

BUCK'S OIL RANGE

Built-in oven, with glass door and heat indicator. White enameled high shelf. Three big giant burners do the work of five. This is not a common oil stove but an Oil Range built like a gas range. Looks like a gas range and burns common coal oil, costing less than half as much to operate. Let us demonstrate this range to you.

LOCAL MENTION

Miss Lillian Batte has had an operation performed for the removal of her tonsils and adenoids.

Mrs. Elam King entered the Charlotte Sanatorium Tuesday, where she will undergo treatment.

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a meeting tonight at the Y. All members are asked to be present.

Mrs. Amos Davis, of Winstboro, S. C., arrived in the city Tuesday night to attend the funeral of Vadry Brown, her brother.

According to a deed filed yesterday F. W. Glass has sold to Lizzie and Odessa Atwell property in Petersburg, a Kannapolis suburb, for $200.

Mrs. A. M. Turner, who has been ill for some time at her home on North Church street, is still reported as being in a serious condition.

Misses Jennie and Kate Smith and Capt. Q. E. Smith today moved from the apartment over the Concord and Kannapolis Gas office to the R. O. S. Miller house on South Union street.

J. C. Wadsworth, Jr., is able to be out again following a recent operation for appendicitis. He has not yet resumed his duties with the Gibson Drug Store as he has not fully recuperated from the effects of the operation.

James Shaw, who was injured Wednesday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. M. L. Marsh, was little improved today. It was said that he passed a very restless night. He had his left leg broken just above the ankle.

Mrs. P. L. Barringer, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Barringer and little son, Harold Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barringer and daughter, Helen, Miss Pearl Ross and Dennis Barringer, of Mt. Pleasant, attended the camp meeting at Bethel Sunday.

Manager Basinger of the Gibson Mill baseball team, carried his team to Cooleemee this afternoon for a game with the team of that town. The Cooleemee team defeated the locals here several weeks ago and the Gibson team is out for revenge today.

No session of the city police court was held yesterday afternoon. Two defendants charged with speeding forfeited their bonds, making it unnecessary for a session of the court to be held. Officers this morning reported no new cases of importance during the past two days.

J. H. Brown, county welfare officer, is showing improvement now from an illness which began last week. Mr. Brown became ill while at the county jail on business and his condition for several days was rather serious although he has responded nicely to treatment this week.

The whereabouts of N. A. Blackwelder, who disappeared last Saturday, continue to be a mystery to relatives of this county. So far as is known here no word has been received from Mr. Blackwelder since he left here last Saturday afternoon in a car bearing a Tennessee license.

A heavy rain fell in Mt. Pleasant last night but there was no wind or hail with it. Persons living in Mt. Pleasant state that the wind and hail seem to have gone no nearer their home than Big Cold Water Creek. Corn along the creek was damaged by wind and hail, they report.

Pittsburgh strengthened its lead in the National League yesterday by defeating New York again while Brooklyn was defeating Cincinnati. In the American League Philadelphia won again from St. Louis, increasing its lead while Washington was idle. New York won from Chicago and Boston defeated Detroit.

A number of local golfers, headed by T. D. Maness, president of the Cabarrus County Country Club, went to Lexington this afternoon to take part in a golf tournament. The Salisbury Country Club will be represented in the tournament also, the tournament to be the first staged at the Lexington club course.

SEVERE ELECTRICAL AND WIND STORM IN CITY

On Loan street a power line pole was practically blown from its foundation and wires from the pole ignited a tree, necessitating a call for the fire department. This street was covered with debris after the storm.

A chimney on the house occupied by J. T. Fisher on East Depot street was demolished by the wind as was a chimney on the house on the same street occupied by Mrs. Patterson, D. F. Widhorne, federal dry agent, stopped to look at the latter chimney and while doing so saw the wind snatch part of the roof from the porch of his own home.

Lightning struck a fuse at the home of Mrs. Ethel Griffin Black, on South Union street, ran down the fuse and left its mark in the shape of a badly twisted stove-pipe. No one in the home was injured.

Near the White-Parks Mill a house under construction was partially covered with an old sign. The wind snatched the sign in its grip and hurled it against the home of Leonard Barnhardt, smashing several boards on the house and completely shattering several window panes.

Several window panes were blown from the Lents house on North Church street and Mrs. Lindsey Ross, who occupies the house, reported that her front porch furniture was swept from one side of the porch to the other as though it were straw.

A number of telephones in all parts of the city were put out of commission and falling trees did so much damage to power lines that the city was in darkness for about two hours. Every available man was put to work on the lines and with the exception of a few homes the entire power service has been in operation today.

The Concord Telephone Co. put a large force to work as soon as the storm was over and most of the 'phones damaged by the storm were in operation again at an early hour this morning.

Hall fell in some parts of the city and county, carrying damage to the growing crops.

R. C. Benfield, superintendent of the street forces of the city, put his gang to work clearing the streets as soon as the storm abated. Several trees which blocked traffic were cleared away last night and others were removed early this morning.

At the office of the Water & Light Board, it was reported that interrupted service represented the greatest damage done to the power service of the city. It is impossible yet to estimate the material damage, it was reported.

On a vacant lot at the intersection of Barbrick and Spring streets a five-panel board of the Dixie Poster Co. was blown down and an adjoining sign was almost toppled by the wind. Jesse McClellan reports that on East Depot street a number of English sparrows were killed by hail during the storm. A number of youngsters who live on the street were seen walking around with their hands full of the sparrows which had been killed while roosting in trees.

The lightning struck the power line extending to the water pump station, the line being struck at a point near the station. For this reason the pumps in the station could not be operated and a water shortage in the reservoirs was feared. However, this line was repaired immediately, so the pumps could resume work.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cannon on North Union street, lightning struck the side of the house and set fire to a place on the wall of the sitting room. Almost immediately afterward the flames were extinguished and no call was put in at the fire department.
