

All Men Imprisoned On Sub Lost Lives

Divers at Last Have Been Successful in Attempt to Get Inside the Sunken Submarine.

ORDER CASKETS FOR THE BODIES

Body of Engineer John L. Gibson Was the First to Be Removed From the Wrecked Submarine.

(By the Associated Press)

Boston, Sept. 29.—Orders were received at the Boston Navy Yard today directing that twenty navy caskets stored at the Naval Hospital in Chelsea be shipped to Newport, R. I.

Divers Get Inside Submarine.

T. S. Submarine Base, New London, Conn., Sept. 29.—The body of John L. Gibson, engineer first class, of Portland, Ore., was removed from the wrecked submarine S-51 by divers today.

Gibson's body was the first to be taken from the wrecked ship, and its recovery followed the complete suspension of attempts to lift the craft with wrecking ships, and a concentration of efforts on the part of divers who went into the sea to explore the S-51.

The recovery also indicated to those at the submarine base that the divers at last had been successful in their attempt to get inside the submarine.

Last night when the seas became too choppy for wrecking ships to work, the divers went down but were unable to get near the hatch which they hoped to enter, because of strong tides which swept them off their course through the water.

Gibson's body was found in the battery room, that part of the submarine which was rammed by the Savannah Line steamer City of Rome, last Friday night.

The message from Rear Admiral H. H. Christy in command of the rescue forces, said the divers still were working in this compartment, and as they ploughed their lead weighted feet through the passageway of the vessel it was expected more bodies would be found.

A second body, that of Wm. Charles Teschmicher, of Bangor, Pa., was taken from the submarine this forenoon, a radio dispatch to the naval hospital here stated.

Find No Floating Bodies.

Boston, Sept. 29.—(AP)—In a search over 40 square miles of water in the vicinity of the sunken submarine S-51, navy aviators have discovered no bodies floating, a radio dispatch to the Boston Navy Yard said today.

COLONEL MITCHELL RENEWS ATTACK

Continues Policy of Criticizing the Nation's Air Policy Before the President's Board.

Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Col. Wm. Mitchell today resumed his onslaught against the nation's air policy before President Coolidge's investigating board.

Dirigible airships for carrying airplanes, he asserted, can be built that will fly from Europe to the United States and return.

"For the Atlantic," he said, "we need an army to protect the land, a navy equipped with submarines, but above all an air force to protect the nation from attack by air."

"In considering our east coast defense plans," he continued, "we must think of England as dominating the Atlantic and as strong in the Caribbean."

Turning to the Pacific he asserted it was the desire of Japan to control all entrances to Asia and the point of attack from the Pacific is by way of Alaska, not Honolulu, "the capture of which place would expose a hostile fleet to an open attack from the submarine and airplane."

Col. Mitchell said if the United States is attacked from both the Atlantic and Pacific, an air force would be far more mobile to shift to the center of attack.

The proposal to develop the air defense, he asserted, was not entitled to larger appropriations, but a re-direction of present expenditures.

"Other nations," he said, "are aware of these matters, while we bury our heads in the sand like an ostrich."

"The navy's mission," he continued, "is at sea. It should be pushed to sea to keep open the lanes of communication."

"Our army has a system complicated in the extreme. It sticks and clings to systems of bygone times, as all armies do. It will work, if properly applied."

Wisconsin Voters Today Are Choosing New Senator.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Votes cast in a statewide election today will decide whether Robert M. La Follette, Jr., is to succeed his father as United States senator or whether one of the four other candidates will be elevated to this position.

The others are: Edward F. Dittmar, William George Bruce, John Work and George Bauman.

La Follette is the Republican nominee, but has announced himself as endorsing the platform of the La Follette-Wheeler party in 1924.

Lawyers Making Last Plans In Cole Case

Taking Advantage of Delay Caused by Decision to Get Venire From Union County.

Richmond County Court House, Rockingham, N. C., Sept. 29.—(AP)—While the case of Stae vs. W. B. Cole awaited the arrival here tomorrow of 200 venire men from Union county, the fifteen lawyers for prosecution and defense today made their final preparations for the trial.

Conferences among attorneys to whom have been added four from Union county was the order for the day. W. B. Love has been retained by the State, and John C. Sikes and Vann and Milliken have been added to the defense.

During the lull citizens from Rockingham turned their attention to the court house in the second criminal case for which yesterday there was an arraignment.

Hotels are crowded. Doubt has been expressed that the 200 venire men can obtain accommodations here tomorrow. The twelve in whose hands will rest the fate of the wealthy cotton manufacturer will be provided for by the county but during selection of the jury venire men will be responsible for their entertainment.

The newsboys' ranks have swelled since Saturday. Cries of "extra" meet the pedestrian on every hand, as trains bring out-of-town papers. Reporters and news photographers congregate in hotel lobbies, as at residence occupied by defense counsel, and on street. The solicitor's office is a meeting place.

Judge T. B. Finley has expressed himself as pleased with progress of the trial. Tomorrow and probably Thursday morning will be devoted to selection of the jury. Taking of testimony will be begun when the jury has been sworn in.

The Rockingham correspondence of the Greensboro News has the following:

Three Weeks for Trial. Those following the case closely predict that it will require three weeks in which to wind it up; certainly it cannot be finished in less than ten days.

The defense attorneys seem pretty well satisfied they will be here longer than is generally believed. They have rented the beautiful home of Mrs. J. P. Cameron, in the center of town, in which to live; they have their own chef, and seem to be comfortably located.

Both sides evidently expect to put prospective jurors under a microscopic glass. W. B. Love, of Monroe, has been retained by the state, while the defense has perhaps the cream of the Monroe bar in J. C. M. Vann, Jesse E. Milliken and John C. Sykes. These gentlemen will acquaint their respective associates with the veniremen's record.

The crowd today was somewhat disappointing, the courtroom was large enough to care for all spectators comfortably; the gallery was only partially filled. However, as the case gets underway in earnest, great throngs are expected.

To the casual observer W. B. Cole looks the part of anything but a killer. He is a typical business man; there are hard lines in his face; his hair, partly curly, is iron gray. He has the men of a man confident of himself. But no one would pick him as a shooter. After his case had been terminated for the day, he was permitted to remain in the courtroom to listen to other cases. He smiled occasionally and talked intermittently with friends and kinpeople.

Miss Cole Fresh as a Daisy. Miss Elizabeth Cole came into court fresh as a daisy. She was modestly dressed in a pretty but not gorgeous spring frock. She is not of the flapper type. One would spot her as an athletic girl, probably a gym teacher. There is nothing of the dazed look about her. She wore a brilliant diamond ring on her engagement finger.

Opinion here is sharply divided over the killing of Ormond, the one-time suitor of Miss Elizabeth Cole. Residents tell you how young Ormond returned from the hospitals of France a soldier broken in health as a result of German gas; that he and Miss Cole commenced associating together and that his association soon ripened into love. It was town gossip, so the reports say, that the two young people were engaged to be married.

Rev. Mr. Ormond sat throughout the brief sessions today. He was silent and bore the signs of grief. His son, Allison, a lad in his early 20's, remained by his side throughout the day.

They came to Rockingham in the car in which Bill was slain. Tonight, the opposing corps of counsel are poring over their war maps, preparatory for the zero hour. There's hardly an doubt but that this will eclipse anything of its kind ever tried in the Old North State.

(Other news connected with the Cole trial will be found on page three).

Negro Kills Self and Wounds Wife. Charlotte, Sept. 28.—Harry Harris, negro, is dead and Jennie Harris, his wife, is in a serious condition at Good Samaritan hospital as the result of shots fired Sunday afternoon by the man at their home, 921 Grove street.

Police who investigated the shooting were unable to discover the motive for the apparent suicide and attempted manslaughter. The couple were in the house alone at the time, they were informed and the screams of the woman attracted the attention of persons attending church nearby. When they reached the house Harris was bleeding from four or five wounds.

FEDERAL RESERVE WILL BE LAUDED

American Bankers in Convention Are Expected to Favor Prepetition of the Banking System.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The convention of the American Bankers' Association, called into general session today, is expected to go on record in favor of prepetition of the Federal Reserve System.

A threatened fight over the proposed amendments to the Federal Reserve Act involving the method of operation of the various reserve banks is believed to have been averted by the report of the economic policy commission headed by Evans Woodson, of Indianapolis. This report recommended that the question of rechartering Federal Reserve Banks be separated from the question of amendments.

KIDNAPER ABANDONS CHILD WHEN DOG KEEPS ON TRAIL

A Shepherd Dislikes Three-Year-old Boy's Accepting Ride and Follows Auto.

Whippany, N. J., Sept. 29.—When little Anthony Kasiski accepted a stranger's offer of an automobile ride today, a black and white shepherd dog belonging to the Kasiski family did not approve. The animal would not let the three-year-old child out of his sight for a minute and followed the automobile until Anthony was let out and restored to the arms of his anxious parents.

Anthony was playing in his yard when the stranger drove up and asked him if he wanted to go for a ride. The dog was the only one that saw the child lifted into the car, so the faithful shepherd pursued the machine to a spot about a mile from the Kasiski home, where his charge was let out and where neighbors found him with the dog a few minutes later.

George P. Kasiski, father of the child, said he believed the automobilist was intent upon kidnapping his son, but became alarmed when he saw the dog following the car.

GOVERNOR McLEAN IS VISITOR IN CHARLOTTE

Sparks at Luncheon of the Made-in-Carolinas Exposition.

Charlotte, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Citing the progress made by merchants of North Carolina in overcoming trade barriers, Governor McLean speaking here this afternoon pledged his administration to a continuance of efforts to overcome "discriminations" in freight rates and place business in the State "on an equal footing with its natural competitors in other states."

The Governor was addressing the merchants' luncheon of the Made-in-Carolinas Exposition on the subject "Trade in Carolinas Products."

Mr. McLean also took occasion to point to the tremendous development now underway in Florida, and asserted that while North Carolina had nothing to fear from the developments of the neighbor state, still there were lessons in the "Florida boom" for citizens of Tar Heelia.

ROWAN COUNTY MAN IS CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

And He Will Face Another Charge of Desertion in South Carolina.

Salisbury, Sept. 28.—In county court today F. K. Majewskie, alias James Herman Royston, was sent up to Superior court to answer the charge of bigamy. Wife No. 1, who caused his arrest for desertion Saturday night, was in court with her three children. Wife No. 2, who has an infant at her Gold Hill home, was unable to be present, suffering from the shock of the discovery that her husband had another wife and family. It is said that after the North Carolina courts get through with the man on the bigamy charge he will be turned over to South Carolina to answer a charge of desertion.

Only Three More Weeks of the Big Vote Period Remains—New Contestants Entering Field.

GET BUSY DURING THE BIG VOTE DAYS

Don't Think You Haven't a Chance If You Enter Now.—It's Up to You Entirely to Succeed.

With only three more weeks of the big vote period, interest is increasing in The Tribune-Times new famous Gift Distribution. Some new contestants are entering the field of active workers, with the thought in mind of cashing in their spare time to the amount of almost $300 a week. And that is just what it will mean to the fortunate ones who win a big prize.

These next three weeks will undoubtedly be the most important days in the history of this big election. All subscriptions received count on the BIG VOTE SCHEDULE toward the capital prizes to be awarded soon. Those entering any idea if winning one of these valuable cars should get busy NOW during this period while the BIG votes are still in force.

"Work done these 'big vote' days will easily bring success to contestants in this big election. The lagard, unwilling to devote any time or thought to the grand prizes, however, will reap no reward. This is a campaign strictly for 'live wires.'"

If you are alive, awake to the opportunity now before you, willing to give some of your time and thought to a proposition whereby over $10,000 in prizes are at stake—then you should be a candidate. You should send in your name today.

You can secure your choice of the four big, powerful, beautiful automobiles of hundreds of dollars in gold in a very few days' work. The work is easy—requires no special talent or education to earn the very biggest of the awards.

Your opportunity, then, to win a prize that will repay you many times for your efforts is here. But, to get your rightful share, you must get busy and take advantage of the opportunity.

Don't lag in the campaign; don't hesitate or be timid about your race. Go right to it and keep right in it. Give your campaign as much attention during your spare time as you would any good business proposition, for right here is, no doubt, the greatest opportunity that will come to you in your life.

Stop and consider: did you ever before in a few short weeks have the opportunity to cash your spare time for $210,000? This is possible.

Do you think you haven't a chance if you enter now? Why have you every chance. Not one candidate has a lead that cannot be overcome with a few days' work.

It's Up to You.

The only thing that will keep you from winning is you, yourself. If you enter the campaign determined to win, you will be. It's up to you entirely. If you want any one of the four valuable cars or to participate in the thousands of dollars in cash to be distributed—and we think you do—get into the campaign today. Send in your nomination blank at once or come in—before 9 o'clock tonight.

If you can spare come down to election headquarters this evening. Find out all about the campaign, how to get votes, what is necessary to get them and then go after one of the biggest prizes.

MRS. LANSLOWNE IS TO TESTIFY BEFORE COURT OF INQUIRY

Widow of Commanded Lansdowne Invited to Make Statement Before the Board.

NO DATE MADE FOR STATEMENT

Mrs. Lansdowne Asks the Board to Postpone the Hearing Until the Latest Possible Time.

Lakehurst, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Margaret Ross Lansdowne, widow of Commander Zachary Lansdowne, captain of the Shenandoah, accepted today the invitation of the naval court of inquiry to appear and make a statement.

Mrs. Lansdowne's telegram to court suggested no date for her appearance, other than it be made at the latest possible time. It may be that she will not be heard here, but in Washington, if it finally is decided to transfer the inquiry to that city Mrs. Lansdowne now is in Washington.

Mrs. Lansdowne's telegram follows: "Reference to your wire, Am very desirous of appearing as witness before board of inquiry, but due to illness of daughter cannot leave Washington for next few days. Daily papers carrying statements to effect that hearings will be held Washington before adjournment. Please advise me latest date when I may appear, and if possible of appearing in Washington."

After the Shenandoah wreck, Mrs. Lansdowne was reported as having said Commander Lansdowne was reluctant to make the mid-western tour because of danger of thunderstorm and it was for that reason she was invited to appear as a witness. Calling of a woman in an inquiry in the loss of a naval ship is believed by many officers to be without precedent.

THE COTTON MARKET

Opened Easy Today at Decline of 23 to 24 Points Under Selling at Liquidation.

New York, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The cotton market opened easy today at a decline of 19 to 21 points and Southern selling and liquidation promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and rumors of an easier spin basis in the southwest. Brokers with southwest connections were anxious sellers, which tended to color talk.

Considerable covering and trading came in on the decline but stop orders were uncovered, and offerings were heavy at the break which carried December off to 23.32 or in new low ground for the movement.

January declined to 22.52. The market generally showed net loss of 23 to 29 points at the end of the first hour.

Cotton futures opened easy. Oct. 23.30; Dec. 23.40; Jan. 22.62; Mar. 22.80; May 23.07.
