LOCAL MENTION

Marriage license was issued Monday by Register of Deeds Elliott to Agton Gains and Miss Annie Hargett, both of Concord.

Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Lang and little son, Leon, Jr., have returned from Farmville and Snow Hill where they have been visiting friends and relatives for the past several weeks.

The weekly meeting of the Concord Rotary Club will be held tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Members of the club have arranged a fine program for the meeting.

The district Federation of Clubs will be held in Albemarle on November 4th, at which time a large number of Cabarrus women will attend the meeting.

New pictures of the Pavley-Ouk-rainy Ballet Russe have been placed in Penney's windows and attracted much attention from interested persons. Tickets for the show will be placed on sale November 1st.

Dr. Mary Martin Sloop, head of the school at Crossnore, will arrive in the city this evening to spend several days here. She will be the guest of Mrs. Ed Morrison at her home on Grive Street.

Funeral services of John F. Yorke, prominent citizen of Charlotte, who died Monday, will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Interment will be made in Elmwood cemetery. Mr. Yorke's death followed an illness of several years.

The name of the Cabarrus Savings Bank was omitted from the list of banks giving prizes in the dress design contest at the fair. This firm presented the prizes, for afternoon dresses which were won by Mrs. Pink Morrison and Mrs. D. B. Castor.

R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, has ordered 7,700 pounds of pyroxylin, the government explosive, for use in blasting stamps and other things necessary to be moved. It is expected that the explosive will arrive in the county some time about the last of November.

Grading on the new link of paving from Mt. Pleasant to the Stany county line will be completed the latter part of this week or early next week, according to M. P. Moss, who has charge of the State highway work here. Actual paving operations will begin next week, he declares.

Police officers report that defendants in recorder's court Monday afternoon paid fines and costs of $134.20. The heaviest fine was $50, paid by a defendant charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Most of the defendants were charged with being intoxicated and were fined $10.

Miss Mattie Lee Cooley, home demonstration agent, will spend Thursday and Friday in Stany county where she will act as judge in the better kitchen contest which is being conducted there. She will judge and grade kitchens, assisted by Miss Delma Wilson, Stany county home demonstration agent.

The condition of Miss Constance Cline, who recently underwent an operation in a Charlotte Hospital, continues to show improvement. Miss Cline is now able to be up in a rolling chair part of each day and if her condition continues to improve she probably will be able to leave the hospital the latter part of the week.

Mrs. T. M. Rogers has sold to W. F. Cooper for $400 property in No. 4 township, according to a deed filed on Monday at the court house. Another deed filed the same day records the sale of property by Mrs. Rogers to Mrs. Cooper for "$10, love and affection." The property is part of the old Rogers home place.

Dr. T. N. Spencer, secretary of the Cabarrus County Fair, announced this morning that he has completed the cataloging of his premium lists and will begin tomorrow mailing out premium checks. Dr. Spencer each year mails out the checks within several weeks after the fair closes. All of the checks will be in the mail by the latter part of this week.

The carnival company which played for the colored fair has been unable so far to leave Concord. Part of the equipment has been attached for debt, it is said, and until this debt is paid the company must not leave the grounds. It is said the fair officials are anxious to get rid of the show, so the grounds can be cleaned without delay.

Local streams are running high now as a result of the heavy rains of the week-end. It is reported that the ground in this county is well saturated now and most of the water that fell Sunday ran off into creeks and rivers. It is also reported that several springs and wells which were dry most of the summer are in operation again now as a result of the recent rains.

Monte Carlo and the Riviera are looking forward to a banner season for sports this winter. Besides the customary racing and shooting, for which Monte Carlo has long been famous, there will be numerous motorboat and aviation contests, swimming, boxing, rowing, horse shows, and a variety of athletic competitions for both men and women.

TOM SIMS SAYS

Man likes to think he is naturally truthful instead of lacking in imagination. The sad thing about lots of people is they have no idea of what would make them happy. Impressing others is a waste of time. Those beneath you can't look down on you. And those above you must.

Most of us are physical cowards, but mental daredevils. We enjoy thinking things that hurt us.

A woman can't ask a man to marry her. But that's no hardship. A man can't keep from asking one.

It's an awful world. But it could be worse. Just suppose you knew the truth about everything.

You get mad at a friend. Call him a fool. He calls you a fool. Both are right. Or you wouldn't be mad.

Some men are successful chiefly because they didn't have the advantages others had.

When two young folks get their heads together they can do wonders with all the dance steps.

A peculiar thing about short dresses is women seen satisfied with the least they can get for their money.

Never be too harsh with a young fellow before he has found himself. Nothing's more discordant than a violin being tuned.

Cards may be a waste of time, but they will bridge that yawning chasm between dinner and bedtime.

Isn't it a pity you can't trade in your old summer suit on a new winter suit?

The man with a pile is the man who can smile when bills come along all along.

Lives of great men oft remind us that our lot is more sublime.

Thanksgiving is more than 300 years old. Which is how long people have eaten too much on Thanksgiving.

Now and then you see a salad sitting on the table looking almost good enough to eat.

INHERITED MURDER CASE IN CLEVELAND

Killer Has Escaped But His Name Continues to Head the Criminal Docket.

Shelby, Oct. 26.—When Clerk of Court George P. Webb begins making out the criminal docket for Superior court he almost through habit writes down first "State vs. Russell Williams, murder." So often has he written it that in his opinion a docket would hardly be complete without the charge.

In fact, he has written that charge on the Cleveland county Superior court dockets for seven years, or ever year since he was first elected clerk. Frank L. Hoyle, the previous clerk, wrote it for several years prior to that time. Russell Williams, alias Sam Smith, killed somebody in Cleveland county almost a decade back and escaped. The charge was entered, but although the alleged murderer goes under two names neither Williams nor Smith has been caught, and no doubt that some charge will be on the criminal docket a generation hence unless some judge gives it up and has the charge stricken from the docket—and perhaps that's not constitutional. Anyway as those who remember best recall it Williams, a colored man, killed another of his race somewhere in the Grover section, otherwise it is just one of those things that are continued from term to term.

Things to Remember in Spending 1925 Crop Money.

The Progressive Farmer. Farmers are now selling their crops—crops made in the sweat of their faces, crops representing not only the toil of the farmer, the farmer's wife and the farm boys and girls, but also their hopes.

Let's resolve now to make the best possible use of every cent of crop money that comes to us. If we have been paying "time prices" usury on anything this year, let's resolve to stint and economize till it hurts so as to avoid ever having to pay "time prices" any more.

Let's try, too, to make purchases as far as possible for "productive purposes"—for things that will help us earn more. Better equipment, better livestock, more horsepower, more land, more conveniences for doing housework—some of these things are probably necessary in order to enable us to work better and earn more. If we buy something now that helps us earn more, these increased earnings may later help us buy the other things we want and need. Before considering any purchase, let's ask ourselves:

"Is it for a 'productive purpose'—that is to say, is it for something that will help us produce more and thereby pay back the money spent in buying it? "Or is it for a 'consumptive purpose'—that is to say, is it for something that consumes or eats up the money spent on it, without enabling us to produce anything more with which to recover the expenditure?" We don't mean at all to say that we should make no consumptive purchases; many are necessary. But we should always give the preference to productive purchases, and when there is some consumptive purchase we wish to make, we should often postpone it and make a productive purchase instead—one that will help us earn more with which to pay for the consumptive investment. Especially should farmers who have insufficient work stock or tools or machinery or land aim first of all at getting these things.

Good Cheer.

Philadelphia Ledger. People soon tire of being uplifted, as they grow weary of standing on tiptoe. When a man is left contemplating the dash, routine of life once more after a vision on the mountain top he must make the inspiration he receives in one crowded, glorious hour serve him for many working days. He cannot soon expect the electrification and the excitement to return.

But the plain and homely virtue of good cheer will companion every day if we permit, and if it does not lift us to dizzy and exhilarating heights, neither does it let us sag way down to the very nadir of depression after we have soared to the zenith of delight.

Good cheer is a simple thing. It is not a costly program of entertainment and it runs up no big bills in a playhouse or a ballroom. It is a game which anyone can play, needing no expensive outfit. It can take place within the confines of a sickroom; it can even go on in one's own mind. The best thing about the game is the benefit to the spectators. So many sports are good for the players and none besides. But this one helps and lifts all within a striking radius of the genial disposition.

Fortunately, good cheer is incurable. Its germs find lodgment and are scattered like motes of the sunbeam's morning gold.

If American wives were remunerated for their home service at the rate of fifteen dollars a week their pay roll would amount to the sum of $17,000,000,000 a year.
