AUDIENCE CHEERS

"CHARLEY'S AUNT"

Concord Reverberates With Roars of Hysterical Laughter.

By the Press Agent.
When they say "it's enough to make a cat laugh," they don't go quite far enough. "Charley's Aunt" with Syd Chaplin is more than enough to make a crab laugh—even those 'crabs' that never admit it was the picture which made them laugh, it was only that they were feeling good.

Yes, we say this without any reservations whatsoever—"Charley's Aunt" is the funniest motion picture we have ever seen. It is a clean, wholesome story whose great charm and appeal lie in the simplicity of its humor interpreted by a cast of comedians who have caught the spirit of the farce and have carried it through to an hilarious success.

The farce was originally produced in England thirty-three years ago and has played continuously and in almost every known language ever since. As a screen farce, however, it far surpasses the stage version partly because the screen permits greater latitude in settings, and largely because Syd Chaplin is by far the greatest comedy actor who ever assumed the title role.

Syd Chaplin has the soul of a true comedian. Every gesture, every lift of the eyebrows, evokes a humorous reaction from his audiences, yet he himself seldom so much as smiles. The production, directed by Scott Sidney, to whom much credit is due, in addition to being beautiful, is so smooth and steady it seems actually to flow along. There are no raw edges, no unfinished corners.

FORTUNE GALLO TO APPEAR IN CITY

Entertainment Secured and Will Present Program Here November 24.—Twenty-five of the finest entertainers which are to be presented in Concord this winter have been secured and will appear in the city on November 24, according to a telegram received this morning by Mr. Blanks.

This number is Fortune Gallo, an impresario of the Grand Carlo-Opera Company, who will bring his company of twenty-five persons, sixteen of whom are Russian Ballet Dancers and the remaining nine composing a symphony orchestra to accompany the dancers.

The whole thing is a magnificent costume affair, it is said, bringing some of the most beautiful effects ever seen in the country. Last year, this same organization was the feature of the Asheville Festival where they presented their program.

Although secured by Mr. Blanks, the company is to be sponsored by the Music Department of the Woman's Club.

PRESENTING ACCIDENT PREVENTION IN CITY

C. T. Matthews, of Carolina Motor Club, Having Three Day Campaign in Concord.

The prevention of accidents, especially as related to automobiles, is being brought to the attention of the public in Concord this week when C. T. Matthews, of the Carolina Motor Club, is speaking to the schools and to a number of the organizations of the city.

Mr. Matthews, who arrived in the city Wednesday morning, started his program with an address before the Rotary Club, followed by a talk to the children of the Hartsell Mill. Today he is taking his message to the Central school children to the High School and to the Brown Mill. On Friday, he will appear at No. 2 School, the Kiwanis Club and the colored school.

To the civic clubs and to the older children, Mr. Matthews is pointing out the necessity of law enforcement for the prevention of accidents. He shows that the laws are made for a purpose and that by violating them, the offender is not only endangering his own life but also bringing other lives in hazard.

He also points out that while over a million dollars is spent yearly in North Carolina to improve health conditions, nothing is spent by the state for preventing accidents which take a great toll yearly in lives of its citizens. He was, he declared, the only full time accident prevention man in the South and he is sent out under the auspices of the Carolina Motor Club.

Simple rules to be followed in their daily life are given the smaller children in order to decrease the number of accidents. Some of the rules include the crossing of corners in pedestrian lanes, refraining from hitchhiking on automobiles and trucks while riding a bicycle or skating, to avoid running across streets—rather to cross at a right angle, not to pull raincoats and umbrellas over the head in a rain, and to walk on the left side of the highways.

Not only is the Motor Club sending out full-time men to try to reduce accidents, but it is also getting a safety class in a number of the schools. In several cities, the civics teachers take charge of this work, using literature sent out from headquarters at Greensboro. The Carolina Motor Club not only has its own literature but it also gets it from several national organizations which cooperate with the club.

At the present, according to Mr. Matthews, the Carolina Motor Club is following lines of work which have been successfully tried in other parts of the country, particularly in St. Louis and Detroit. Since 1913, Detroit has reduced its accidents over 50 per cent, and St. Louis has also reduced its numbers materially. It is thought best to pattern the work after these places where the has been successful work.

In some cities in North Carolina, Durham for one, said Mr. Matthews, safety patrols have been organized. This has the older boys in the school to have charge of helping the small children across the street at dangerous crossings, thereby not only making it safer for the children but also teaching the older ones proper observance of rules of traffic.

BLUEFIELD PARTY HAD GREAT TIME IN CITY

Letter of Appreciation Received by Dr. Spencer, President of Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. T. N. Spencer, president of the Concord Chamber of Commerce, has received a letter of thanks and appreciation from Conrad Brevick, secretary-manager of the Bluefield, W. Va., Chamber of Commerce, for the fine reception given the Bluefield motoreaders on its recent visit here.

The letter follows:
Dear Sir:
A regrettable lapse on my part resulted in my not remembering your name so I could write to you personally to express the appreciation of our delegation for the eventful and unforgettable hour was spent with you folks at the Stowall Jackson Training School.

The hospitality accorded us was so genuine and far exceeded what we had any right to expect that our folks can't seem to stop buttonholing those unfortunates who didn't go and telling them what a truly great state you have and what wonderful folks you are. I'm afraid if we hadn't started back when we did, some of our people never would have come home.

Is it too much to hope that these events may hereafter be at least annual—you come to see us one year, and we come back the next?

The effects of the trip will be more far-reaching than any of us now realize. Roads will be built more rapidly; business between us will be accelerated to mutual advantage; splendid friendships have been made; we esteem each other more highly than we ever possible before we got acquainted; we're going to direct traffic your way the instant the roads are completed, and you are going to send your visitors to see us.

I feel that this expression is inadequate, but it is none the less sincere. We owe you personally a special debt of gratitude and will always remember with the greatest kindness the wonderful way you took care of us.

Respectfully yours,
CONRAD BREVICK,
Secretary-Manager.

With Your Gas Man

GRANDMA SPEAKS

"I hear much complaint from the young housewives of today about long hours in the kitchen, arduous household duties, hot weather work and the like," comments an elderly woman. "I wonder what these young girls would say if they had coal buckets and wood bins to fill, ashes to carry out, lamp wicks to trim and washing to do, over a sizzling coal stove. It seems to me they are surfeited with conveniences but utterly lacking in their sense of appreciation."

Grandma is correct. We are literally surrounded by the most marvelous conveniences known to mankind. Yet how easy it is to think lightly of them or even forget them. Sometimes it takes the older generation to bring us to our senses. A description of domestic duties fifty years ago generally makes one thankful for the blessings of today.
