Bull Demolishes Plane Forced Down in Pasture. Sognies, Belgium, Sept. 14.—(AP)—An infuriated bull vented his ire upon a disabled airplane recently and when the animal concluded that its job had been done the machine was beyond repair. The airplane carrying eight passengers from Paris to Brussels was forced down by a defective motor and landed in a pasture 45 miles from Brussels.

The bull, aroused by the chugging of the motor, made straight for it, while the pilot and passengers jumped out and made their escape in a mad rush across the field. The animal charged the machine again and again and kept at his work of destruction until the passengers got out of the danger zone.

Hat Hints For Gentlemen Without consulting any of the authorities on etiquette, we will answer the question, "When is the proper time to lift or remove his hat?" for the benefit of our readers. At the following times and on the following occasions the hat should be removed or lifted as the circumstances indicate: When mopping the brow, when taking a bath, when eating, when going to bed, when taking up a collection, when shaving the hair trimmed, when being shampooed and when standing on the head.

Concord Woodmen. A writer in Sunday's Charlotte Observer has the following: The writer had the pleasure of making Elm Camp No. 16, of Concord, a visit on last Tuesday night and he found many of his old time friends on the job. Elm Camp has some of the most enthusiastic Woodmen among its members that can be found anywhere and when we attend one of their meetings and hear them make their reports as to how they have been visiting the sick and unwell members to their dead sovereigns it makes us feel proud that we are members of the great Woodmen of the World.

Our good friend, C. A. Blackweider, was right here and made a splendid talk urging the boys to keep up the good work of fraternalism. We always find Sovereign F. C. Carroll in his place with real sound words of praise for Woodcraft. Consul Commander Weddington is showing that he has real ability as a presiding officer and that he expects to close this year with a splendid record made by him as a leader. Post Consul Commander Dr. W. R. Fisher, C. A. Cook, G. S. Graeber, H. M. Winecoff, C. A. White, S. W. Bool, J. L. Ritchie, C. C. Litaker and that prince of a fellow, A. M. Faggart, who is the life of every crowd that he is found in, was present and we had a good time.

An invitation was extended to the members to attend a picnic on Wednesday afternoon from 4 o'clock until 7, at Rocky River Church, not many miles from Concord. Every member was urged to go and take a well filled basket as supper would be served at 6 o'clock.

The following members reported that on last Saturday afternoon they went to Oakboro, and with the officers and team of Oakboro camp drove to Salem Baptist Church in Anson county, where the Oakboro members unveiled a monument to the memory and at the grave of Sovereign S. L. Dry, a deceased member of Elm camp; C. A. Blackweider, F. C. Carroll, A. M. Faggart, R. C. Litaker, H. M. Winecoff and S. W. Bool.

"A Good Slogan." Winston-Salem Journal. This headline is quoted from the leading editorial well displayed in the Concord Daily Tribune, which says: "A slogan which everybody should adopt is that of The Winston-Salem Journal, as follows: "Down With Dust and Up With Schools."

If there is a paper in North Carolina that ought to be a competent judge of a slogan for the press and people of the State, the Concord Daily Tribune is that paper.

Its editor, John B. Sherrill, is one of the veteran newspaper publishers and editors of the Commonwealth, served for considerably more than a quarter of a century as Secretary of the North Carolina Press Association and two terms as president of that organization, representing his county in the General Assembly with distinction to himself and honor to his constituents, and came within a hair's breadth of being called to service in one of our most important State offices.

The early season prediction that 1925 would be a banner for home runs has already been fulfilled. Heretofore the largest number of circuit drives ever made in a league in one season was 524 made in the National League in 1923. The record for both leagues in a season was 1050 in 1922. Both those have been eclipsed this year.

The first lawn tennis tournament for the United States singles championship was held in 1881. The first six tournaments, from 1881 to 1887 inclusive, were won by R. D. Sears.

FAIRBANKS NEW PHOTOPLAY A LITERATURE OF SCREEN

"Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" blends facts and fantasy, history and legend, into authoritative interpretation of Twelfth Century Romance.

To the character Robin Hood in Douglas Fairbanks' newest photoplay sensation for United Artists release, entitled "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," the star and producer has given of his best. As Robin Hood he is the embodiment in all ways of that notable personality of eight hundred years ago as we of this ultra-modern day would understand and appraise him, while the production itself, coming to the Concord Theatre today, realistically presents the vivid color and stirring atmosphere of that romantically adventurous past.

"Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" represents a real literature of the screen, genuine and historically accurate in costume and setting, and truthful in every small detail as well as in important basis.

It blends facts and fantasy, history and legend, and combines the glories of poetic and artistic beauty with an authoritative interpretation of the spirit of romance and adventure prevailing in the twelfth century.

It gives a vividly real impression of the romance, the conflict of emotions and the aspirations which made so memorable the period in which "Richard the lion-hearted" ruled.

It presents a clear vision of the fundamentals that actuated the leaders of thought and action of a time when the spirit of chivalry dominated as never before nor since.

It visualizes the drama of life and its living when Robin Hood was confronted by supreme tests of his admirable valor in behalf of the Maid Marian, and the downtrodden, unfortunate victims of a feudal age.

It gives, above all, the utmost in entertainment deplete with all those qualities of enthralling drama, breath-taking suspense, and wholesome relieving, diverting humor.

It is a scenic replica as nearly accurate as humanly possible, representing a re-creation of life and its environments in those days of knight-hood.

It presents an historical background gleaned with deftness from all available records in months of the most exhaustive research, both in this country and abroad, that ever has been devoted to any cause.

HIGH POINT ASKS FOR PIEDMONT AND NORTHERN

Letter Has Been Written Mr. Duke Calling Attention to Business Possibilities.

High Point, Sept. 13.—James B. Duke will be requested to extend the Piedmont and Northern through Thomasville and High Point as a part of the proposed line from Charlotte to Winston-Salem.

Former Governor Cameron Morrison, representing Mr. Duke's interest in the proposed extension, has been asked to take the matter up with Mr. Duke, Frank J. Sizemore, secretary of the High Point chamber of commerce, wrote Mr. Morrison a letter yesterday, pointing out the manifold advantages that could be derived from extension of the freight line through this city.

Mr. Sizemore pointed out in his letter that each year High Point and Thomasville ship about 35,000 car loads of manufactured products. This is not a business to be overlooked, and there is no doubt but that if the electric line is sent through High Point it will get much local business. This territory promises to assist in every way possible in aiding the P. and N. to secure rights of way in any other way that should be necessary.

It is believed here that Mr. Duke's plans have not gone as far as they will turn a deaf ear to the High Point proposition. Indeed, it is claimed, he has already considered this section and may run his rails through here if the proper cooperation is given.

MURDER OF MRS. COOK IS STILL UNEXPLAINED

Husband Will Be Questioned in Connection With Crime—Still Suspect Bootleggers.

Vinton, Ia., Sept. 12.—The mystery of the fatal shooting last Monday night of Mrs. Myrtle Cook, W. C. T. U. President and head of the Woman's Organization of the Benton county Ku Klux Klan, remained unsolved tonight.

County Coroner C. L. Modlin announced that in his inquest, which recessed yesterday, until Monday would be held open indefinitely, to give state secret service men opportunity to check up on information given the coroner's jury.

C. B. Cook, the woman's husband who said he was in Grundy Center the night someone sent a bullet crashing through a window of the Cook residence, fatally injuring Mrs. Cook, is scheduled to be recalled before the coroner's jury Monday.

Most of Friday was given over to his examination. He denied there ever had been an estrangement between him and his wife, asserting also that there had never been another woman.

Belief that Mrs. Cook was slain by a liquor law violator as a result of her dry law activities continues to be expressed.

150 FLORIDA MEN TARE AND FEATHER TWO WOMEN

Then Load Them in Car and Dump Them, Clad in Gunny Sacks, in a Jacksonville Street.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 13.—Two white women were tarred and feathered by a mob of 150 men here last night, police learned tonight. The women were seized by the men while walking toward town from the city prison farm where they had been sentenced to serve thirty-day sentences on a disorderly conduct charge.

The women, police said, had served less than two weeks of their sentence. They were taken to a secluded spot and tarred and feathered. Late last night they were brought back to Jacksonville and let out of an automobile on a downtown street, clad only in gunny sacks.

They were admitted to a rooming house nearby where the proprietor allowed them to cleanse themselves and obtained some clothes for them.

Police found two suitcases filled with clothing the women had worn at the prison farm but late tonight had been unable to locate them.

The women are sisters.

SNUFF AND A CANINE BREAK UP A FAMILY

Husband Objects to Use of Former By His Wife, and She Objects to the Latter.

Spartanburg, S. C., Sept. 13.—Family differences between Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, which arose over the use of snuff by Mrs. Johnson and a dog, belonging to Johnson, were settled in the court of Magistrate John L. Lancaster. Johnson was charged with desertion.

Mrs. Johnson's aversion was the dog, while Johnson objected to the use of snuff by his wife. Johnson claimed that his wife threw his dog out of the house and caused it to suffer a broken leg, while Mrs. Johnson said she did this because her husband would not kiss her. Johnson admitted the allegation, but claimed that the use of snuff by his wife made it objectionable to kiss her.

The magistrate effected a reconciliation by suggesting that the use of snuff be abandoned by Mrs. Johnson and that she displays a more tolerant attitude toward her husband's dog.

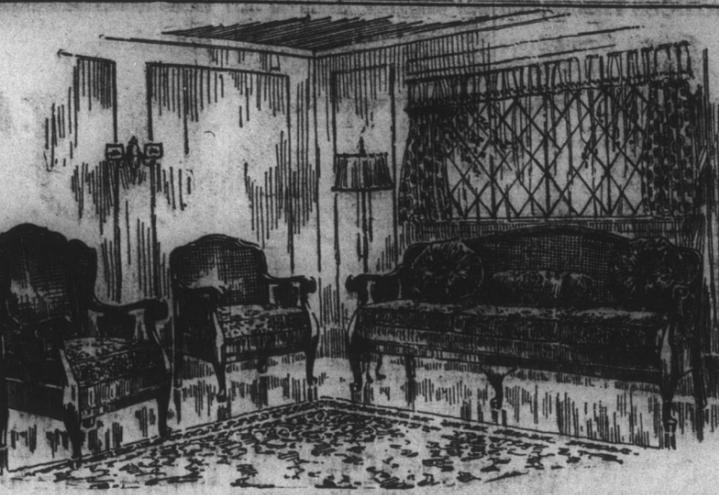

Insure Your Complexion. Complexion insurance is now offered by beauty parlors in many cities.

"We dare not insure women who are too young," explains one. "Madame," because they are still living such lively existences that they may eat something to mar their complexion. But older women have more sense of responsibility. They are so eager to be lovely that they will take care to do as we say."

The rates are high and the "insured" must be willing to give much of her time to the expert and eat and do as he is told. The insurance runs for about six months.

There is another new bid—that of re-setting sails. It has much in common with the lifting. Protruding sails are cut from behind, as in a masthead operation, and sewed back so that they lie flat. The stitches are behind the ear and are practically hidden.

A SAD EXPERIENCE

When you step out to buy a tire—and much as we hate to do it, it's got to be done every once in awhile—what do you want? Of course, you'd like to rub a lamp, or make a wish, or have some good fairy appear, and slip a nice new tire on the rim for nothing. But, unfortunately, these things only happen in our dreams. What you want is a tire that will get you back on the road again and keep you going for a long, long time. So, as long as you've got to buy a tire, you want something good and you want it at the right price. The next time you are up against the sad necessity of buying a tire—call us up and we'll sell you a Goodyear and make you glad to buy it.

Women Denied Insurance. Mrs. Frank Vanderlip and some other New York society women staged a garden party at Jackson Heights L. I. for the benefit of the fund to rebuild the Theta College for Women at Tokio, Japan. To protect the party they had it insured for $1000 against rain, the bugbear of all out-door events. The day of the event dawned bright and clear. A big crowd was attracted to the scene but later a storm came up and it rained hard enough to break up the party. The women tried to collect their $1000 but the insurance company pulled out a clause in the contract to the effect that "one-tenth of an inch of rain must fall before the money would be paid." The sponsors declare that "gallons" fell but none of the women thought of bringing a rain gauge and they are still trying to collect.
