IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

CAROLINA TEAMS NO MATCH FOR OUT-OF-STATE ELEPHENS

University Alone Staves Defeat With Field Goal.—Lenoir-Rhyne Saves North Carolina From Oblivion. North Carolina's football teams have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. They seem to be unable to cope effectively with the elephants of other sections of the South. Saturday found every member of the state's big five and one of the lesser lights engaged in tiffs with foreign teams. The results speak eloquently for themselves: Davidson lost to Furman, 7-0; State was crushed by V. M. L., 27-6; Wake Forest fell before Florida, 24-3; Duke was downed by William and Mary, 35-0; and Elon was roughly handled by the unheard of Concord State aggregation to the tune of 31-0. Carolina alone was able to win and her margin was not sufficient to cause any prolonged cheers nor to bring about any well-earned honor for her supporters. Beating Mercer 3-0 is hardly a thing about which to be proud, especially since both Georgia and Florida had previously run rough-shod over the Baptists.

Not exactly a fruiting bunch of scores. A total of 124 points scored by teams in Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia against a measly 12 points for North Carolina teams. It is a disgrace, a reflection on North Carolina's manhood. In our opinion, Senator Foll should take the matter before the legislature and see if something can't be done about it. Yes, Mr. Foll, you really should. State College was the only one of the eleven able to cross a goal line and this came after she was hopeless in the year. She perked up, as the dispatches stated, and for a time looked like a real team. It is a peculiar way State has, every now and then playing brilliant ball and afterward dropping back into mediocrity. Two years ago, she flashed up with some startling work against Washington and Lee which scored for her two touchdowns against a team which was rated as the best in South Atlantic circles that season. And Duke! The boys just had to celebrate the bequest of $17,000,000 recently given them from Mr. Duke's estate and so they went up to William and Mary when they played the second and third teams of that school to a standstill. Of course, Matza and Davis had a little fun later on with forward passes which made them thirty-five points but the Duke boys have the satisfaction of knowing that they held the second and third teams.

As for the Furman-Davidson tilt, the expected happened, with Furman playing perhaps less brilliantly than had been predicted. Davidson did some spectacular work holding the South Carolina Baptist and had it not been for the fact that Gray misjudged Wawley's punt, the chances are that the game would have ended in a scoreless tie. It must be conceded that Furman was easily superior throughout the game but the lighted Davidson players had a way of holding their own in pinches which was remarkable. Incidentally, it must be pointed out that the Furman end, Tigman, was the best wingman seen in these parts in recent years and was an outstanding man in the play. We pick him for one of the All-South Carolina positions. Carolina was unable to do much against Mercer, the latter's line holding the Tar Heels on the one yard line. It was rather heartening to hear, however, the North State backs, as being spoken of in the dispatches, as among the best in the Southern Conference, but we have a suspicion that it may be Mercer trying to boost her team.

Prospects for Carolina are not bright for the rest of the season, playing, as she does, Maryland, V. M. L., Davidson and Virginia. One Carolina alumnus goes so far as to predict that she will lose every game. It may not be so bad. Wake Forest failed to better last year's record against the Florida team materially. Her play, though brilliant at first, failed to last and the Boom-staters had little trouble in making touchdowns thereafter. And then, with the rest of them, Elon lost to the West Virginia squad, putting up little opposition. Lenoir-Rhyne wins the silver loving cup with the brass trimmings, saving the state from total oblivion. On Friday, the Lutherans were able to crush the South Carolinians from Eskine, 17-6. Chief Owl, former Kannapolis baseballer, was a shining light in the play for Daniel Rhyne's College.

HEAVY RAINFALL IN CITY SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

The Total Rainfall Exceeds Several Months Precipitation Last Summer. Amount Is 1.6 of Inch. The rainfall Saturday and Sunday exceeded by several tenths of inches the precipitation during a number of months last summer. The total for the two days was 1.6 inches. On Saturday night particularly, the rain fell in torrents and continued fitfully during the remainder of the night and early Sunday morning. Although clear weather prevailed the greater part of the day Sunday, there were indications today that more rain would fall to swell the volume of the swollen rivers. During the past five months, when there has been an almost uninterrupted drought, there has never been a rain of this magnitude. It may be remembered that during the month of July, the precipitation in the city was approximately .29 of an inch. Concord and vicinity was visited by unusually high winds Sunday morning, thought to have been the end of the cyclone which devastated portions of Alabama and South Carolina. No damage has been reported, despite the fact that the wind was of unusual intensity.

WINECOFF IS PLANNING BIG CAGE SEASON

Enter Gruelling Training Period For Great Basketball Campaign.—Mitchell Will Do the Coaching. BY JAZZY MOORE. The largest pre-season squad in the history of Winecoff High School reported for early basketball training today in the hopes of getting off to an early and successful start this season. Every member of the high school student body with the exception of one boy, has gone in for this indoor sport. And with several veterans returning and an array of recruits to choose from, Winecoff is destined to become a first outfit of basketballers. In fact, reserves will be one of Winecoff's greatest assets this year. Among the scrubs, are found some promising material which Coach Mitchell is expected to make use of. Under the guidance of "Shorty" Mitchell, resident of Spartanburg, S. C., and mentioned as a possible member of the mythical collegiate five of the Palmetto state, the aspirants went through a gruelling practice this afternoon. Something over twenty men are out for the five berths: three centers, ten forwards, and eleven guards. However, this much is certain—Coach Mitchell has made it clear to all candidates that every position is now wide open. First Game in November. It is generally understood that Winecoff will not be represented in the county league this winter by its high school proteges, but will play accredited and non-accredited high schools, and prep. institutions. Although a manager has not been elected, Coach Mitchell has booked the initial affair for late November. This game will give Mitchell a chance to note the defects in his machine, and will give him a line of possibilities of a winning five this year. The regular schedule calls for the opening number on December 5th. Either Mt. Pleasant or Bessemer City will be met that date. Non-Accredited Champions? Last year only fourteen schools entered the non-accredited championship series, and Winecoff swamped one of the strongest entries, Landis. Local followers are quite confident that the mentor will be able to build a credible quintet that will easily top the non-accredited crown this year. And unless some burst from the clear sky shatters Mitchell's proposed combination, "On to Chapel Hill and State Non-Accredited Laurels," will be the cry.

WIND STORM CAUSES SLIGHT DAMAGE HERE

Several Trees Damaged by Wind Which Accompanied Rain of Sunday Morning. A wind storm, apparently the tail-end of the tornado which struck in Alabama and South Carolina, caused slight damage in Concord early Sunday morning. Trees in several parts of the city were damaged by the wind which accompanied the rain that began falling early Sunday morning. The wind and rain continued for several hours but about noon the sun came out brightly and all signs of the storm disappeared. Several large limbs of trees were snapped off by the wind; the limbs in some instances being pitched into streets of the city. The falling limbs caused no damage so far as is known. The tornado which struck Alabama killed 18 persons and caused heavy property damage. In South Carolina caused damage to much property but no lives were lost there in the storm.

TWO AUTOS, TWO GARAGES ARE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Autos Property of W. M. Linker and Garages Owned by Mr. Linker and L. A. Fisher. Two garages and two automobiles were destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The garages were owned by W. M. Linker and L. A. Fisher and the two cars were the property of Mr. Linker. The fire started in the garage of Mr. Linker and spread rapidly to Mr. Fisher's garage, which was about four feet away. Mr. Linker and family were out riding at the time and the fire spread so quickly that an American Six touring car and a Chevrolet truck in the garage could not be removed. The fire was confined to the two garages. The origin of the fire is not known but it is believed to have started from one of the autos, probably from a short circuit. "Freshman" Offers New Lloyd Characterization. Harold Lloyd adds another outstanding characterization to his record of "Grand Old Boy," his mind physician of "Dr. Jack" and his student of "The Great Dictator" with his delineation of a college boy in "The Freshman," his latest contribution to the world of mirth, shown today at the Concord Theatre. It is said that Lloyd gives the best performance of his career in "The Freshman," in which he has caught the spirit of a college youth whose ambition is to become the most popular boy on the campus. The trials and tribulations he goes through to attain fame being about scores of hilarious incidents, with a large measure of sympathy running throughout the picture. This marks Lloyd's first screen attempt in a story of college life, but the part he plays in "The Freshman" seems to model him to perfect measure. Jobyna Ralston has been accorded the heroine role, and others in the cast are Hazel Keener, Brooks Benedict, Pat Harrington, James Anderson and Joe Harrington. Sam Taylor, John Gray, Ted Wilde and Tim Whelan wrote the story and Taylor and Fred Newmeyer directed. The longest stretch of the games in the Yale-Princeton football series was in 1870, 1880 and 1881, when the two teams played the three successive years without a single point being scored on either side.

BRIDE OF MORNING IS CORPSE AT NIGHT

Young Girl of Atlanta Dying of Typhoid, Saw That End Was Near and Sent For Financier. Monroe Journal. Love, marriage and death walked hand in hand for Miss Jewell Archer, 23 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Archer of Atlanta. Wednesday morning she was married; Wednesday night she was dead. Here is the story of love that smiled bravely with death beckoning, for to use her own words she "felt that death was near when she called E. R. Wheeler, her fiancé, to her bedside Wednesday morning and asked that the ceremony be performed at once. For two weeks she had been suffering from typhoid fever, but neither Mr. Wheeler nor her immediate family realized the dangerous nature of the illness, and among the quiet little group that assembled at the bedside for the ceremony she was the one who "knew it was the end." And so, while a bright October morning outside blazed the glory of Indian summer, the angel of love and marriage hovered over the bedroom, giving place a few short hours later to the silent angel of death. And she died peacefully, with a smile upon her lips, while her bridegroom, broken in grief, sat helplessly near. Yesterday Mr. Wheeler still was unable to comprehend, because, as he said to himself, he had not believed her when she had said death was near. For two years they had known each other and last spring they became engaged. But the date had not been set and his bride's request came suddenly, as suddenly as marriage and death. Just after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. W. Jones, pastor of the First Methodist church of East Point, Mrs. Wheeler, nee Miss Archer, was taken to an Atlanta hospital for a blood transfusion, which physicians hoped would save her life. Her bridegroom-husband insisted that he give his own blood in the attempt, but it was found unsuitable, and her brother was selected. The operation was unsuccessful, and she died shortly afterwards.

CHEAPERS CARS PROMISED WITH TAXES REMOVED

Auto Makers Pledge Themselves to Give Public Benefit. Washington, Oct. 24.—Promise of automobile manufacturers to pass onto buyers, through lower priced cars, full benefits of a repeal of the $150,000,000 annual federal tax levied against this industry was pledged today to the house ways and means committee. Urging repeal of the levies against passenger automobiles as well as those on automobile trucks, tires and accessories, the national automobile chamber of commerce reported "it had signed a pledge of every manufacturer that if the tax was repealed it would be cut entirely from the buyers' purchase bill. Questioning representatives of the automobile industry as to how much of a saving actually would be given buyers if the federal levy were repealed, Representative Freeway, Republican, Massachusetts, required that the manufacturer state in the advertised prices of cars or just elimination of the tax now added to these prices. It was admitted that only the added tax to the regular price would be dropped. Cut Other Prices. Lower priced cigars and theater tickets also were promised by representatives of those industries if the federal tax on cigars and admissions were reduced. Spokesmen of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America declared benefits of repeal of taxes on lower priced admissions would be passed on fully to patrons.

KANNAPOLIS MAN ENDORSES IT

It Was a Great Surprise to Him. "Your HERB JUICE has given me so much relief that I want you to publish the following statement in order that my friends and others may know about this wonderful medicine," said Mr. R. H. White, well known cotton mill man, who resides in Kannapolis, N. C., during a recent conversation with the HERB JUICE man. "This medicine was a big surprise to me," continued Mr. White, "and before I began using it I was in a general run-down condition and just felt sick all over. I had suffered for years with constipation and the poison that accumulated in my stomach had almost ruined my health. I could hardly eat a thing, and what little I did eat would only sour and ferment, causing me to suffer so that I would wish I had gone without my meals. I was very nervous and losing in weight every day. In addition to this I was bothered a great deal with rheumatism, and it looked as though nothing would give me any relief. I saw where so many Kannapolis and Concord people were getting relief through the use of HERB JUICE that I made up my mind to give it a trial, and I want to say that since I have used it, I have found it the most effective medicine I have ever used. It has made me feel better in every way than I have in a long time. I was really astonished at the quick results I had from the use of this great medicine. I gladly give this statement that my friends and others, as stated above, may know of its health giving powers, which I feel sure will help anyone. HERB JUICE is sold and guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded by Gibson Drug Store.
