Warns World of Calamity.
A great catastrophe worldwide in scope is impending. The world is warned by the spirits through Sir Conan Doyle. For the last three years, says Doyle, he has been receiving messages from the spirit world to this effect. In recent months they have become so pressing that he feels it his duty to inform the public. The purpose of the calamity is to chasten the human race which is now steeped in materialism. Through no other summer, says the famous spiritualist, can the world be saved. Just what the nature of the catastrophe will be was not revealed by Sir Arthur, but he says it will last three years. "The world has grown far too material and we must be taught that life has a spiritual and not a material purpose."

Cattle introduced by early settlers of the Falkland Islands ran wild, but their progeny were gradually exterminated as sheep became the chief interest of the settlers.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME HERE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Locals Play Spencer in First Match of Elimination Series.—Charlotte Next on List.

Football fans in Concord will have opportunity to see one of the first of the games in the state championship series when the local eleven plays the Spencer team here Friday.

The game had been scheduled for Friday when the managers made out the card last year and in the drawings for the elimination series, the pairings fortunately put these two teams together which gave them an opportunity to complete the schedule as prepared.

The winner of the Concord-Spencer match will then go to Charlotte, where they will play on Wearn Field next week.

Following its game with Gastonia, the locals are not in the best of condition but they are planning to put forth every effort to win the game Friday. There are little hopes of beating the strong Charlotte aggregation.

C. STANHOPE HARRIS IS DEAD AT MEBANE

Formerly Lived in This County But Had Been Resident of Mebane For Many Years.

Mr. Harris was 87 years of age and was a brother of Shakespeare Harris, of this county. He moved to Mebane soon after the War Between the States and had been actively identified with the life of that community since.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Corbit and Miss Emma Harris, of Mebane, and one son, W. S. Harris, also of Mebane.

Funeral services were held in Mebane this afternoon, the services being attended by Shakespeare Harris, Mrs. Olin Caldwell and Mrs. B. E. Harris, of this city.

NEELY SAFE IN GATE CITY JAIL

Alleged Criminal Assailant Taken to Greensboro.

Asheville, Oct. 27.—Preston Neely, negro alleged to have criminally attacked a west Asheville white woman Thursday afternoon, is being held in Guilford county jail at Greensboro, for safe keeping, it was learned here this afternoon.

Sheriff E. M. Mitchell, of Buncombe county, told a mob last night that the negro was being taken to the State penitentiary at Raleigh. It is thought this information was given out to throw any of those who were preparing to make an effort to overtake the deputies and prisoner, off the track.

The city was quiet tonight after a period of great excitement following the arrest of Neely yesterday afternoon and another attempted criminal attack on a white woman on one of the city's principal streets last night about 9:30 o'clock. The evidence in this case in police court this morning was to the effect that the negro grabbed the woman, but released her when she screamed.

He was sentenced to serve two years on the chain gang.

Charles T. Moxley, by whom Neely was employed, said today that Neely was not away from his work all of last Thursday. He said Neely was busy making sandwiches for a motorcade and that he was on duty during the morning and early afternoon. Mr. Moxley said, however, that Neely's brother had been away from the restaurant for a portion of the time.

ONLY PART RELIEF FROM POWER FAMINE

Rains Do Not Justify Southern Power Lifting Ban But Prevent Greater Curtailment.

Charlotte, Oct. 27.—Recent rains in North Carolina have been insufficient to warrant the Southern Power company removing the ban on full-time consumption of electric current by its customers.

In an announcement this afternoon by officials of the power company it was indicated that while the rains have not enabled the company to offer more power, it has prevented a great curtailment in the use of power. The announcement said: "The recent rains give us an assurance that an increased curtailment will not be necessary."

The industrial plants in the Carolinas operating on power furnished by the Southern Power company now are operating on a three-day week schedule because of the hydro-electric power shortage caused by the severe drought during the summer.

COTTON CROP IN COUNTY BEING GINNED QUICKLY

Total of 10,328 Bales Up to October 18th.—Cabarrus Crop Estimated at $12,000 Bales.

The cotton crop in Cabarrus county will be but very little short of the average yield.

Ginnings in the county up to October 18th of this year totalled 10,328 bales, according to figures made public by George W. Lee, county statistician, while the total number of bales ginned to the same date last year was only 4,448.

The increase up to date in the ginnings is attributed to the prolonged drought which had the effect of forcing the crop and bringing on an earlier picking and consequently an earlier ginning.

Reports coming in from the county indicate that practically the entire crop has been picked and it is estimated by N. A. Archibald, cotton buyer, that between 80 and 90 per cent. of the crop has been ginned. Taking the ginnings up to date and making an estimate on Mr. Archibald's figures, it may be seen that the probable crop will be around 12,000 bales in Cabarrus county. This is about 1,000 bales short of the crop in bumper years.

Reports from last summer held to an unusually small yield on account of the drought. Many of the farmers predicted that they would make less than half a crop. Recent reports, however, from the drought section indicate that there will be almost as large a crop as ever while the number of bales in other sections is materially increased.

On the publication of the government forecast that the crop this year would exceed fifteen million bales the price dropped and cotton is now selling on the local market for 19 cents. Many persons who keep in touch with the market believe that the government estimate has the crop at a figure which will greatly exceed the actual production.

WORK ON HOTEL AND BANK BEING RUSHED

Forms for Fifth Floor Now Being Erected—Probable That Concrete Skeleton Finished Soon.

Work on the hotel and bank building is progressing rapidly, the forms for the top floor now being erected. It is probable that work pouring concrete for the skeleton of the structure will be finished some time next week.

The bricklayers have already begun their work on the back of the building and have practically completed this on the two-story part of the building.

Wooden supports, which are kept under the concrete for a period of twenty-one days are being knocked out from the main floors of the hotel, and it is said that the props at the bank building will be knocked out next Monday.

The contract calls for the completion of the hotel next April.

Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery plot of Mrs. Duke's father. Mrs. Duke died last week of cerebral hemorrhage less than two weeks after the death of her former husband.

GASTON B. MEANS IS WITNESS IN NEW YORK

Before Federal Grand Jury Investigating Activities of Alien Property Custodian.

Gaston B. Means spent several hours here Sunday with home folks while en route from Atlanta to Washington. He arrived on train No. 36 Sunday morning and left on a night train for the capital. Later he went to New York.

Means was called to New York to testify before the special federal grand jury investigating the activities of the alien property custodian's office.

John T. King, former Republican national committeeman of Connecticut, also was a witness Tuesday before the grand jury, as was George Williams, former attorney for the custodian.

New York reports say the grand jury is understood to be considering alleged irregularities connected with payments from the funds in control of the custodian against claims by aliens. Among these claims was said to be the repayment of more than $6,000,000 to alleged Swiss owners from assets of the American Metal Co., Ltd.

The inquiry has been in progress two weeks. Miss Roxie Stinson, a prominent witness in the Daugherty investigation last year, was a witness last week.

Details of the testimony have been kept secret, it is said.
