DURHAM'S POPULATION NOW PLACED AT 42,258

Taking of Census by United States Census Bureau Numerators is Completed. Durham, Oct. 3.—Durham now has a population of 42,258. The result of the count of the residents of the city of Durham which has been conducted here during the past three weeks under the direction of the United States census bureau was officially announced this afternoon.

More than a score of enumerators have scored the territory which the city embraces during the period in which the count was being made and it is believed that but few, if any, persons were left out by the force which made the count.

Last April much new territory, including East and West Durham, were taken into the city limits and the addition of this added thousands to the number of the city's residents.

J. T. Nicholas, supervisor of the count, tonight certified the following figures: Total population 42,258. There are 28,687 whites, 13,569 negroes and two Chinese; there are 13,843 white males and 14,844 white females. There are 6,290 male negroes and 7,277 female negroes. Both Chinese in the city are males. There were 21,719 people in the city of Durham on January 1, 1920, and 11,807 people living outside of the city of Durham within the boundaries of Durham township.

Hornsbys Is Year's Champion Home Run Hitter

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Rogers Hornsbys, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and champion hitter of the National League, is the 1925 home run champion of the major leagues.

The St. Louis star hit 39 in the season ended today while his nearest rival, Bob Meusel, of the Yankees, came through with 32. "Babe" Ruth, who holds the record for home runs in the major leagues with 59 smashed out in 1921, got a late start this year and did not play regularly but he cashed in with 25, tying Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns for third place among the four-base clouters.

In 1922 Hornsbys had 42 homers, a record for the National league.

RIVE RING CIRCUS REALIZED AT LAST

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Enlarged to Accommodate New Big Acts.

At last the five-ring circus! For years reporters have used this figure of speech to describe the bigness of the Greatest Show on Earth. Now, for the first time in history, patrons will actually find five rings when the greater Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus of 1925 comes to Charlotte October 10th.

With the addition last winter of enough performing horses to bring the Big Show's total to three hundred and fifty the problem presented to the Ringling Brothers was, "How to handle five troupes of them in a single display?" The limits of the show grounds in many cities forbade lengthening the main tent. None of the stages could be spared. All were needed for the big collective groups of human actors. Then somebody suggested that enough of the "big top" paraphernalia could not be cut down nor yet "spread out," there was no reason why it should not be "built higher."

That suggestion was worked out and now, in addition to the three tiered floors rings, two additional rings have been constructed to fit over the tops of the steel structured stages.

This is the greatest innovation since the Ringling Brothers started their supercilious policy by combining their own with the Barnum & Bailey circus. It has opened the way not only for trained horse numbers in sets of five but for other big, new displays. Though there are more than eight hundred men and women arctic stars of the mammoth program of 1925 only a few of the most brilliant are presented singly. Instead they are presented in imposing ensemble. These groups extend over the entire length of the main tent—seven, nine, eleven and eleven troupes in action at one time. In keeping with this plan of giving the spectators at the ends of the tent just as much "show" as is enjoyed by those nearer the center, five herds of elephants are now presented instead of three. A hundred clowns distribute their caperings in all parts of the "big top."

The hippodrome track is utilized more than ever before. At one time it is completely circled by one hundred and fifty trained horses, each ridden by an expert, in an amazing ballet and "Fete of the Gardens." Again it is filled with glittering pageants, with splendid high-school horses or remarkable thoroughbreds that give thrilling exhibitions of lofty-hurdling and hazardous high-jumps.

ORMOND WROTE OF CASWELL LIFE

Told Editor Harker of His Experiences While in Training at Fort. Wilmington, Oct. 4.—"The wind is blowing hard on the battery tonight—no good old coal fires to sit by, declared W. W. Ormond, dead at the end of W. B. Cole's pistol in August, in a letter addressed to W. B. Harker, editor of the Maxton Scottish Chief, from Fort Caswell October 9, 1917.

Mr. Ormond, who with James (Skeeter) McQueen, volunteered with the Wilmington light infantry, then designated as the Eighth Company, Coast Artillery Corps, North Carolina national guards, trained at Fort Caswell, near this city, for nine months, prior to embarkation for overseas service. Lawrence Everett, mentioned in the following letter, who was a tentmate of Ormond, is now located in New York, where he is connected with Alex Sprunt and Sons, Inc., cotton exporters of this city.

RUSSIA GOES WET AFTER 11 YEARS OF PROHIBITION

Thousands of Bottles of Pre-War Liquors Are Released at Nominal Price. Moscow, Oct. 4.—After eleven years of partial prohibition, Russia today became completely wet. Whiskey, brandy and liquors containing 60 per cent. of alcohol, again appeared in the cafes, restaurants and stores.

The new order was to have gone into effect October 1st, but as this was within the recruiting period of the Red army, it was postponed until today. Several hundred thousand bottles of pre-war liquors of various kinds, which could not be sold previously on account of their high alcoholic content, were automatically released for sale at from $1 to $4 a quart.

Heretofore the government has maintained a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors, but under the new order private individuals will be permitted to make and sell liquor.

Asheville Sees Big Population Growth.

Asheville, Oct. 5.—Indications that the city of Asheville, proper, will attain a population of more than 65,000 within the next five years if the present rate of influx continues and that with its suburbs it will include from 100,000 to 150,000 permanent inhabitants, show in a survey of general conditions just made public by the Chamber of Commerce, according to officials of that organization.

During the past five years from 1920 to 1925 the city population has increased, it is shown in the government census tables, more than 50 per cent. In 1920, the population for the city of Asheville was 28,504 as compared with the 42,756 inhabitants listed in the 1925 tabulations.

Few Cotton Co-Ops Break Contracts.

Asheville, Oct. 5.—Less than one-fourth of one per cent of the cotton growers who have signed up with the North Carolina Co-Operative Cotton Growers' Association have declined to live up to their agreements and forced the association to resort to legal compulsion to make them abide by the decision, according to A. B. Breece, of Raleigh, of the legal department of the association who spent Saturday and a part of Sunday in Charlotte.

KITCHEN ORCHESTRA TO HAVE STRANGE MEDLEY

Unusual Instruments to Be Heard in War Mother's Program Friday

An outstanding event of the musical season in Concord is the program which is to be given Friday night in the High School auditorium when a new organization, the War Mother's Kitchen Orchestra, makes its debut in a succession of pleasing and tuneful notes.

Advance notices from persons in charge indicate that it will be one of the most spectacular "first nights" ever seen in the city. "Such an advance in Concord is seldom been gathered on one platform previously and the instruments they play are not only varied but are unique.

Of the most popular of the instruments a coffee pot crossed with a gazook seems to hold the spotlight, although there are many who contend that the dishpan when struck with a soup ladle is perhaps a more resonant of tone. Music critics in the city are waiting breathlessly to hear the new combinations which are to be tried out and herald the program as an advance in the art of music.

It is the aim of the committee in charge to put on such a program that the general public will not only have a greater appreciation of music in its highest form but that it will also be uplifted and inspired to bigger, better things.

As a motto for the new organization, "Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast," was thought most suitable. There was, however, a small catch. Those extracting music from rolling pins, who were quite determined to have as their slogan the very original words, "His Master's Voice," with a photograph of their husbands directly above the words.

School Boys Sworn in as Traffic Cops.

Salisbury, Oct. 5.—In an effort to protect life and limb from traffic accidents safety patrols from all four of the city schools have been selected and sworn in with limited powers as traffic cops. Each patrol of boys has a captain and they are to be in communication with Chief of Police Cable. Mayor Henderlite swore the boys in as traffic cops and they will wear badges when on duty.

These boys will be drilled this week by C. T. Matthews, of Greensboro, who will be here as a representative of the Carolina Motor Club to help carry out Safety Week program. Mr. Matthews besides drilling the boys will address civic clubs and school assemblies on safety measures.

PROPOSES THAT COUNTY BUILD "COMFORT" ROOMS

Q. E. Smith Asks That County Commissioners Construct Rest Rooms on Church Street.

County Commissioners, in session Monday here, were given something over which to ponder, when a proposition was made by Capt. Q. E. Smith, City Engineer, that they construct a "comfort building" as soon as possible for the convenience of the farmers and their families.

No definite action was taken in the matter, it being thought best to defer action until the next meeting, which will be held a month hence. According to the plans presented by Mr. Smith, the building should be built on Church street, in close proximity to the County building. It should be placed directly on the street, said Mr. Smith, not stuck in some back lot.

It was pointed out to the County Commissioners that as things stand at present, there is no place for people coming in from the country to go to rest when they come to Concord. When they spend the day, as many do, shopping in the city, they are inconvenienced because of the lack of such a building.

With this building as headquarters, visitors from the country would have a comfortable place to go when they get tired and their stay in the city would be made much more pleasant. Numbers of persons on the streets have been heard to remark favorably on such a project, declaring that it was a thing that the city had needed for years.
