Miss Pearl Blackwelder held high score and was given a lovely cream pitcher, while Miss Kathryn Bostian, who held low, was given a lovely towel. The hostess, then presented the honoree, with a lovely cut-glass fruit bowl.

Blackwelder-Miller Wedding.

In a ceremony characterized by beauty and charming simplicity, Miss Annelle Miller, of this city, and Mr. Smoot Blackwelder, of Salisbury, N. C., were wedded Sunday evening at McKinnon Presbyterian Church, about 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Robert Arwood, pastor of the bride, officiating. The altar was grouped with stately ferns, interspersed with white roses and flanked with branched cathedral candlesticks, holding lighted tapers, forming a beautiful setting for the impressive ceremony.

The wedding music was rendered by Miss Nell Utley, "Traumerei" being played before the ceremony. Miss Utley wore a handsome pink crepe dress trimmed with black pan velvet. She also wore a large black pan velvet hat. At the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," Miss Margie Miller, maid-of-honor and sister of the bride, entered with her sister on the left aisle. The bride was beautiful in an ensemble suit of cocoa pique seen with accessories to match. Her coronet was a tiara of white and pink roses and hair fern.

The maid-of-honor was lovely in a gown of Nile green georgette with lace trimmings over pink. She wore a large black pan velvet picture hat interlined with pink. Her arm bouquet was of radiance roses and pink asters.

The groom, with his best man, Mr. Dock Roland, entered on the right aisle, meeting the bride and maid-of-honor at the altar, where the impressive vows were spoken.

Little Sarah Crooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crooks, was the pretty little ring bearer. She was dressed in blue crepe trimmed with lace, and carried a large lily in which rested the ring.

Mr. C. A. Henry acted as usher. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwelder left for a trip to the mountains of Western North Carolina.

The bride is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller, of this city. She is exceptionally pretty and is attractive, and is admired by a wide circle of friends. Since her announcement, she has been accorded a round of delightful parties and showers.

The groom is the son of Mrs. D. Overcash, of Mooresville. He is a young man with sterling qualities and splendid business ability, and holds a position with Kennedy & Co., of Salisbury, N. C. He commands many friends here and elsewhere in the state.

On the return honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwelder will be at their home in Salisbury.

Hottest Since 1900.
Lumberton, Sept. 4.—Today was the hottest day in Lumberton since August, 1906, according to B. M. Davis, local weather man, whose thermometer registered 104 degrees. Slight breezes in the afternoon felt like they were sent on wings of fire.

The first national forecasting service was established in France in 1855.

HOMER FINK WINS WATCH AS MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Kannapolis Team Disbands—Owl and Hodge Leave for Lenoir-Rhyne to Enter School.

With the ending of the Kannapolis baseball season the players who have been spending their summer in the Cabarrus city are leaving for their respective schools and homes, where they will begin their winter work.

The contest, conducted by Willeford's jewelry store for the purpose of deciding which player the fans thought was the most valuable, has been concluded and Homer Fink has been awarded the watch as a token of his worth.

Fink plays centerfield and is one of the heaviest hitters on the team. His home run hitting ability is unquestioned and his fielding is fast and accurate. On the bases he is daring and one of his most spectacular feats is to steal home on the unwarmed pitcher. Fink received 167 votes in the contest.

Second place went to Russell Lee, left fielder, who is also a good hitter and fielder. Third place went to Catcher McClain.

Among the players leaving today, Owl and Hodge left for Lenoir-Rhyne where they will attend school this year. Owl is a football player of note, having played for the University of Oklahoma. He is expected to secure a berth on the Lutheran eleven this fall.

Hodge, whose home is in Salisbury, is also returning to school after several years' absence. He has been teaching in Cleveland high school. In addition to being an excellent baseball player he is a flash on the basketball floor and will probably play center on the team there this year.

Saunders, another collegian, is returning to Duke and will be in a position to occupy a place on the baseball team at third base again next year.

Holshouser will return to the University of North Carolina and the other members of the team will return to their respective homes.

CITY SCHOOLS OPENED THIS MORNING HERE

Enrollment of White Pupils Was 1,872—Eighth Grade Increases to 122 Pupils.

Concord city schools opened this morning with an enrollment of 1,872 pupils in the white schools of the city, a number but very little increased from last year's enrollment. Figures on the number attending the colored schools in the city were not available.

Simple chapel exercises were held in each of the schools and immediately afterward the pupils were sent to their respective rooms where preparations were made for the scheduling of classes and lessons were assigned in most cases.

Practically all the students were permitted to leave before noon, the work of assignment having been completed. Figures, as given out by Superintendent A. S. Webb this morning, were as follows:

- Central Primary School—351.
- Central Grammar School—406.
- Grammar School No. 2—580.
- Corbin Street School—163.
- High School, eighth grade 188, ninth grade 95, tenth grade 89, eleventh grade 72.
- Total High School, 372.
- Total all schools—1,872.

The only department in which there was an unexpected increase was in the eighth grade of the high school in which a number far in excess of last year's seventh grade graduates enrolled. The graduates from grammar schools numbered only eighty while there were 122 enrolled in the eighth grade.

DRESS DESIGNING FOR WOMEN AT COUNTY FAIR

Prizes Offered by Banks of City for the Best Afternoon and Street Costumes Offered.

The contest is open only to women of this county. Two costumes may be entered by each contestant, an afternoon dress and a street dress and each of the costumes must be worn by the woman entering it.

Every dress must be designed and made by the exhibitor. Prizes are to be given by the Concord banks for the best costumes offered.

Parks-Belk to Open Two Stores Soon.

On September 11th Parks-Belk will open a store in the Swearingen building at China Grove and in East Kannapolis they will have a handsome new building erected for them. Both stores will carry a complete line of merchandise including house furnishings and groceries.

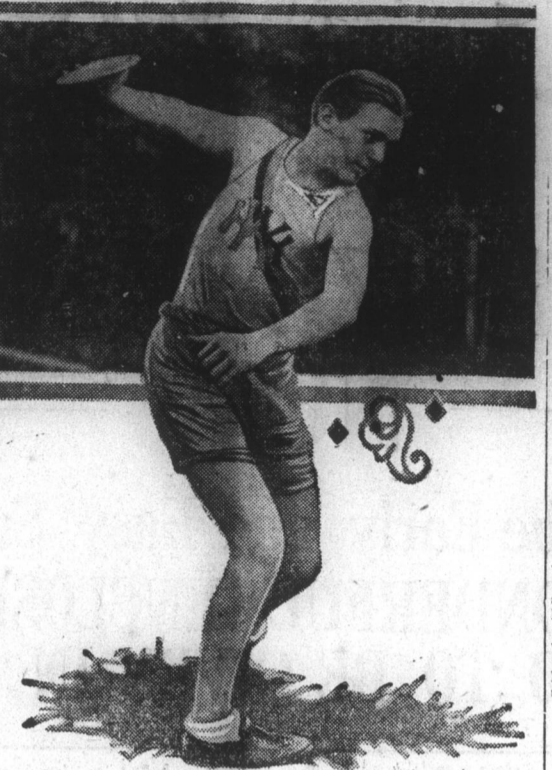

C. P. McKinley, who for some years has been assistant manager of the Kannapolis store, will have charge of the China Grove store, while in the East Kannapolis store the manager will be Claud Goodnight, who has been with the same firm for some time. The two men are young but experienced in merchandising and will be expected to make distinct successes.

Slump in Prices on Eastern Tobacco Markets.

Lumberton, Sept. 5.—Lumberton's auction tobacco market has closed a very successful week, although averages show that the big slump in prices which was felt so keenly on the eastern North Carolina markets also left its impression here. During the week 650,952 pounds were sold here for the sum of $94,828.65, an average of $14.75. The largest quantity of inferior types were offered than during any week this season, but the reduction in price on better grades was very noticeable.

But Don't Get Hard.
Percy, "Pardon me, but do you serve hard-boiled eggs?"
Waitress: "Sure thing, old dear, as long as they behave themselves."

MIGHT LOOK LIKE IT—BUT HE'S NOT THROWING PIES

LOOKS like the young man in the photo might be practicing throwing pies for a slapstick comedy, doesn't it? But he isn't. He's throwing whatever it is that athletes throw when they are in that position.

It's none other than Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who plays an important role in the Paramount picture, "Wild Horse Mesa," by Zane Grey. It's Doug, Jr.'s, way of keeping fit.

WORK STARTED ON PAINTING Y. M. C. A.

Building to Be Closed for a Week or ten Days While Repairs Are Being Made.

Work has been begun at the Y. M. C. A. on repairs which will necessitate the Y being closed during the next week or ten days.

The entire force at the Y has changed its vocation and will take positions as painters during the next few days. The paper was being scraped from the walls downstairs this morning preparatory to having a squad of paper-hangers cover the walls.

In the upstairs, all the walls will be repainted and the showers will be gone over. The gymnasium will also receive work, the floor being scraped and waxed again.

In addition to the painting which the Y employees will do downstairs, they are planning to give all the exterior wood work a coat or two of fresh paint.

A colored man was whitewashing a fence. A passerby stood and watched him awhile and asked him: "Sam, why don't you get a brush with more bristles in it?"

"Wha' fer?" replied the aged and contented worker.

"Why—if you had a good brush you could do twice as much work."

"Yeh, but ah ain't got twice as much work to do!"

"What kind of a fellow is he, anyway?"

"Well, he is the kind who won't set his shoes under his berth when he is sleeping on a Pullman."

"Because he is afraid somebody will steal them?"

"No, because he is afraid he will have to pay the porter for shining them."
