Koogle: "Why was it that Bertha Vericute refused to marry Jim De-trop, when it was so obvious that they were deeply in love with each other?"

In his announcement on a Sunday morning the minister regretted that money had been coming in fast enough—but he was no pessimist.

"We have tried," he said, "to raise the necessary money in the usual manner. We have tried honestly. Now we are going to see what a bazzar can do."

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The present Senate is so evenly divided that the outcome of the Brookhart-Steck contest for one of the Iowa seats has a lot more importance than such a fight ordinarily has, and they always are pretty important.

"Originally Brookhart" was supposed to have won by a small majority. The Senate committee's report, recently finished, wiped out the margin and gave to Brookhart a bigger advantage than Brookhart was thought to have had.

However, this is on the basis of uncontested ballots. There are enough contested ones either to increase Steck's lead or to throw victory Brookhart's way again, depending on how they're counted.

IT will be up to the Senate, when Congress reconvenes, to decide about the contested votes. What it does decide will determine whether Smith W. Brookhart or Daniel F. Steck shall represent Iowa in the upper House for the next six years.

A few commentators have been so unsophisticated as to suggest that it's a matter for the "intent" of the Iowans' ballots, not the Senate, to settle.

Ah, but the controversy has passed out of the Iowans' hands now and into the Senate's. Little enough the Iowans will have to say about it hereafter.

THE Senate, then, will choose between Brookhart and Steck. Normally the Republicans would vote for the Republican candidate and the Democrats for the Democrat, but this contest is peculiar.

Nominally a Republican, Brookhart was so unmanageable in the last Congress that the regular Republicans would prefer the Democrat, Steck—unless Brookhart means to "be good" in future.

Some say he does, if the Republicans will vote to seat him. Doubtless they will, assuming he's tamed. It wasn't because they liked Steck, it was because they hated Brookhart's insubordination, that there was any talk of Republican support of the former.

ONE-NINTH OF DEATHS CAUSED BY HEART DISEASE

Deaths From This Cause Increased More Than 60 Per Cent. From 1922 to 1924.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 8.—(P)—One-ninth of all the people who died in North Carolina during the year 1924 died as a result of heart disease. And deaths from diseases of the heart increased by more than 60 per cent. from 1922 to 1924.

And diseases of the heart cause more deaths in this state than any other disease, pneumonia in all forms coming second.

Figures compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health show the various causes of death in this state. The figures show a total of 33,234 deaths in the State during the year 1924. Of this number 3,667 deaths were the result of heart diseases. And deaths from heart diseases increased from 2,887 in 1922 to 3,261—an increase of a little over 60 per cent.—in 1924.

Pneumonia is an easy second as a cause of death, with a total of 2,925 deaths charged to that disease in all its forms in 1924. This is an increase of 187 over 1922.

Deaths to the number of 2,694 occurred during the year in which the cause was "not specified or ill-defined."

The next highest cause of death, the bureau's figures show, is pulmonary tuberculosis, with 2,642 deaths last year from that cause.

Next comes 2,267 deaths resulting from cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy, and that is followed, in the order of numbers, by diseases of the kidneys which are charged with 1,874 deaths during the year.

Other death causes, listed in the order of the numbers who died as a result of their ravages last year follow:

Premature birth and injury at birth, 1,846; diphtheria and enteritis under two years of age, 1,484; accidents of all kinds, 1,413; cancer, 1,289; influenza, 757; and paralysis without specified cause, 624.

These are the only causes which took more than 500 lives, each, during the year, the bureau's figures show. The figures do not include deaths under one year of age, however. More infants, under a year old, die each year than from any of the causes mentioned.

The figures show an increase in both homicides and suicides. The figures for homicides climbed from 256 in 1922 to 299 in 1924, which those who took their own lives number 103 in 1922 as compared with 108 last

AVENUE OF TREES

To Be Planted as Memorial to Boys Who Lost Lives in World War.

Hickory, N. C., Sept. 8.—An avenue of trees along the state highway in Catawba county, connecting with Burke and Lincoln counties, will be planted by the women of the third district of the State Federation of Women's clubs as a memorial to the boys who lost their lives during the World War.

The work will begin this fall in Catawba county, which was the first to have the hard-surfaced road completed, and will extend through the other counties of the district as soon as the roads are finished.

The idea of a tree-bordered highway, as a fitting memorial that would be appreciated by all who traveled the highway, was conceived by Mrs. Carrie Gamble, president of the third district, which includes the women's federated clubs in Catawba, Burke, Caldwell, Watauga, Ashe, Avery, Alleghany, Wilkes, Alexander, and Iredell counties. At the time the plan presented itself to Mrs. Gamble, she was president of the Hickory club, 1923-24, and it was her purpose to plant trees along the highway between Hickory and Newton, the women's clubs of the two towns to sponsor the project.

But when Mrs. Gamble was elected district president, in the fall of 1924, she expanded her original idea of planting trees along a 10-mile stretch to avenues of trees through each of the 10 counties comprising the district.

Practically every civic and fraternal organization in the district has heartily endorsed the proposition, and the president is in receipt of letters from state highway commissioners, Governor McLean, and other leading state officials, expressing approval of the plan.

It may be necessary to purchase additional trees before the work is completed, it is stated, but it is expected that the majority will be donated by the various organizations of the county. Many, in fact, have already been promised.

SAYS ITS GREAT SYSTEM BUILDER

Stomach Was So Upset Could Not Retain Any Food - Says HERB JUICE Gave Relief.

"I would not take anything in the world for the relief your HERB JUICE has given me. It has restored my health after I had almost despaired of being well again, and I can not praise it enough," said Mrs. Grace Rodgers, well known Concord lady who resides at 27 East St., in an enthusiastic statement to the HERB JUICE man of recent date. "For over a year," Mrs. Rodgers continued, "I was bothered by a great deal of stomach trouble; everything I ate seemed to sour and ferment, causing me to bloat and belch up gas and I could not retain any food on my stomach. In addition to this I was troubled with my kidneys and bladder. I tried first one thing then another for my trouble, but nothing seemed to bring relief until I began using HERB JUICE. Before I had used the first bottle I knew I had at last found the medicine to suit my case, and since taking it regularly for several weeks there has been such a great change in my condition that I can hardly realize I was ever sick. I really feel better in every way than I have in a long time. The gas pains and bloating have stopped, kidneys and bladder are in much better condition and I am feeling 100 per cent. improved generally. I have a better appetite, more energy and have gained in weight until today I do not feel like the same person. I did not think it possible for any medicine to help anyone so much in such a very short time as HERB JUICE has helped me. I think it is a wonderful laxative and system builder. At least it has proven so in my case, and it gives me great pleasure to be able to recommend such a splendid medicine to other sufferers, for I believe any one taking it according to directions will be benefited by its use."

HERB JUICE is sold and guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded by Gibson Drug Store.
