MRS. EDITH VANDERBILT TO WED SENATOR GERRY

Wedding to Follow Two of America's Richest Families. Asheville, Oct. 21.—Announcement was received in this city today of the marriage tomorrow in London, England, of Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, of Baltimore, to Senator Goelet Gerry, of Rhode Island.

Two of America's most prominent families and portions of two of America's fortunes will be united in the marriage of Mrs. Vanderbilt and Sen. Gerry, which will take place today in London, according to a dispatch from New York, although the bulk of the estate of George W. Vanderbilt, who died in 1914, went to his daughter, Cornelia, now the wife of Hon. Jean Francis Amherst Cecil, former secretary of the British embassy at Washington.

The vast estate, Baltimore, N. C. was left to the executors, Mrs. Vanderbilt and William K. Vanderbilt, to hold in trust for the daughter until her twenty-fifth year. In 1916, Mrs. Vanderbilt sold 50,000 acres of her Carolina holdings to the United States government for forest reserve at a price reported to be $5 an acre.

Senator Gerry has a one-fourth interest in property valued at $14,800,000 left by his mother; and, with his brother, and two sister, will divide the Gerry millions upon the death of their father, Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Edith S. Dresser, of New York and New Port, daughter of an army officer, a descendant of Peter Stuyvesant. She is a sister of Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, Mrs. Greenville Merry and Viscountess Roma D'Osnoy, who lives in France. In 1898 she was married in the American Church of the Trinity, Paris, to George W. Vanderbilt. The bridegroom was 37, the bride 22.

After the death of her husband in 1914, Mrs. Vanderbilt virtually retired to her home on Biltmore estate and devoted herself to managing its affairs. A few years later, rumors that she would marry again became current.

All such rumors were repeatedly denied by Mrs. Vanderbilt. Upon her return from Europe in 1924, she affirmed: "I have no interest in society. I would much rather live on a farm, I have been operating a dairy upon my estate since my husband died. My son-in-law, Mr. Cecil, will now aid me in the management. It seems to me that the next development in social life in America will be country family life like that in England."

Sons of Clergymen. Dearborn Independent. Who's Who in America contains 25,357 biographies. Of those whose importance in the life of the country entitled them to admission to its pages, 25.9 per cent were born on farms; 24.5 per cent in towns of less than 8,000; 24.8 per cent in small cities; 20.6 per cent in cities of over 50,000; 4.1 per cent in suburbs of large cities. Sons of clergymen made up 11.1 per cent of the total, which means that, in proportion to population, they composed 28 times the average number of notables.

When Admiral William S. Sims, testifying before President Coolidge's air inquiry board, remarked that "war conditions cannot be imitated satisfactorily in peace-time airplane experiments, which consequently lead to wrong conclusions," he put his finger on the real cause of the inability of army and navy men to agree on the dependability of planes and planes alone, as weapons of national defense.

Why Many Women Prefer Autos to Modern Home. West Escape From the Monotony of Housewife's Lot. New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Escape from the monotony rather than the drudgery of the housewife's lot has caused her to choose luxuries instead of conveniences, concludes the General Federation of Women's Clubs after a canvass on "What women want in their homes."

The average American housewife prefers an automobile and a telephone rather than have modern plumbing arrangements in her home, because "these offer relief from a monotony that has driven many of her predecessors into insane asylums."

The federation's findings were written by Mrs. Mary Sherman, national president, in the Woman's Home Companion. "The housewife does not mind washing stacks of dishes under the glow of an electric globe, but the task doubles or trebles if she must do it by the smoky dim light from a kerosene lamp," said Mrs. Sherman.

It was Thomas Huxley who said that an acre of good fishing ground will yield more food in a week than an acre of the best land will year in a year.

Colds that develop into pneumonia. Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (ad.)
