IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

FARM TOURISTS ARE BACK HOME HAPPY

Have Much Pleasure and Obtain Much Valuable Information.—Other Salisbury News.

Salisbury, Sept. 11.—Rowan, Cabarrus, and Stanly county farmers are back home from a sight-seeing trip through Virginia. This trip was organized and planned under the leadership of county farm agents and was most successful as a pleasure trip and as one in which much valuable information was secured. Four days were spent in and around the nation's capital and here as well as at other places visited much attention was shown the visitors. Some of the largest farms of Virginia were looked over and canning plants, poultry farms, and other places of interest visited.

After the arrest of Allen Massey, a trusted negro employ of the Southern transfer sheds in this city, officers searched his home and found a wagon load of goods alleged to have been stolen from the sheds while en route. The goods included a great variety of articles. Massey is being held under a $1,000 bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie A. Bost, living near China Grove, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary by having about them their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and other relatives and friends. Stamping in line with this aged couple were their next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Klutz, who have been married fifty-six years. A feature of the celebration was the reading of the wedding ceremony by the minister who married the couple a half century ago.

Enrollment in the city schools since the fall session opened Tuesday has jumped each day until now the total is more than 3,500. This is the largest enrollment the city schools have ever had and the school houses are taxed so that double teaching sections are being held.

The Southern Power Company has acquired the system of the Rockwell Light and Power Company which has been supplying light and power to four Rowan county towns, Rockwell, Faith, Crescent, and Granite Quarry, and will continue to serve these communities.

Blowing Rock Land Boom is Prospected

Hickory, Sept. 11.—Tangible rumors were current here today that the Blowing Rock section was the next in line for large developments. The rumors were founded on the fact that Florida real estate dealers were in that section trying to buy large tracts of land. The second fact was that the Southern Railway Company is undertaking an extensive advertising campaign to advertise the Blowing Rock section and that a photographer from a national advertising concern was already on his way to this section.

Revival Services at Kerr Street Baptist Church

Evangelist Rev. T. E. Payne, from Hudson, N. C., and Evangelist singer, Mr. Q. E. Fry, from Atlanta, Ga., will be in a revival meeting at Kerr Street Baptist Church beginning September 13th. Services will be held each day at 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. Mr. Payne is a great evangelist and a powerful preacher bringing the old Gospel in the old time way. Mr. Fry is an evangelistic singer of note. He sang for a number of years with Suffolk Jenkins, the evangelist. Special songs will be sung at each service. Come and hear these two great Gospel messengers.

FRIENDS READY TO FIGHT FOR DAN F. WIDENHOUSE

They Do Not Think He Will Lose Job But They Are Ready to Fight If It Is Necessary.

While they believe his fine record assures him a place in the new dry organization in the state, friends of Dan F. Widenhouse, local federal dry agent, are ready to wage a determined fight for him if such a step becomes necessary.

Ben C. Sharpe, new dry director for the Carolinas and Georgia, has not stated yet what is to be done with the dry agents who served before he took charge of the work, and Mr. Widenhouse's friends are confident that their aid will not be needed, for they point to the local agent's record as one of the best in the South.

It is understood that Mr. Sharpe will be ready about September 15th to announce which of the present agents are to be retained. Friends of Mr. Widenhouse expect his name to lead all the rest. In fact, some friends of Mr. Widenhouse would not be satisfied if he just keeps his present job. They think he deserves something better and certainly they would not be surprised if he got something better. However, so far as it is known here Mr. Widenhouse has made no move to get a job of any kind. He has not even asked for his present job, to say nothing of a higher one, but as he has had nothing to say it is generally believed that he is willing to keep on the present job.

REPAIR WORK ON "Y" PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Entire Personnel Engaged in Making the Changes.—New Fixtures Installed in Gym.

The work of repairing and repainting the interior of the Y. M. C. A. is being pushed rapidly forward, the entire force being occupied in doing the work.

Most of the woodwork in the front of the building has been given the coat of varnish and the paper on the walls has been scrapped off preparatory to beginning of papering operations.

In the gymnasium, the entire wall space is being given a new coat of paint. New lights, protected by a heavy wire screen have been installed and will give a much better lighted gymnasium than heretofore.

It is planned to do some work on the exterior as soon as the interior has been completed. During the period of repairs the Y is closed.

A number of new fixtures, including weights, dumb bells and Indian clubs have been purchased from the Winston Y and are being placed in the gymnasium for use this fall. The bowling alley, secured from Kanapolis, will also be ready for use this fall.

Books Purchased by Money From the Union Services

The following books have been placed in the library here, the money for them being secured from the collection at the union services which were held in the city this summer. They are: "Real Religion," by Gypsy Smith; J. J. Jowers, C. H. D. D., by Arthur Porritt; "The Challenge of Life" by Jacks; "Nature Sermons" by Jefferson; "The Victory Over Victory" by Hutton; "The Church of the Spirit" by Peabody; "The Cross of Christian Experience" by Clow; "God's Open" by James I. Vance; and "The History of Religion in the United States" by Rowe.

Somebody is always favoring a drastic change for others.

Bro. Ashcraft's Sunday Meditations Disturbed

Monroe Enquirer.
Sunday morning's quietness in the neighborhood in which I live was broken by the screaming of some one apparently in dire distress. Upon investigation it was found that an old colored woman, living on a nearby alley, was beating a granddaughter, which is so common an occurrence that it has become a habit and is very distasteful to the white families living in the community.

If the old woman is not indicted and punished for cruelty to children she no doubt should be.

I have often observed the lower down in the scale of the human family the more unhappy is child life. However, the young of puritanical or over-religious families often suffer equal hardships until children are old enough to leave parental roofs.

That most unfortunate statement, attributed to the Bible, "Spare the rod and spoil the child," has caused a multitude of youths to heartily despise their parents as tyrants.

Promiscuous punishment for every child's dereliction has never made better citizens and never will. If parents cannot train their children without recourse to corporal punishment it proves their inferior mentality, and near relationship to that family which avenges from trees by elongated caudal appendages.

But, doggone it, that nigger woman beating a child spoiled my Sunday morning meditations.

A Double-Barreled Rule

The doctors have a day and night schedule of charges for visits. And it is right. This rule prevails with Concord physicians, and perhaps in all other progressive towns and cities. A countryman, an enterprising and hard-working farmer, had occasion to call several times his family physician during a period of several months. He later called for his bill—that, too, is a fine idea, paying the doctor. The Cabarrus farmer examined the bill closely and noted that some visits carried a higher charge. "How's that, doctor?" inquired the farmer. "Those are night visits, Mr. ; you know that we get more for night visits."

Later on the doctor ordered some good fire wood from this very enterprising farmer. He was busy gathering in his crops and decided that he would haul in the load after supper, taking advantage of moonlight night. During the night the doctor was disturbed in his slumbers by a noise out in his back yard. He slipped out in his night habiliments to make investigation. He found his farmer friend and patron unloading a model load of splendid fire wood cut to a length.

Later the doctor called for his bill. That was a fine act, too. The farmer produced it. The doctor scanned it and, noting a difference in the price of one load as compared with the others, inquired the reason. Very candidly and truthfully the farmer replied, "That, doctor, was a night load of wood and night loads come higher."

Unbecoming for a State Official

Catawba County News.
A day or so after young Ormond was shot to death by W. B. Cole, this paper said:

"It is not becoming for a newspaper to discuss any case that is pending in the courts—especially any criminal case. We do not expect to discuss the merits or demerits of the killing of the young man, Ormond, by the millionaire Cole, at Rockingham, Saturday afternoon."

Neither is it becoming for the secretary of state to make propaganda for a defendant in a case charged with murder—before the court has passed upon the issues.

Here is a high state official, who wants to be governor of North Carolina, and this man, this high up, is reported to have said that the people of North Carolina will give a "vote of thanks" to Cole when the facts are known, for killing a young man who offered his all in the service of his country during the World War.

Have we come to this that we want to give a vote of thanks for the killing of a young man? This writer has no vote of thanks for the killing of any human being.

The tree of knowledge is hard to climb because it has so many branches.

A SAD EXPERIENCE

When you step out to buy a tire—and much as we hate to do it, it's got to be done every once in awhile—what do you want? Of course, you'd like to rub a lamp, or make a wish, or have some good fairy appear, and slip a nice new tire on the rim for nothing. But, unfortunately, these things only happen in our dreams. What you want is a tire that will get you back on the road again and keep you going for a long, long time. So, as long as you've got to buy a tire, you want something good and you want it at the right price. The next time you are up against the sad necessity of buying a tire—call us up and we'll sell you a Goodyear and make you glad to buy it.

Saw a Large Grain Acreage.
Monroe Enquirer.
In a recent trip through Stanly, Cabarrus, Rowan, Davidson and Randolph counties I noted that cotton and corn crops were poor. But there were great heaps of wheat and oat straw in fields and at barns, denoting that farmers had gathered the grain crops in the Spring. This being true, short corn and cotton crops this fall will not be so burdensome upon farmers of the counties mentioned.

Also it was observed that in August grain land was being prepared in the section to the north of us. Farmers in the counties that grow wheat and oats, prepare their lands in the very best manner. Subsoiling is done early and the soil finely pulverized. Too, wheat farmers fertilize their crops as do cotton farmers here in Union county. By so doing they nearly always reap good crops.

Union county farmers by all means should sow a large acreage to grain this fall because of a short corn crop. Last year a number of our farmers had great success with barley and found that grain to be a fine substitute for corn.

The topos derives its name from Topos, an island in the Red Sea.
