The poultry meetings which were held in the county last week will be continued during the present week. The meetings were in part well attended and discussions were made on the subject of culling for better egg production, feeding housing and disease.

Owing to the continued excessive heat which is prevalent, the city schools will reach only one session each day. It was announced today by Sept. A. S. Webb. This will eliminate the necessity of having the children return to school after lunch hour.

Although Charlotte won the last game of the season Saturday, Spartanburg won also and in so doing won the South Atlantic pennant. The team today starts a series with Richmond to determine the winner of the South Atlantic-Virginia leagues.

Judge John M. Oglesby, who presided at sessions of Randolph county court in Asheboro last week, spent the week-end here. He left early this morning for Salisbury, where he will preside at sessions of Rowan Superior Court this week.

U. B. Blalock, general manager of the N. C. Cotton Growers' Association, will speak to the farmers of the county on the 25th of this month at the Court House. It was announced by local Co-op officials. All farmers are urged to be present at this time and Mr. Blalock.

Pittsburgh lost two games in the National League Sunday while New York was idle. In the American League Washington and Philadelphia played a tie game, leaving the teams with the same standing. Pittsburgh has lost four of the last five games played but still has a big lead over New York.

Robert Burnett, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Burnett, died at the home of his parents at Franklin Mill Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock after an illness of two weeks. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home and burial was made at Union Cemetery, Rev. A. T. Cain officiating.

It is reported here that Prohibition Agent Widenhouse and some other agents seized three stills last week and one, located below Thunderstruck bridge, yesterday. It is also reported that the officers seized some beer last night in No. 2 township. Two of the stills found last week were in Montgomery county, it is reported.

Eleven defendants will be tried in recorder's court this afternoon, police officers stated this morning. One is charged with passing a worthless check, two with gambling, two with operating cars while intoxicated, one with having liquor in his possession three with speeding, one with operating a car without a State license and one with assault.

Jane Dilger, four-year-old girl who has been under the care here of J. H. Brown, county welfare officer, since the arrest of her father, William Dilger, was sent to Durham Sunday. Mr. Brown was advised by the welfare officer of Durham county that a good home had been found for the child in Durham county and that he would see that she was properly cared for in the future.

While temperatures here Saturday and Sunday night were not so oppressive, they were about as hot as usual during the two days. Low hanging clouds, with many flashes of lightning, brought signs of rain last night, but only a sprinkle fell. The prediction of the weather bureau that blankets would be needed proved unfounded so far as this section of the state was concerned.

DEATH OF JUDGE HOKE

Former Chief Justice Dies Suddenly at Rex Hospital, Raleigh. Raleigh, Sept. 13.—William A. Hoke, former chief justice and for twenty years an associate justice of the North Carolina supreme court, died suddenly at 9:30 o'clock this morning at Rex Hospital, from what physicians believe to have been an attack of angina pectoris.

Judge Hoke underwent an operation two weeks ago from which apparently he was recuperating satisfactorily, and he had anticipated leaving the hospital in a few days. His condition had been such as to cause his friends gratification, and they were looking forward to his recovery. His daughter, Miss Mary Hoke, called to see him this morning and found him in fine spirits and left to attend Sunday school. A few minutes later, while talking with his nurse and an intern, he suddenly passed away. He had been suffering from heart trouble for some time, and physicians' examination indicated his death to have been due to that cause.

Funeral and burial will take place Tuesday in his old home town of Lincoln, which he had always considered his legal residence despite his many years in Raleigh as a member of the State's highest court.

Plans Announced For Carolina Exposition.

Charlotte, Sept. 12.—Final plans for the Carolinas Exposition to be held here September 21-October 3 were announced here today and include many noteworthy features. Governor McLean, of South Carolina, and Governor McLean, of North Carolina, will be invited to attend, while Chief Justice Marshall, of the Ohio Supreme court, has already accepted an invitation to appear during civic club week. Colonel Shoptshire, of Birmingham, founder of Civitan, will also attend. He has been named as the principal speaker on Civitan Club Day. The Lion, Rotary and Kiwanis will also have separate days for their program.

DUKE WILL BUILD POWER PLANT FOR EMERGENCY

To Create Reserve of Current That Will Make Curtailment Unnecessary. Charlotte, Sept. 12.—An 80,000 horsepower steam electric power plant is to be built by the Southern Power Company immediately in order to create a reserve that will provide ample insurance against any possibility of any power curtailment in the future. Announcement to this effect was made this afternoon by C. I. Burkholder, vice president and general manager of the power company, who has just returned to Charlotte from Newport, R. I., where he and W. S. Lee, vice president and chief engineer of the power company, were called for a conference with James B. Duke regarding the power situation.

Drought about by the unprecedented drought which has prevailed in the southeastern states for the past several months. The exact location of the huge new power plant has not been announced but it is stated that it will be located somewhere on the Catawba River so as to fit conveniently into the system of power plants of the Southern Power system.

To Create Another Reservoir. The purpose of the company in building immediately the new steam plant, according to Mr. Burkholder, is to create another reservoir of power that will be independent of stream or drought conditions. If the proposed plant were in operation today, even with the unprecedented shortage of water in the Catawba River, the power company would be able to supply the full requirements of its customers and have a considerable margin of electricity left.

25-Year Heat Mark Broken at Raleigh.

Raleigh, Sept. 12.—Heat records which had stood for 25 years were broken here today when the thermometer climbed above the ninety degree mark for the 55th day of the summer. In 1900 the little red fluid expanded above the ninety mark 54 days during the summer of that year.

If the proposed plant were in operation today, even with the unprecedented shortage of water in the Catawba River, the power company would be able to supply the full requirements of its customers and have a considerable margin of electricity left.

The situation confronting the company in the development of its system was succinctly stated by Mr. Duke who is quoted as follows: "The first plants of the Southern Power system were built in the light of river records available over a long period of years. When the flood of 1916 smashed all previous high records we put our system in shape to meet any possible contingencies of flood conditions. Now, with all drought records smashed we propose to put the system in shape to meet any possible contingencies of this nature."
