CABARRUS COUNTY SWINE ENTERED AT PINEHURST

Judge at Cabarrus Fair Declares that Local Exhibit of Hogs Best Ever Single Exception.

Two trucks loaded with Cabarrus County pure-bred Berkshire swine left Concord today for Pinehurst where they were to be entered in the annual hog show at the Pinehurst Fair.

So anxious were the officials of the exhibit to have entries from this county that they sent trucks from the Sandhills to Concord to haul them down. Persons having entries from this county include W. H. Bradford, Dr. J. V. Davis, A. H. Litaker and W. W. Lowrance.

Much satisfaction has been evinced over the lead which this county is taking in the matter of purebred swine in recent years. C. L. Williams, who was a judge at the local Fair, declared that the swine exhibit at the Cabarrus Fair was the best in the state with the exception of the Pinehurst show.

As the Pinehurst exhibition is rated as the best in the South, local farmers feel that this is quite a feather in their caps.

Interest in the breeding of Berkshires has been on the increase in recent years. It is declared by officials at the County Agent's office that this county is rapidly taking the lead in this. At the present there are more pure-bred Berkshires owned than all other pure-breeds combined.

A number of the local farmers are planning to attend the show in Pinehurst Thursday at which time the local swine will be entered in the competition for prizes.

According to R. D. Goodman, County Agent, the principal reason for the selection of Berkshires over other breeds is that it is the leanest of the fat-bog type and gives both lard and lean meat.

FAMOUS ARTISTS WITH PAVLEY-OKRAINSKY

Ballett House Comes to Concord With Noted Dancers Trained in Chicago School.

The Pavley-Okrainsky Ballett Russe, which appears in Concord on November 24th with its full complement of premieres, corps de ballet and symphony orchestra, is famous for its many dancers of premiere type. This, of course, is due to the fact that the ballet school has many talented pupils many of whom become premieres, and as no premiere executes all styles perfectly, it is necessary to carry as many as may be necessary to execute the different ballets and diversissements. Among those who have won names for themselves are Edris Miller and Viola Sherman, who in Mexico and South America were often compared with the famous Pavlova, and who are now premieres of the Chicago Opera Company. Also Josephine Bennett, Nemeroff and Vera Ellius, Dagmar Campana and Romany Samuels, members of the Pavley-Okrainsky Ballett Russe, which has been appearing so successfully with the San Carlo Grand Opera Company in New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Among other artist pupils of the Pavley-Okrainsky ballet school who began with no knowledge of the art but were brought to a stage of wonderful proficiency and now occupy enviable positions are Miss Ledova, starting in "The Land of Fantasy"; Miss Luchina, member of the Green-Green Follies at the Winter Garden, New York, and who was premiere of the Chicago Opera ballet during the absence of Pavley and Okrainsky. Then there is Grenelle Sobu who took the principal part in "Aprodithe"; and Edith Clasper playing her own vaudeville act. In the ballet school through which pass a hundred pupils yearly, many dancers of repute come for instruction—the Marmains, Florence O'Penishawn, Ann Benington, and others. Pavley and Okrainsky have, therefore, in nine years of hard and serious work and through their own efforts, established in Chicago a center of the dance even to such an extent that this year, for the first time, the Association of Dancing Teachers of America held its convention in that city.

HIGHS ARE PREPARING FOR SPENCER FRIDAY

Captain Litaker Only Player Permanently Out of Line-up—Teams Evenly Matched.

Although practically all of Coach McAuley's High School footballists were injured more or less in Friday's disaster with Gastonia, it is hardly likely that any of them will be forced on the side-lines with the exception of Captain Litaker, who suffered a broken collar bone in attempting to halt the visitors' progress to the goal line on one occasion.

Naturally, the loss of Litaker will mean much to the team. He was one of the mainstays in both the offense and defense. It will make a difference with him out of play.

Despite this fact, the locals are hopeful of a victory against Spencer when the Rowan boys come here for a game next Friday. From games already played, it looks as though the two teams are very evenly matched. Gastonia beat Spencer 48-0. She won from Concord 40-0. This would give the Concord team a slight edge, although with Litaker out, this is somewhat reduced.

The local eleven is planning to put everything it has into this game which is the last scheduled match. If the Concord team is able to win, it will give three wins, two losses and one tie. A loss would put the average below .500.

The game is to be played on Webb Field.

FUNERAL OF JOHN F. YORKE TOMORROW MORNING

Leading Clothing Merchant of Charlotte Dies Unexpectedly.

John F. Yorke, for more than 25 years a leading men's clothing merchant of Charlotte, died at 10:40 o'clock Monday morning at his home, 3 Ardley road, Myers Park, following a cerebral hemorrhage at 6:30 o'clock. He was almost 53 years old and had been ill for about two weeks, although his health had not been good for some years.

The funeral service will be conducted at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Church of the Holy Comforter by Rev. Robert Bruce Owens, the rector. Interment will be at Elmwood cemetery.

Pall bearers asked to serve are W. E. Parker, R. H. Bouligny, Hugh Montgomery, B. Rush Lee, H. L. McClaren, A. B. Yandle, C. V. Palmer and H. J. Dunavant.

Surviving Mr. Yorke are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Miller, of Charlotte; a son, Francis Rogers Yorke, and a sister, Mrs. J. W. Peeler, of Rockwell, this state.

Since 1890, when he and a brother, A. J. Yorke, purchased an interest in Rogers and company, clothing firm, whose name was then changed to Yorke Brothers and company, Mr. Yorke was prominently identified with the business life of Charlotte. Twenty or fourteen years ago the firm name was changed to Yorke and Rogers, under which it was operated until it was sold two weeks ago to Bek Brothers company. The lease on the store had expired and the building had been leased to another firm, leading the proprietors to decide to close out the business instead of moving elsewhere.

John Franklin Yorke was born December 5, 1870, at Concord, the son of the late Major Aaron Jones Yorke and Mrs. Yorke who was before her marriage Miss Margaret Bernice Long of Cabarrus county. For several years he was associated with his brother, the late A. J. Yorke, of Concord, in the jewelry business at Concord and was interested in the hardware business of Yorke and Wadsworth of that place. April 21, 1897, he was married to Miss Frances Elizabeth Rogers, of Concord. In 1899 he moved to Charlotte and began his clothing activities.

Mr. Yorke was a member of the Church of the Holy Comforter and of the Charlotte Country Club and was high in the councils of the Knights of Pythias and the D. O. K. K.

RUSSIAN STUDENT AT DUKE IS NOT WITH BOLSHEVISTS

Young Foreigner Came to University From 9,000 Miles Away.

Durham, Oct. 27.—"If I were a Bolshevik I wouldn't be a Russian," Michael Lopato, a young Russian student at Duke university, quickly replied to his interrogator, recently when unwittingly asked if he were a Bolshevik.

Since then no one has been in doubt about the political beliefs of this young foreigner who came from Harbin in Manchuria, China, 9,000 miles away, several weeks ago to begin his American education. He is in many respects one of the most interesting of the foreign students on the Duke university campus.

Lopato was born in China, where his father is manager of a subsidiary company of the British-American Tobacco company, and has traveled all over the world and once around it. Lopato is a freshman, but emphatically not a bolshevist.

Six nations in addition to the United States are represented this year in the student body at Duke university: China, Japan, Russia, Italy, Germany and Brazil. Chinese students number four; Chester Liu, graduate of N. C. State college in textile engineering, is taking graduate work in business administration.

RAINS GIVE NO POWER RELIEF

No Appreciable Gain in Water Heads on Catawba River—Heavy Rain Now Would Help.

The only immediate result of the rains in this section and particularly along the headwaters of the Catawba River, with reference to more water for hydro-electric power, will be to prevent the immediate extension of the curtailment of two and a half days to three days according to the Southern Power Company officials.

The rains, while rather general throughout this section of the state, are thought to have been heavier in this county and close around it than in the watershed of the Catawba. It was said, following a survey of conditions yesterday.

Surveys of Friday at 10 o'clock and yesterday morning about the same hour, show no appreciable difference in the water supply, the principal ground for encouragement being that there was no loss in water head at the several bodies along the river and the further belief that the ground was fairly well saturated with the rains of the past few days so that if there should be another good rain soon, most of the water would be surplus and would find its way into the streams.

The comparative records of the larger bodies of water along the river show that, despite the halt of operations for Sunday, the gain in head was only a matter of inches. There was even a loss shown in the Great Falls dam from Friday to Monday, due to a continued operation of that plant over Sunday, the report showed.

Mountain Island showed the largest gain in the two days, water having been three feet higher yesterday than on Friday. However, the water is still ten feet from the top of the dam, it was said. At the Water dam the water gained half a foot, and was fourteen feet from the top.

Only Slight Gain.

At the Bridgewater reservoir, where the gain was only three-tenths of a foot, the water is fifty feet below the top of the dam. Several hard rains will be required before this huge reservoir will take on anything like its normal appearance and supply of water.

The curtailment program of two and a half days for all industries, except those that from their nature must continue, such as ice plants, which has been in operation for several weeks because of the low water, will have to continue until more rain falls and gives more head in the ponds, officials of the company said last night.

It is possible that the rains of the past two or three days will prevent the extension of the curtailment to three days, certainly for the immediate future, it was stated.

Quartette to Sing.

Revival services in the A. R. Presbyterian Church will continue throughout this week at 7:30 p. m. each day. This evening special music will be rendered by the Presbyterian quartette. Several numbers will be rendered.

All who have heard Rev. Mr. Kerr express themselves as being highly pleased with his preaching. Those who have not heard him are denying themselves of a rare spiritual blessing. Rev. Mr. Kerr will speak this evening on "The Water of Life." A large congregation is expected. All Christian people are asked to join in this campaign.

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form With the Assistance of Black-Draught.

West Graham, Va.—The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, now past 80, living here, has a high opinion of Black-Draught, which he says he has taken when needed, for 25 years.

"For years I had been suffering with my liver," he says. "Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief.

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot of trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and had headache, caused from extreme biliousness.

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver.
