VACATION MEMORIES

Rev. W. C. Alexander Writes of His Visit to Concord.

Rev. W. C. Alexander, pastor of the Glen Leven Presbyterian Church, of Nashville, Tenn., in the last issue of "The Banner of Blue," a paper published by his church, thus writes of his visit to Concord last summer:

The pastor's vacation, covering the first two Sabbaths in August, was spent in Concord, N. C., as the guest of the First Presbyterian Church.

Concord is not the largest but it is the best town in the Old North State, Charlotte and Salisbury are two of its promising suburbs. With its fine schools and churches, its great textile mills, its splendid business houses and new hotel, its twenty-six miles of paved streets, its beautiful homes and its charming people, Concord is a very desirable place of residence and a most delightful place to visit.

The First Presbyterian Church of Concord is one of the historic congregations of the state and is nearly 150 years old. At this time, under the leadership of their gifted pastor, Rev. J. C. Rowan, D. D., they are renewing their youth in the building of a splendid church worthy of their history and of their people.

A most desirable site has been secured at the very reasonable sum of $17,000.00 and the church planned by a New York architect is to cost $150,000.00—plus—considerably "plus" we suspect, and in addition, chimes, seating and pipe organ have been provided for as memorials.

The subscription for this splendid work was taken in a single day. Some years ago it was the writer's good fortune to be the pastor of this church for five years, and possibly because these kind memories have by this time forgotten all his shortcomings and transgressions, they have been so gracious from time to time as to invite him to return, and he is also grateful for the fact that he counts his friends in all the churches of the city.

Here, amid the old friends and the new, it was our privilege to spend ten radiant days, which, filled as they were with play and work, slipped by all too quickly. A luncheon and a "talk" with the Rotary Club, two dove shoots, a fishing trip on which we really caught fish—some—were among the relaxations, and in addition to many short trips, we motored to Greensboro over a wonderful highway which is rapidly becoming a continuous boulevard from Mecklenburg to Guilford. Then there was the joy of preaching the everlasting gospel in the morning at the First Presbyterian Church, and on one afternoon at a tender service at the County Home, and on one Sabbath evening in the Forest Hill M. E. Church which, to the speaker, was fragrant with the memory of a friend of former years, that high Christian gentleman, Mr. J. M. Odell.

These are beautiful memories but already they seem distant. While it was good to be away, it is good to be back. East and West, home is best. Rest is pleasant but service is sweeter. And now in the midst of our own beloved work the pastor does not at all regret that irresponsible outburst on the first Sabbath morning of his return, when, as he faced the congregation, the Spirit of Poesy suddenly descended upon him, and he exclaimed:

"Where'er I roam, wherever I may be, There's nothing beats old Nashville, Tennessee!"

DOG SHOW AT FAIR TO BEGIN ON WEDNESDAY

Dogs Will Be Placed Day Sooner Than Last Year So More People Can See Them.

Capt. W. S. Bingham, who will be in charge of the dog show at the Cabarrus County Fair, and who is making final plans for the show now, announces that this year the dogs will be placed on Wednesday instead of Thursday, so more people will have opportunity to see them.

Judging of the dogs will not start until Thursday morning, but by placing them Wednesday the public will be given an opportunity to see them Wednesday afternoon, Wednesday night and Thursday. Last year the dogs were not placed until Thursday morning.

Capt. Bingham is very enthusiastic over prospects for a successful show this year. He expects that every show space in the exhibit hall will be utilized after the dogs have been placed.

Persons who desire information about the show are asked to confer with Mr. Bingham.

Pink L. Christy Dead at Home in No. 4 Township.

Pink L. Christy, aged 49 years, died at his home in No. 4 Township Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, after an illness of five weeks. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, burial being made in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Christy was born in Iredell county and moved to Concord where he resided for several years, moving to No. 4 township about ten years ago. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving him are a wife and ten children. He is also survived by three sisters and one brother.

BIG PROGRAM MAPPED OUT AT Y FOR YEAR

Plans Completed For Indoor Activities Which Will Be Best in History of City. H. B. Sald.

With the opening of the winter season in Y athletics next week, one of the most active and interesting programs ever mapped out by the physical department here will be begun.

Repair work, which has been underway at the Y building for the past month, will be completed this week and everything will be in readiness for the opening Monday. The entire interior has been repainted and repapered and presents a spic and span appearance. Not only has its appearance been radically improved, but it will be found more convenient, the showers having been rebuilt and more lockers having been installed in the men's locker room.

One class has been at work for some time. This class consists of young men who are aspiring to positions on the wrestling team, their number augmented by others who are in the class for the purpose of taking the exercises which regularly precede the actual work of wrestling. They meet three times a week and go through the rigorous exercises calculated to build up their bodies physically for a period of a half an hour. Thereafter they have wrestling instruction under J. W. Denny.

The schedule which is now being prepared and which should be completed at an early date, has on it the colleges in the state and several neighboring states, as well as other Associations featuring this sport.

Volley ball is to receive prominent attention. This sport has proved itself very popular with the business men of the community since its entry among the games at the Y and will probably be among the foremost this winter. Practice hours are arranged and a schedule of games will be drawn up later in the season.

An effort will be made along this line to put out a winning team, one that will be able to cope with any in the state. Kannapolis was successful in coping state championship honors last season and the locals will strive to take the crown away from their neighbors.

November 1st will be the opening date for basket ball, for years the major sport of the Y. M. C. A. Not only will a team be put out which will represent the Y in contests out of the city, but there will be a league of some eight teams wherein the basketballers of the city may disport themselves.

Denny is planning to coach the Y team and declares that he is confident that he will be in a position to put out a winning five. Early games will be played in December.

The gym schedule when the boys and girls of the city have a chance to work off some of the surplus energy will not begin until after the fair is finished. The opening date is set for Monday, October 19.

The bicycle race, which has been a fixture since last spring and has been scheduled several times each month, is postponed for the last week of the month of October. It is said by officials that it will be run for sure this time, having been held up prior to this on account of conditions in Salisbury.

On each Saturday this winter, there will be some outside work for the boys of the city, consisting of hikes or some other form of outing. Johnson and Denny will act as chaperons on these occasions. A number of hikes were successfully staged last winter and this year's program will be received by the youngsters with interest.

In commenting on the plans for the winter, J. W. Denny asserted that this was by far the biggest program which has ever been given in the city. The men, he added, were being given the pick of the hours.

Sapenfield Baby Is Adjudged Best. Shelby Star.

Dorothy Ann Sapenfield, age 12 months and 12 days, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sapenfield, 114 McBrayer Street, Shelby, was adjudged the best baby in the contest of 122 entrants at the county fair last week and was awarded the $5 prize.

The baby show was a big feature at the fair with more entries by proud mothers than had been expected, so it required Dr. Sam Schenck, the judge; Miss Irma Bowman, health nurse; Mrs. Irma Wallace, home economics demonstrator and two Shelby hospital nurses, four hours to take the measurements, make the record, the result of the examinations and as many hours more to make the calculations necessary to determine the highest scoring youngsters. It was not a beauty contest, although mothers had their youngsters dressed in their best "bib and tucker" and it presented the prettiest sight at the entire fair.

LYRICIST OF '37' WRITES ANOTHER

Editor Greensboro News: Will you please publish the following song. I am the composer of the song No. 97 and as I have neither seen nor heard of a song about the Shenandoah I have composed this one and am now singing it and don't want to be robbed of the authorship of it if it should happen to become popular as my other song did, so please publish it, and if there is anything to pay advise me of the amount and I will send it to you.

FRED J. LEWEY.

The Shenandoah. Oh, you hurrying Throng Will you pause for a Song Of a terrible thing At your Door Somebody Blundered But it's too late to save The men who lie sleeping Tonight in their grave Who Died on that Great Shenandoah.

A wave from Lansdowne And she rose from the ground Like A Great bird She proudly did soar. Engines were Humming Oh how Proudly she flies She's our National Pride She's the Queen of the skies But She's lost, is that Great Shenandoah.

When the Rain Poured down Lightning flashed all around And the storm Seized the Ship with a roar Hark to her Straining When a loud Wild cry God help us all men Our time has come to die, But we'll Die with the Old Shenandoah.

Now the Mothers and wives Whose loved ones lost their Lives Oh their hearts With Despair are so sore Tendrils are falling And you people so gay As you hurry Shed a Tear for that Great Shenandoah.

Conscience is a still, small voice that warns us some one is looking.
