

Let Us Show You what Modern Equipment Means in

CLEANING and BLOCKING HATS

One Day Service

Bob's Phone 787 DRY CLEANING CO

TODAY'S EVENTS

Monday, September 28, 1925. Detroit's first fire company was organized one hundred years ago today. M. Clemenceau, the famous wartime Premier of France, is 85 years old today. A World Agricultural Congress will be opened today at the Wembley Exhibition. An international congress will meet to discuss problems at Waterloo, Iowa. The 1925 convention of the American Bankers' Association opens at Atlantic City. The tenth exposition of the chemical industries opens in Grand Central Palace, New York.

The 100th anniversary of Fort-second Street, New York City, is to be celebrated today with an elaborate parade and pageant. The appeal in the case of John T. Scopes, found guilty of violating Tennessee's anti-evolution law, is to be heard at the term of the State Supreme court opening at Knoxville today. Harrison W. Noel, of Montclair, N. J., faces trial at Newark today for the murder of Raymond Pierce, negro chauffeur, whose car he used in kidnaping his second victim, six-year-old Mary Daly. A hearing on the advisability of extending to Maine, Rhode Island and the State of Washington the quarantine against the satin moth is set for hearing today before the federal horticultural board. How the slogan of "Safety First," first preached only a few years ago, is penetrating every activity of the country, will be made manifest at the National Safety Congress, which is to begin its sessions today in Cleveland. For the trial of one man, eventually put on probation for stealing a pair of shoes, the recorder, the mayor, the deputy mayor, the clerk of court, a prosecuting attorney, a police superintendent, an inspector, two sergeants, four policemen, nearly forty jurymen, three newspaper reporters, and the official shorthand reporter had to attend a recent session of court in England.

USE PENNY COLUMN—IT PAYS

DINNER STORIES

"Are the flies bad, out here?" inquired a recently arrived and exceedingly hypercritical guest. "Nope; not very bad," replied the landlord of the tavern at sockcitypeck. "Lots of em' go to church every Sunday."

Twenty Years Ago. The quarreled, and at last he cried. In accents of despair. "I wish that I could see your side," The maiden shrieked as she replied, "That's more than I can bare."

He: "Don't you think this full dress is a perfect fit?" She: "Yes; it is almost a convulsion." Jones: "Have you seen the latest thing in women's clothes?" Brown: "Yes, women."

Sign: "Ring bell for janitor." Small boy to janitor: "Why, can't you ring the bell yourself?" Henry: "Have you ever been pinched while motoring?" James: "No, but I've been slapped."

Taxi Driver: "Five dollars and twenty cents." Fare: "Back up twenty cents, five is all I've got."

Bethlehem of Judea has a newspaper—Sout-Ashab (Voice of the People). It is printed at Jerusalem. Damascus was famous in the Middle Ages for its silk and linen fabrics; hence the name "damask."

Arsenic. Professor: "What was that you'd asked me to spell last night?" Student: "Gee, I had it on the tip of my tongue and forgot it." Professor: "Hey hold on there, do not swallow it, it's arsenic."

Sues Herb Doctor For $30,000 Damages. Charlotte, Sept. 24.—A suit was on file Wednesday in Mecklenburg County Superior Court, in which J. B. Grooms of Charlotte, seeks $30,000 alleged damages from J. H. Nanzetta, who describes himself as an Indian herb doctor. Mr. Grooms, in his complaint, alleged that the defendant made a false and unlawful diagnosis of a disease, from which the plaintiff said he was suffering, and, as a result of "wrongful and careless treatment" the disease was aggravated.

The complaint stated that the plaintiff was suffering from a disease called "weeping eczema" and that about April 20th, after reading advertisements and testimonials of the defendant, who claimed to have cured such diseases, plaintiff went to Nanzetta's office, then at Wohlford's Drug Store here, and asked for a diagnosis and treatment.

The complaint also said the plaintiff also paid $7.50 for treatment and remedies, and that instead of experiencing relief he experienced an aggravation of his disease by reason of the treatment.

The plaintiff declared he continued the treatment, however, until he paid $80 for remedies and treatment, but experienced no relief. Instead, according to the complaint, he suffered extreme discomfort because of the nature of the treatment, was forced to live several days in a dark room, and that as a result of the treatment his eyes became highly inflamed and were injured.

The complaint also stated the defendant is not a duly licensed physician under the laws of the State and is not registered as such in Mecklenburg county, where he practices.

Squirrels Eating Cotton in Rowan. Mrs. A. L. Deal, western Rowan correspondent of the Mooresville Enterprise, and who lives on Route 1, in the Unity school neighborhood, sends that paper the following:

"Squirrels are eating the cotton in the bolls for the first time ever known in this section. The nuts and acorns are very scarce in the woods and the little fellows are forced to forage in the open for whatever they can find. So if there is no corn field handy, they make themselves at home in the cotton fields."

A man may legally spank his wife under certain circumstances, in Georgia, according to a ruling made by the superior court of that state.

The only man who is down is the man who thinks he's down.

Let Your Next Battery Be An EXIDE Use Only the Best

Advertisement for Exide batteries featuring a circular logo with 'BOTH EXIDE SERVICE' and 'PHONE 233'.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Maybe Frank Stutz, who directs publicity for the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners, isn't altogether disinterested, in the blood-curdling stories he tells of the dangers of cleaning things with gasoline.

Maybe he wants to throw a scare into the public, so it will take its clothes to his association's members to be cleaned, instead of trying to clean them at home. Nevertheless some of his talk is interesting.

"Isn't it safe enough if you keep it away from a light?" I asked, in rejoinder to one of Frank's statements to the effect that a pint of gasoline and a pound of dynamite are about in the same class.

"My, no," said Frank. "Gasoline is a dry liquid—" "What do you mean, dry liquid?" I interrupted. "Dry like gin."

"I mean it's a liquid with no water in it," Frank explained. "That's why we say 'dry cleaning.' Like many dry liquids, gasoline's capable of producing electric sparks on being swished about. Didn't you ever notice that gasoline along the ground? That's to carry off electric charges before they accumulate and blow 'em up."

"RUBBING together the surfaces of stuff like silk or wool will generate frictional electricity, too," Frank went on. "and in a dish of gasoline it's dangerous. It produces sparks, often a quarter of an inch long—equal to a 5000-volt spark."

"If the air's damp enough and the stuff that's being cleaned is damp enough also, the spark is dissipated and no harm's done. But if there's a little moisture about, as on hot, dry summer days or cold, dry winter ones, the spark sets off the gasoline fumes, which are mighty potent mixed with the correct proportion of air, and—wham! up you go."

"FIRST-CLASS dry cleaning plants," related Stutz, "do their work in an atmosphere at least 55 per cent moist. Sixty is better and some insist on 70 per cent."

"They take hourly moisture readings and whenever the air's water content falls below the safety mark it's artificially dampened at once. Even at that careful cleaners have all their vessels ground connected to carry off any electricity that may be generated despite their precautions."

New Flyweight King

Presenting the new champion of the flyweight division, Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles, who came into the honors the other night by handing Frankie Genaro, New York, a neat lacing over the 10-session route. About a year ago, La Barba was only an amateur. He's made rapid strides up the pugilistic ladder.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

What might be termed "Satisfactory Service" varies according to different kinds of business. In most cases it covers only a brief period of time, but in the automobile business it is different. Our sales are made to people who use their cars over a period of years.

Such purchasers, by right, demand a service above the average. To meet this extra demand, we have first secured men who have an interest in their work and see that whatever they are called on to do is done perfectly. All our men finish each day's work with the clear conscience that it could not have been done better. In this way, there are no "come-backs," and our customers are assured of satisfactory operation of their cars over a long period of time.

REID MOTOR CO.

CONCORD'S FORD DEALER Corbin and Church Streets Phone 220

DELCO LIGHT Light Plants and Batteries

Deep and Shallow Well Pumps for Direct or Alternating current and Washing Machines for direct or alternating current.

R. H. OWEN, Agent Phone 668 Concord, N. C.

FALL HATS—SNAPPY STYLES

In the Newest Colors Priced $4.50, $5.00, $6.00

Throw that old straw away and let us fit you in your particular style hat.

RICHMOND-FLOWE CO.

Comic strip 'THE FALL OF EVA' by J.R. Williams. A man in a top hat is talking to a woman. A child is running away. A box labeled 'GLASS' is on the floor. Speech bubbles contain humorous dialogue.

MOMN POP BY TAYLOR

Comic strip 'MOMN POP' by Taylor. Two men are sitting at a table. Speech bubbles contain humorous dialogue about friends and choices.

Comic strip 'HENRY YOU'RE THE MOST CONTRARY MORTAL I EVER SAW!' by Taylor. Two men are sitting at a table. Speech bubbles contain humorous dialogue about Shakespeare and infirmities.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

Comic strip 'EVERETT TRUE' by Condo. A man is looking in a mirror. Speech bubbles contain humorous dialogue about bald heads and specimens.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: WHENEVER A HAM COMEDIAN FAILS TO MAKE A HIT WITH HIS BUM HUMOR AND TRIES TO RAISE A LAUGH BY GUYING PEOPLE IN THE AUDIENCE IT MAKES ME CRAZY TO GO ON THE STAGE, TOO!!!

Advertisement for Charm furniture. Text: 'Just Received Another Large Shipment of Fibre Furniture'. Includes an illustration of a chair.

In this assortment we are sure you will find just the suite for your Sun Parlor or Living Room. Many new styles and finishes to select from. Also Odd Pieces.

H. B. Wilkinson

Concord Kannapolis China Grove Mooresville

Car Washing! Alemite Greasing! Crank Case Service

Let us wash your car and grease it with Alemite High Pressure lubricating system for everybody knows that proper lubrication is the life of any car. Texaco gasoline and oils—Goodrich tires and tubes. Tire-changing, Accessories, Free Air and Water

CENTRAL FILLING STATION PHONE 700

OUR PENNY ADS. ALWAYS GET RESULTS Our Penny ADS. Get Quick Results