IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

MRS. DILGER COMES TO SEE FAMILY IN CITY

Visited Daughter at Home of Welfare Officer and Husband in the County Jail.

Mrs. William Dilger, whose husband is in the county jail faced with a 90-day chain gang sentence, and whose daughter, June, is being cared for by J. H. Brown, county welfare officer, came to Concord Monday to see her family. She made the trip by auto with a male friend and left after spending several hours here to return to Durham, where at present she is making her home.

Mrs. Dilger went first to the home of Mr. Brown, where she saw her daughter who came here with Dilger and apparently was his only means of livelihood. Mother and daughter were joyous at the reunion, it is said, with Mrs. Dilger crying much at the outset but later becoming quieter. From the Brown home the woman was taken to the jail to see her husband. There, too, she was inclined to cry much at first, but later became calmer.

Mrs. Dilger told Mr. Brown she wanted to take June back with her, but the welfare officer would not agree. He has not been convinced that Mrs. Dilger lives in the proper atmosphere for a four-year-old child since he has been told that she spends most of her time with a road show.

It was said Dilger told his wife to leave June with Mr. Brown. He is also said to have cautioned her against talking. "Remember you are my wife," he is said to have told her, "and they can't make you talk."

Jane was glad to see her mother, but after the latter was gone the child seemed perfectly happy. She has been away from Mrs. Dilger most of the time recently, officers here have been told, and that probably accounts for the complacent manner in which she viewed the going of her mother.

Mr. Brown intends to keep June for the present and later may try to find a home for her here.

KANNAPOLIS TO MEET FAYETTEVILLE TEAM

Two Nines Clash in Seven-Game Series to Decide Amateur Championship for State.

Kannapolis and Fayetteville will be the center of attraction this week when the two baseball teams meet in a series that is to determine the championship of the state in amateur circles.

The series may run to seven games. The winner will be the first team taking four games and as soon as this number of contests is won, the series will be terminated.

Fayetteville draws the first two tilts. Today and tomorrow will see the nines engaged in their initial contests. On Thursday, both will journey back to the Piedmont section and will play in the towel city Friday and Saturday. If extra games are needed to decide a four-game winner, they will be played on neutral territory.

It is stated by the management of the Fayetteville Highlanders that Felix Hayman has agreed to let the two teams use his Charlotte park for all such games. If Felix cannot let them use his lot, another in this section will be secured.

Strictly amateur ball will be played. Neither team will be allowed to use players who are at present playing for a league team.

Both Fayetteville and Kannapolis have enviable records, each having crushed other teams throughout the state by scores which were often top-heavy. Neither has opposition to its championship claims in its own section.

In the meet between the two teams two weeks ago, a tie resulted. Fayetteville made it three victories over Kannapolis in the Eastern city while Kannapolis did exactly the same thing when they returned to the Piedmont.

Both teams are strong. Kannapolis is particularly efficient in knocking the props from under opposing pitchers. The team is composed of sluggers who make life miserable for most opposing hurlers. In the series against Fayetteville at Kannapolis, a total of 40 runs were scored to the advantage of Kannapolis.

Biggest staff, Spartanburg outfielder, who played with Gibson last week, will take Homer Fink's position in centerfield, owing to the latter's inability to leave Concord. Biggest staff is especially strong in batting. Farrell, a former Carolina league player, has been secured though it is not known just where he will play.

Pitchers for the first two contests will be Shoaf, acquired from Salisbury; Culp, Charlotte sandlot hurler, and Gates, Concord player. Householder accompanied the team but will be unable to do any work owing to injuries received Saturday.

All the choirs rendered good music in a very commendable manner. The program was interspersed with good addresses by different ministers of the various churches represented, also by one of the laymen from the Mooresville Lutheran Church.

The convention was a success in every way from start to finish, rendering praises to the Lord most high. Late in the afternoon the convention adjourned to meet with Mt. Hope Reformed Church fifth Sunday in November, 1925.

Sea Scenes in "Another Man's Wife" Are Thrillingly and Realistically Presented.

Shipwrecks have been favorite features of pictures made in 1925 but disasters at sea, like train wrecks on land, have identities, happenings and adventures that are all their own. For this reason one shipwreck scene may be as different from another as it is possible to be where one object must be the vehicle of the realism and action.

One of the most vivid, realistic and stupendous shipwrecks ever filmed is portrayed in "Another Man's Wife," the Producers Distributing Corporation's release now playing at the Concord Theatre.

A giant passenger liner, feeling its way through a dense fog off the Lower California coast, runs down a tug towing the barge of a liquor smuggler, leaving the latter craft to drift helplessly over the heaving waters of the Pacific.

Passengers in a wild panic, stokers battling in the hold, officers fighting back the terrorized as pistol wave and flash, the overturning of a life-boat, the leap of survivors into the foaming billows, their struggles with the waves and the escape of the heroine, Helen Brand (Lila Lee) and her protector, Phillip Cochran (M. A. T. Moore), furnish some of the heart-thrilling action that accompanies the wreck scene in "Another Man's Wife," a story of love, jealousy, passion, intrigue and adventure.

James Kirkwood is featured in the masculine lead of John Brand, and Wallace Beery, the screen's famous Richard Cœur de Lion, as the captain of the rum-running barge on which the wreck survivors find refuge. Others in the cast are Kate Price, Russell Powell, Donald MacDonald, Chester Conklin, Ralph Yearsley, Fred Kohler and Zena Keefe.

Brown Pitches Great Game.

The Mt. Pleasant team crossed bats with the Jackson Training School boys last Saturday and was defeated by the score of 9 to 7.

After getting a bad start in the first inning, Charley Brown gave the best pitching exhibition that has been seen on the school ground in several years. Brown had some difficulty in getting warmed up and could not locate the plate. Two bases on balls and an error filled the bases for the visitors and a home run by W. Almond netted four runs. From that time the visitors were helpless before Brown's masterly twirling, scoring one run in the third inning, and were retired in order during the remainder of the game. Brown caused eighteen of the Mt. Pleasant boys to strike out, five of them in succession.

The local boys kept pegging away until in the sixth inning, Jim Poplin's home run with one on base tied the score at five-all. In the eighth inning an error and two hits gave the school boys two more runs and the game.

Liver Trouble Now a Known Cause of Premature Old Age

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's processes. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians know that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Salty skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original, genuine package. Test Dioxol free. Mail this coupon now.
