Mrs. E. C. Register.
A good, noble woman has gone to her well-earned reward in the passing of Mrs. E. C. Register, known to and admired by more people in this community than, perhaps, any other resident of either sex.

It was because of her unselfish service to humanity, her self-expenditure for others, her total forgetfulness of her own interests when the interests of others were to be conserved, that brought to her the possession of the love and esteem so generously of the people of this community.

Her love of humanity was the dominating of her dynamic career. All things she were put in the background and here, in the hour of her sudden passing, is the life of that other woman who "lives" in the rest and the glorified remembrance of the righteous and the saintly.

Some men get on by plodding; a certain number by plotting.

METHODISTS AT STATESVILLE

Recommend That Western North Carolina Conference Establish Hospital.
Statesville, Oct. 16.—Modernism and fundamentalism have been given place with the Methodists in session here. While these questions have not been brought before the Conference for discussion, they have become one of the issues in the election of delegates to the General Conference which meets next May. The so-called fundamentalists and so-called modernists, or those so classed, are accusing each other of trying to send a delegation in harmony with their views of the question. It is evident that there are very few if any extreme modernists in the Conference.

The election of delegates was the special order of the day immediately after the reading of the minutes this morning. From the viewpoint of an observer it seemed that the lines were closely drawn and when the hour for balloting arrived the interest was almost as pronounced as it was yesterday when the matter of unification was before the Conference. Friends of both sides were urging the election of certain men to do to legislative gathering of the church. It would seem that the fundamentalists, if there are such, scored the first touch-down on the first ballot for laymen. Only two men were chosen and it is claimed they are strong for the old ways: C. H. Ireland and J. H. Ivey. The first clerical vote went to J. E. Barnhardt and Dr. Ashley Chappell, a majority, both of them being classed as progressive conservatives and according to custom Mr. Barnhardt will lead the clerical delegation and Mr. Ireland the lay.

Entitled to Sixteen.
This Conference is entitled to eight clerical and eight lay delegates, it having a membership of three hundred and five, and are allowed one delegate of each kind for every forty-eight members of the Conference. Six lay and two clerical were all that were elected at today's session. Another ballot will be taken on the convening of Conference Saturday morning.

W. W. Pinson, of Nashville, Tenn., general secretary of the board of missions, delivered a stirring address to the conference giving to the brethren a bird's eye view of the condition of the board and making a strong appeal to the conference to carry on the great work begun under the great centenary movement of seven years ago. That board of missions had reported number one, pledging the conference to take up the task as outlined by Dr. Pinson.

The report of the Duke commission having to do with certain funds set apart by the late James B. Duke for the assistance of the mission board and that of church extension and work-out preachers was presented to the conference.

Rev. J. T. Mangum, who has been pastor of the church at Waynesville, was recommended by the hospital board to take charge of the hospital and golden cross work in the conference, and W. L. Sherrill was recommended for appointment as conference educational secretary by the board of education.

Four Are Referred.
Four ministers are referred to the committee on conference relation for the superannuate relation. The conference listened to the fraternal messenger from the Methodist Protestant church.

Five young men were admitted on trial into the conference and will receive their first appointment as preachers in charge Monday.

The report of the superannuate committee which has had charge of raising a special fund for superannuate preachers made their report and were discharged, having accomplished their task.

Rev. N. R. Richardson, one of the superannuate preachers, led the opening devotions this morning.

Lay delegates to General Conference: C. H. Ireland, J. B. Ivey, G. L. Hackney, J. F. Shinn, L. E. Phillips and W. R. Odell; clerical delegates, Rev. J. H. Barnhardt and Dr. Ashley Chappell. There will be further balloting today.

HIGHS LOSE FIRST GAME OF SEASON
Fall To Statesville After Taking Lead Soon After Game Started.—Too Much Fair.

Too much fair seemed to be the trouble with the Concord Highs Friday afternoon when they played Statesville and lost their first game of the season by a score of 19-9, after making a brilliant beginning.

The locals took the ball on the kick-off and executed a wonderful march down the field for a touchdown, completely sweeping aside all opposition. The score was made in less than five minutes after the game started.

It was then that the effects of the fair became evident. With only one practice during the period since the Salisbury contest, and with the players in no condition as a result of nightly visits to the Fair Grounds, the locals gave way before the Statesville attack and during the final three pe-

Statesville's first score came when Litaker punted out of bounds on his own 25 yard line. Their second tally was on a beautiful pass, Abernathy to Ramer and the last came as a result of a Concord fumble.

Printed silk handkerchiefs are often worn by Parisiennes in the manner sketched, pulled through a narrow bracelet of ribbon. They add a touch of color and dexterity that is exceedingly fascinating.

Chats With Your Gas Man

Customers sometimes ask us: "Why is the heating value of gas so much higher in summer time than it is during the cold winter weather?" They seem to think that gas like everything else gets cold in winter. The fact is that the heating value of gas is actually higher during cold weather than it is during hot weather. The reason for this is that the heating value is increased one per cent. for each five per cent. decrease in temperature of the gas.

However, the starting temperature of the food and water that must be heated in cooking will be colder in winter than in summer; therefore, a larger quantity of heat will be needed to bring the food or water to the boiling point. This explains, briefly, why more gas is used for cooking in winter than in summer.
