THE LEAGUE AT WORK.

The most serious problem yet presented to the League of Nations, or at least the most serious so far as the general public can tell, has arisen over the invasion of Bulgarian territory by Greek troops.

CHAPTER XX. (Continued)

Big Lars stubbornly backed his back, but the bank continued to win, and meanwhile new arrivals dropped in. Two, three hours the play went on, by which time all Dawson knew was that a big game was running and that a girl was in the dealer's chair.

CHAPTER XXI

In taking charge of a sick girl, a helpless, hopeless stranger, Foleon Doret had assumed a responsibility far greater than he had anticipated, and that responsibility had grown heavier every day.

In an article prepared for the New York World on the subject of crime, Chief Magistrate McAdoo of New York State, gave utterance to the same thought.

"I'll promise you, she has asserted, 'Agnes and I will do that.' The proprietor was interested. 'Agnes? Holy Moses! Is there two of you? Have you got a sister? Who's Agnes?'

"Yes, Agnes is all of that, but—' Rouletta's eyes were dancing—she minds her own business and she'll guard the bank-foi. 'Lucky Broad and Kid Bridges had found employment at the Rialto soon after it opened.

"Good!" shouted Big Lars. He pounded the table with the flat of his huge palm. "By Jingo! I'll make that unanimous. If anybody has to cuss let him take ten paces to the rear and cuss the stove."

"Listen, Letty. We got just one real question to ask and we'd like a straight answer. Have you got any kick against this Frenchman?" "Any kick of any kind?" queried Bridges. "We're your friends; you can tip us off."

"Gosh! Don't cry!" begged the Mocha Kid. With a counterfeit assumption of juvenile hilarity he exclaimed: "Oh, look at the pretty pie! They got little Christmas-trees on their lids, ain't they? Um-yum! Rich and juicy! I stuck up the baker and stole his whole stock, but I slipped and spilled 'em F. O. B.—flat on the boardwalk."

DINNER STORIES

And That's Why. "No, I don't want to buy that horse. He looks as though he had a mean disposition."

Believe It or Not.

Ruth—"Do you know father has never spoken a nasty word to mother?" "Hom—How is that?"

A Fine Soloist.

"My wife is a fine singer," said the new Secretary to the Senior Counselor. "I have known her to hold her audience for hours at a time."

A Simple Remedy.

An old lady, leaving church after a service which had been attended by a crowded congregation, was heard to say: "If everybody else would only do as I do, and stay quietly in their seats, all everyone else has gone out, there would not be such a rush at the doors."

He Lost Nothing.

A lady who had given a dinner party met her doctor in the street the following day, and stopped to speak to him. "I am so sorry, doctor," she said, "that you were not able to come to my dinner party last night; it would have done you good to be there."
