintendent of the State's prison; S. J. Busbee, former warden; Mrs. T. P. Sale, widow of a former warden, and Frank Gough, of Lumberton, and A. E. Smith, of Mount Airy, former directors of the institutions, issued statements, in which they declared Superintendent POU was in error with regard to what was furnished prisoners during previous administrations. These statements mentioned "coffee," "sugar" and "tobacco" as having been given to the prisoners in previous administrations. Mr. POU's statement in regard to this, did not mention "sugar" and "tobacco," though the superintendent stated informally that he was "making investigation" of past accounts with reference to "sugar" being furnished prisoners.

The text of Mr. POU's statement relating to his former statement follows:
"The statement recently issued to the Associated Press by me stated among other things that coffee was furnished prisoners for the first time during my administration. This statement was prepared for the press by a newspaper man who obtained his information from me. I did not go over the statement carefully when presented to me and did not notice that it included coffee. The statement that coffee was furnished prisoners for the first time during my administration was erroneous and, desiring the public to have only the actual facts, I make this correction in justice to former superintendents. This error was discovered by me Sunday. "The Associated Press representative did not write the article for me."

It has been estimated that about one-fifth the population of the United States attends the movies each day. The amount of admissions in one single year totaled $900,000,000.

BUTLER SOON TO QUIT

The Pathfinder.

General Butler is resigned to going back to the Marine corps. A leave of absence permitting him to serve as director of public safety for Philadelphia will expire this year, and President Coolidge is not inclined to grant further extension. In fact, in allowing Butler's last application the President expressed disapproval of any city taking men from the service, and plainly indicated that he would not honor further requests. The chief executive thinks Philadelphia should be able to find an energetic police head and general "clean-up" man in its large population.
It is known that Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, whose term as governor is expiring, would be pleased to have Butler seek his office, but according to the general: "This rumor about my running for governor is not worth denial. I will not run for public office."

When Butler reports back to the Marines after an absence of two years he will not be entitled to another vacation for 24 years. His stay in the Quaker City has used up his leave for that period of time.
The general deprecates the part politics plays in law enforcement. He speaks from experience:
"It is not the fight with crime and vice which wears out the police and takes their energies, but it is the fight against political influence—social influence and the influence of wealth. The laws which have been written are not what the people meant. When they passed a law to enforce prohibition they passed one which it was almost impossible to enforce."
"This by rights should have been a law which empowered us to seize liquor wherever found. As it is, we must buy liquor in a place before we can obtain a warrant to seize it."
"When a bootlegger is caught he has the means to employ a fine array of legal talents, whereas the forces of law and order are represented by a bunch of $5-a-day cops. The people will have to wake up. They will have to make up their minds whether or not they want prohibition. If they don't want it, let them repeal the law. Otherwise they are going to debauch the race."

Thieves Oddly Betrayed.

Is a black cat unlucky?
Ask William Fitchell, he knows!
William, Kansas City police says, was discovered in the act of robbing the home of Austin Diestelhorst. He fled on the approach of the officers. But the house pet, a black cat, led the police to the close in which William was hiding.
Two men held up a clerk in a cigar store on lower Broadway, New York. After placing him in a closet, they started to rifle the cash register. Just then a customer came and ordered a particular brand of cigarettes. The robbers, posing as clerks, gave him too much change and the man's suspicions were aroused. About that time the clerk freed himself and gave the alarm. The thieves were captured.

HOLMES RAISED BID ON FISHERIES PLANT

Wilmington Speculates on Possibility of Royster Fertilizer Company Being Interested.

Wilmington, Aug. 12.—Speculation as to whether Royster Fertilizer company, of Norfolk, Va., was represented by Owen D. Holmes yesterday in raising the B. F. Keith-Davis-H. Scott bid on the Hilton plant of the Fisheries Products company today evoked no statement from Mr. Holmes.
Mr. Holmes, a member of Holmes and Taylor, fertilizer brokers, declined to answer any questions propounded on the proposition, stating that he would make his statement only when the sale was confirmed. Replying to a direct question as to whether he was representing Thomas H. Hayes, president of the defunct concern, Mr. Holmes said that he had no statement to make.
The Holmes's bid was for $48,703 or two per cent above the bid made by R. F. Keith at the auction sale Monday which was conducted by Judge W. H. Neal, of Laurinburg, one of the North Carolina main receivers.
Whether or not the Holmes bid will be confirmed by Judge Isaac M. McKinley, of the United States district court of east Carolina, remains to be seen.

Bananas Agreed With Him.

Starting out 33 years ago with a 25-cent bunch of bananas a Greek immigrant has built up in New York a profitable confectionery business. But he has not hoarded his money to retire to his native land as so many other immigrants have done. Nor has he bought big apartment houses or office buildings to the tune of millions of dollars. He has done something more worth while with his money.
He distributes his year's profits among charitable institutions and his needy neighbors—after the actual wants of his wife and seven children have been provided for. This year his profits will enable him to give three truckloads of gifts to 25 charitable institutions, to distribute 1,000 boxes of candy and to give a seven-day party to everybody in his block, with music, dancing and refreshments. Besides this he sends money to Greece to support 100 orphanages he has adopted.

Among the many things that Japan borrowed from China was football, said to have been introduced as early as the middle of the seventh century. Emperor Toha II. was an expert player and got up a club at his palace. The beginning of professionalism may be traced to an emperor and his court, of whom it is told that in a time of poverty they earned a little extra money by teaching the art of football.

Same Fine Studebaker Coach —but at a new low One-Profit price

BECAUSE all Studebaker cars are manufactured on the one-profit basis, we have been able to reduce the price of the Standard Six Coach without sacrificing any of the equipment or quality which made it a big seller at a higher price.
Scientific design, better materials, and finer workmanship distinguish it. And the following self-evident superiorities make it more up-to-date than the newest "yearly models":
Excess Power—According to the rating of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce this is the most powerful car of its size and weight.
Abundant Room—Room to stretch your legs—room to enter or leave without disturbing occupant of folding seat.
Sturdy Body Construction—Fine northern ash and hard maple are used. We pay a premium to get the best quality steel.
Full-size Balloon Tires—for which the steering gear, fenders and even the body lines are specially designed.
Automatic Spark Control—eliminating the usual spark lever on steering wheel.
Safety Lighting Control—on the steering wheel.
Instruments—including 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, speedometer, oil-pressure gauge and ammeter, in single grouping under glass, on beautiful silver-faced dial.
Improved One-piece Windshield—automatic windshield cleaner, weather-proof visor, rear-view mirror, cowl lights and cowl ventilator.
Coincidental Lock—to ignition and steering wheel, which serves to reduce the theft insurance rate on Studebaker cars.
New-type Cowl Ventilator—foot operated.
There are only two cars manufactured on the one-profit basis—the Studebaker in the fine-car field, and the Ford in the low-price field. Only in these two cases does one company in its own plants and with its own centralized organization make all bodies, all engines, all clutches, steering gears, differentials, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings, and drop gears.
Studebaker has no "yearly models," but instead keeps its cars constantly up to date. Therefore this Standard Six Coach is ahead of the newest "yearly model," yet owners are protected from the artificial depreciation which has cost millions of dollars from the resale value of many makes during the past 30 days.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

American Youth and Religion.
Dearborn Independent.
The United States offers a fresh religious field, in that millions of her citizens are as ignorant of Christianity as any jungle dwellers are. It is not entirely a disadvantage. When religious teachers are reduced to repeating the same old sayings to people who know beforehand what is coming, the result is deadness. When, however, religious teachers are faced with the task of winning a Christian nation back to an understanding of Christianity, the challenge is heroic and the possibilities are great. Teaching gets a meaning under such conditions.
Dean Walter S. Athern, in his recent book, "Character Building in a Democracy," discusses the general question of religious or ethical education from a very evidently wide experience, and together with excellent counsel gives some very startling statistics.
He says that there are over 27,000,000 American children, nominally Protestant, who receive no religious instruction whatever, who are unattached to church or Sunday school. He says there are 8,000,000 American children, nominally Protestant, under ten years of age, who are growing up in homes that have no contact with the church.
Of the 8,676,000 Catholic youth of the country, under 25 years of age, he says that only 1,870,000 are in religious schools, although in these figures it must be considered that most of the others received religious training and instruction previous to their confirmation. Still, his figures show 6,806,000 who forsake instruction through middle and later adolescence.
There are 1,635,000 Jewish youth under 25 years of age, of whom only 87,000 are in religious schools, and 1,548,000 are not.
He thus concludes that nineteen out of twenty Jewish youth under 25 years receive no religious education; three out of four Catholic youth under 25 are receiving no religious education; and two out of three Protestant youth of the same age group receive no formal instruction.
On the whole, it means that seven out of ten of the youth of the United States are untouched by organized religious instruction.
Of course, the figures are not all one-sided. There are 15,000,000 youth enrolled in the Sunday schools of one religious group alone. But none the less the adverse figures are impressive, especially when laid alongside those which show that the bulk of the crime is committed by youth under 25.
Is it the fault of the young people? Is it the fault of the church? Is it the fault of the method of instruction? Is there lack of reality in the kind of religion offered? Surely a truth that is true and vital should have resources of strength within itself to make its way to men's minds.

"I'LL TELL THE WORLD THIS KARNAK IS GOOD"

"When a Medicine Steps in and Wipes Out a Four-Year Case of Stomach Trouble Like Karnak Did For Me, It's Bound To Be the Real Thing," Says Charlotte Man.

"When Karnak can step in and wipe out a case of stomach trouble that kept me in misery for years, like it has done, I'll tell the world it's some medicine," declared T. E. Atkinson, well known proprietor of a popular barber shop at 16 Bruns Ave., Seaveville, a suburb of Charlotte.
"If anybody ever suffered more from indigestion and gastritis, I surely feel sorry for them," he continues. "Why, after every meal I had such awful pains in my stomach I could hardly stand up straight. Gas pressed around my heart until I could hardly get my breath, and my stomach felt sore as a boil."
