BUSINESS AND THE OUTLOOK.

Philadelphia Record.
It is remarkable that while Federal Reserve figures show that loans secured by stocks and bonds have increased more than $800,000,000 over last year there appear no signs of untoward expansion of loans based upon commodities. The extent of building operations is referred to as surprising, permit issued in 160 cities in September, according to Bradstreet's being approximately $30,000,000 higher than in September of last year. Undoubtedly there is some speculation in real estate in spots—witness the Florida land craze and the booms in sea shore and suburban properties. But, as the bulletin of the National City Bank, of New York, puts it, "it is impossible to have prosperity without having developments of this character. The great body of the business of the country, however, is being conducted on conservative lines."

The industrial development of the week was the gain in unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation, which was several times as great as the forecasters had estimated. The end of September bookings showed an increase of 204,494 tons over the bookings at the end of August. This happens to be the first increase since February, and it makes total orders 3,717,297 tons, confirming the statements that have been made frequently within the month that the iron and steel barometer of business was giving a good account of itself. Incidentally, it is showing less hesitation in the placing of forward orders than has been observable heretofore. Statistics on pig iron production for September give further evidence of expansion. The daily rate of output increased about 4 per cent., and the average of 39,873 tons, reported by The Iron Age, shows the highest level since last May.

Weather during the past week has been favorable to jobbing, wholesale and retail trade. Reports to Dun's Review indicate increasing evidence of the upward course of business. "Some holding back still appears in certain instances, but the main trend is unmistakably toward expansion, and there is greater stability now than has prevailed for a long time. This phase is reassuring, because it reflects an absence of speculative excesses in commercial transactions and show that conditions are on a sound basis."

The dream of 20c-cotton came near to realization last week after the appearance on Thursday of the Government's crop estimate, which placed the probable yield at 14,759,000 bales. This came as a considerable surprise to the trade, which had expectations in the neighborhood of 14,000,000 bales. Another bearish factor in the market was the statement from the Census Bureau that 7,101,710 bales had been ginned prior to October 1, or 2,574,000 bales more than the total on the same day last year.

A continuance of seasonal activity is reported in textiles. In some lines prices have been advanced on spot deliveries, mainly because of advances in raw material. Except in parts of the South, where the drought has brought about a curtailment of operations, the trend of cotton goods production has been upward. With wool firmer in all markets, woolen and worsted mills are running more fully than a year ago. Unusual activity continues in the silk industry, though the prices of raw silk cause uncertainty. The leather trade continues quiet. The wheat market was unsettled and irregular during the week. Many traders in the Chicago market seemed to look for the disposition of the Canadian crop as an important factor in determining price levels. According to information received by the Department of Agriculture from its foreign service, the total yield of wheat in 28 countries in the Northern Hemisphere is put at 2,153,000,000 bushels, as compared with 1,758,000,000 bushels last year. Including figures for the United States, the yield was estimated at 2,815,000,000 bushels, compared with 2,631,000,000 in 1924. These totals represent about 85 per cent. of the world's crop, exclusive of Russia and China.

The rich cotton mill magnate made up the party going to Arkansas. No definite time was set for their return. Ormond, having been a suitor for her hand, will return Thursday morning to Rockingham, it was stated. The Coles spent today with Dr. W. F. Cole at his home here, having arrived last night from Wilkesboro, where the hearing to determine whether or not Cole would be placed in the criminal insane department of the state prison was held Tuesday before Judge T. B. Finley and where the defendant was completely freed from the grip of the law.
The day was quietly spent here. Mr. Cole said that after the vacation he would return to Rockingham.
A. L. Brooks, one of the counsel who fought for Cole's life in the trial at Rockingham, today criticized the press for criticizing the verdict returned in the case. "The action of

COLUMBIA MAN AND WIFE BOTH BENEFIT GREATLY

"This Medicine, Karnak, Is Certainly All That's Claimed For It," Says Geo. Hughes of Sou. Ry. Shops.

"You can bet your life this new medicine, Karnak, is all that's claimed for it and then some," declares Geo. W. Hughes, well known boiler-maker at the Southern Railway Shops in Columbia, S. C., and living at 1701 Richmond St.
"I tell you this Karnak just puts new life in a person and makes him feel the good of it to his finger tips," adds Mr. Hughes. "There's nothing else like it to make anybody really feel like themselves again."
"All the past spring and summer I was in a badly rundown condition. My appetite was poor, and I ate such a little and it did me such little good that I felt tired and sluggish all the time, and I just had to force myself along. I tell you if a man keeps up with the heavy work I do here in the boiler shop, he's got to keep in condition."
"Well sir, I began taking this Karnak to build up my system and increase my appetite, and I'll tell the world it was just what I needed. The first bottle started me to eating and now, since taking two bottles, I can hardly wait for meal time to come.

Yes, sir I just stay hungry, and my food is doing me the good it ought to now. I have so much strength and energy that I'm just like a new man, and that sluggish feeling has left me and I'm simply feeling fine."
"My wife has been troubled with indigestion and sour stomach for a long time, and soon after I started taking Karnak she started it, too. Well sir, in just a few days time it relieved her of the indigestion, and now she eats anything she wants without any bad effects afterwards, and simply has a world of new strength and energy. Yes sir, this Karnak sure does the work, and does it right now, and we are more than glad to recommend it."
Karnak is sold in Concord exclusively by the Pearl Drug Co.; in Kannapolis by the E. L. Smith Drug Co.; in Mt. Pleasant by the A. W. Moore Drug Co.; and by the leading druggist in every town.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE GIRL AND BOY MATES RE-WED

Business of the Conference Goes Forward Like Clockwork.
Mamie Bays in Charlotte Observer.
Statesville, Oct. 15.—The Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, voted today in favor of the proposed plan of unification of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Three hundred and sixty-six ballots were cast, 221 in favor of and 145 against the proposed plan, the majorities in favor being only 70.

Now that this question has been decided, so far as this conference is concerned, the election of delegates to the general conference will claim chief place of interest Friday morning until the eight clerical and eight lay delegates have been elected.
It is probable that interest in delegates to the general conference never has been so great at any previous session of the conference, and this, to an interested observer, seems to be especially true, regardless of the lay delegates.

Among the rumors in this connection is one that C. H. Ireland, L. B. Rogers, D. F. Giles, A. H. Phillips, J. F. Shinn, J. B. Ivey, G. L. Hackney, and F. N. Tate have strong support as the personnel of the lay delegates.
Among the clerical members rumor connects with the delegation are those of E. K. Boyer, T. H. Barnhardt, J. F. Kirk, T. F. Marr and D. M. L. taker, in addition to those published in The Observer of Wednesday. The election will take place as the first order of the day Friday morning.

The roll of districts was called and each presiding elder was given opportunity to make substitution of alternates for principals in the lay delegation of the conference. Several substitutions were made, and in each instance Bishop Denny inquired carefully whether the lay delegate was 25 years of age and had been a member of the church not less than six years, and asked whether any member of the conference had cause to challenge the right of his or her eligibility to serve as a lay delegate. In no instance was there a challenge.

Answering minute question 10, "Who are received from other churches as traveling preachers," James W. Hicks, an elder in the Presbyterian Church in the United States, was received as an elder into the conference. He will be received on Friday.

J. W. Barton, of Lamar and Barton, publishing agents of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, addressed the conference in the interest of that agency.

Publishing Record.
Mr. Barton called special attention to the fact that the business of the publishing house the past year lacked about $26,000 only of amounting to two and one-half million dollars, and that from the proceeds one hundred thousand had been sent to the annual conference of the church to be applied to the support of conference claimants.

Answering minute question 6, "Who are admitted into full connection?" the following named having met the requirements were admitted: H. R. Cornelius, B. M. Hatten, E. W. Howard, G. B. Clemmer, E. M. Jones, B. M. Stafford, and M. L. Tuttle.
Bishop Denny spoke briefly only to the class received into full connection, stating that the class and the conference would not profit by an address at this time. He urged the members of the class, however, to be true to themselves and to be honest in the sight of God and their brethren. He spoke of the importance of strength of character, and said: "I always feel sorry for a man on crutches. Go on your own feet."
Speaking of the value of honesty in character, Bishop Denny quoted the following words from Homer, which he read in Greek a few days since:

"Hateful to me as the gates of hell is the man who conceals one thing in his heart and speaks another."
