SMITH-KINNETT WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT MACON

Miss Ann Kinnett, bride of Henry Smith, of this city, to take up residence at Kamm's...

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Kinnett was the scene of a beautiful wedding at high noon Saturday...

Exquisite dahlias and cosmos in shades of pink and white formed the decorations used in the wide hall and sun parlor combined with ferns and smilax.

In the library where the ceremony was performed, white dahlias and cosmos were used. An improvised altar was arranged of palms and cathedral candelabra...

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. Mary Winberly Robson gave several beautiful selections on the piano and Miss Nell Frazer, of Columbus, sang 'All For You and Because'...

The bride wore a handsome gown of blue tulle trimmed in black and soft brown fur. Her hat was a close fitting model of black satin trimmed in silver and her slippers were black with blonde hose.

The lovely bride descended the stairs alone and was met at the foot by the father, Mr. George T. Kinnett, who gave her in marriage.

The bride wore a handsome gown of blue tulle trimmed in black and soft brown fur. Her hat was a close fitting model of black satin trimmed in silver and her slippers were black with blonde hose.

Following the wedding a lovely buffet luncheon was served. The dining room was exquisitely decorated with many white and pink dahlias and cosmos, artistically arranged on the buffet and mantel and gracing the center of the table was a basket of dahlias.

Mrs. Kinnett received her guests in a lovely black satin and wore a corsage of Russell roses. Mrs. Munro wore a black beaded georgette.

The Wilson Birthplace Memorial

Committees are now being formed throughout the country in behalf of the birthplace memorial of the late President Wilson.

The proposal to set apart as a national shrine the house in which Woodrow Wilson was born, as provided in the plans for the Woodrow Wilson birthplace memorial, was given complete and unanimous endorsement by the delegates to the Capital District Kiwanis Convention, meeting in Staunton last week.

The resolution endorsing the plan for the birthplace memorial reads as follows: "The Capital District International Kiwanis, in session at Staunton, Va., October 24, 1925, heartily endorses the campaign to erect in the city of Staunton, the birthplace of former President Woodrow Wilson, a fitting memorial to be known as the Woodrow Wilson Birthplace Memorial."

The delegates to the convention visited Wilson's birthplace in a body and were shown through the home by Dr. A. M. Fraser, general chairman of the birthplace memorial committee. As a result, Kiwanis is solidly back of this movement to honor the late President who did so much to help promote the true ideals of Kiwanis throughout the world.

CONCORD TEAM WEAKENED FOR GAME HERE TODAY

Three of Coach McAuley's Squad Will Not Be Able to Participate in the Spencer Match.

Concord's team will hardly be able to put forth its full strength this afternoon when Spencers comes to the city for the opening game in the state championship series.

Roy Litzker, captain of the team and one of the most brilliant backfield men on the team in recent years, will be unable to play owing to the fact that his collar bone was broken in Concord's debacle in the Gastonia game.

Claude Duke, the really outstanding sub in the backfield, will also be ruled out. He did not attend school in Concord last year and the present regulations of the state association make it compulsory to attend school one year before participation in the state championship series.

"Chick" Williams, regular center, has flunked one of his studies and this of course automatically rules him out of the series.

The remainder of the team can play, but when three men are taken out of a squad which boasts as few subs as does Concord, it makes matters rather serious. Several of the men are also nursing minor injuries sustained in the Gastonia game and are not exactly in tip-top condition.

However, reports from the camp indicate that Coach McAuley's charges are going to give all they have to down the Rowan eleven and if that will win, they will be in the game next week when the victor of today's game meets Charlotte.

"Jit" Linberger, quarterback, will act as captain in the game this afternoon.

It is considered possible that there may be extensive shifts in the Concord team today in an effort to present the best possible combination in an effort to down the visitors.

Purebred Chicks Can Be Bought in North Carolina

Raleigh, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The State department of agriculture, through its division of markets, is solidly behind the theory of "buy at home," and is urging this matter upon North Carolinians, especially at this time as rates are so high for baby chicks.

It is reminding prospective purchasers of baby chicks that purebred chicks can be bought in North Carolina, without having to go outside the state, and declares that "we need a campaign in North Carolina to 'buy North Carolina products first'."

The division explains that hatcheries and flocks, under its supervision in this state, are being accredited. The plans for this accrediting were worked out last spring, with a view of improvement of the poultry breeding flocks of the stock in the state, as well as the successful marketing of poultry and eggs.

The accrediting is being done, not to the prejudice of non-accredited flocks in this state, but purely so that North Carolina purchasers of baby chicks may have a means of knowing where they can buy purebred baby chicks within their own state.

V. W. Lewis, livestock specialist of the department, is making efforts to get in touch with those interested in buying baby chicks, and is reminding them that "there will be lots of good chicks produced within the state this year."

Dancing Master Skips Albemarle With Cash and Auto

Albemarle Press. Several days ago, a young man calling himself L. P. Nebot, of New York City, hit Albemarle and set about arranging for a series of dance programs and lessons. He connected himself with one of Albemarle's well known citizens who had only met the fellow, and passed himself off as being a near protege to our townsman.

Friday night, his dance was pulled off according to schedule. What cash the fellow collected, he sent, and "borrowed" $10 more from Mr. Pete Lowder, together with the latter's hat and overcoat and his Dodge automobile. He had business in Salisbury, and that business has evidently kept him since his hasty departure from Albemarle.

At present the fellow left owing certain amounts in Albemarle, and at this writing nothing has been heard from him or the "borrowed property."

But the matter has been reported to official circles, and the insurance company which issued a policy on Mr. Lowder's automobile.

Keep the Dollars at Home

"Dollars have legs," says the News and Observer. And nobody who has ever had experience with the species will deny that the description is faithful to the truth. There is also genuine truth in this other thing the Raleigh paper says:

"North Carolina people make more money every year on their farms and factories than the Virginia people. And yet Virginia owns property worth 350 million dollars more than North Carolina people, according to the federal census. Why? One reason probably the big reason—is that Virginia does not send so much of its annual earnings out every year for bread and meat."

"We shall never be a rich state as long as we send so large a proportion of the money we get for tobacco and cotton to other states for bread and meat. The freight cost alone is a bigger tax than is imposed by the state or federal government. Until we raise our own hog and hominy our dollars will have legs and run away to the west to pay for meat, hay and flour."

Newsboys' Cries Are Banned in Denver

The newsboys' "Wuktry" was officially muffled on Denver's streets recently under the terms of a city ordinance signed by Mayor Stapleton. The measure regulates the sale of newspapers.

Under the law, badges and licenses will be issued to vendors of the dailies. The licenses will be issued free by the city. No boy under 12 and no girl under 21 may sell newspapers.

KANNAPOLIS PRINCIPAL REPLIES TO CHARGES

Demise of Football at Cabarrus City Brings More Talk on the Situation There.

More remarks are forthcoming relative to the disbanding of the Kannapolis football team.

Recently Jazzy Moore, correspondent for The Tribune, announced that football was eliminated from the curriculum of the Kannapolis High School on account of the fact that the players were forced to miss a class or two. Mr. Moore appeared worried over the situation and, he declared, had transferred his academic allegiance to Wincesoff High.

Now R. C. Cannon, principal of the school, comes to bat with the following contribution to the Charlotte Observer:

"Please permit me to make an explanation as to why the team was disbanded, since Mr. 'Jazzy' Moore failed to give you the complete information in his 'why'."

"At the beginning of this school term the school officials adopted regulations governing athletics. In these regulations were the following provisions:

"First—Athletics shall in no way interfere with the regular classroom work of any pupil.

"Second—To be eligible to play on a team a pupil must be making a passing grade on his work.

"At the time of the game with Belmont, of which mention was made, the boys of the football team left school at noon and went to Belmont. They were absent from their class room in violation of their agreement with the school authorities.

"Furthermore, two-thirds of the players on the team failed on school work during the first months. This left only one-third of the team eligible to play in any other game.

"In fairness to the school board I wish to state that no attempt is being made to outlaw athletics in this school. When the boys come up to the requirements in class work and abide by the agreement they made with the school officials, football can be played.

"You will note, too, that Moore stated he left this school and enrolled in another when football was ruled out. Well, I wish to state that Mr. Moore has not been enrolled in Kannapolis High School, since December 12, 1924."

REFORMED CHURCH AT ROCKWELL COMPLETED

Formal Opening of Church Will Be a Red Letter Event in History of Congregation.

Sunday, November first, will be a red letter day for the congregation of Ursinus Reformed Church at Rockwell, for the congregation on that day will conduct services at the formal opening of the new church building which was begun in 1924 and is just now ready for occupancy.

The new building is a substantial structure of tapestry brick trimmed with Rowan county granite. The main auditorium has seating space for more than 300, and there is a large gallery in addition.

The Sunday School auditorium and class rooms are to one side of the main auditorium and can be made a part of the auditorium thus enlarging the church to accommodate 600 persons. A large basement, 50x100 feet, offers a room for social features of the church.

The Church was organized 25 years ago by Rev. W. H. McNairy. The first structure was a modest frame building with one room. This served the congregation for 24 years. The need for a larger building to house a growing Sunday School and congregation led to the erection of the handsome building which will be formally opened Sunday. Rev. H. A. M. Houshouser is pastor of the Church. The program for the service Sunday follows:

Sunday School—Former pastors, Rev. John A. Koons and Rev. W. H. McNairy will speak, at 10 a. m. Sermon at 11 a. m. by the pastor. Noon recess.

Dinner for everyone served in the Church basement. Music at 1:30 p. m. Afternoon Speakers—Rev. J. D. Andrew, of Faith; Rev. W. C. Warlick, of Mt. Pleasant; Rev. W. C. Lyerly, of Concord.

Sermon at 7 p. m. by Rev. H. A. Fesperman, of Greensboro. Services will be continued next week, with preaching each night at 7 o'clock. The following will be the week's program:

Monday sermon by Mr. Fesperman; Tuesday sermon by Rev. J. Banks Peeler, of Salisbury; Wednesday sermon by Rev. Franklin L. Fesperman, of Yamagata, Japan; Thursday sermon by Rev. J. H. Keller, of China Grove; Friday sermon by Rev. J. C. Leonard, D. D., President of the General Synod, of Lexington.

Invites Burglars to Return Goods "If Not Satisfactory"

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A Philadelphia store that was robbed invited the burglars to bring back the goods they took if not found satisfactory.

Reading the power of advertising the store inserted a display ad. in local papers head "Notice! To the Burglars Who Robbed Our Store." The notice said:

"You boys are not using your powers of observation. (An unpardonable trait in any burglar.) If you had read our advertisements and noticed our very low prices you could have saved yourself the trouble of 'breaking in' to get the things you wanted. We are glad to know, however, that you prefer our merchandise. Every article in our store is absolutely guaranteed by us—whether you buy it or steal it—makes no difference. If what you fellows took does not give you good service, bring it back and we will make it good—will, the assistance of General Butler."

"P. S.—Special reception for burglars calling after our store is closed. Bring your friends along."

Even the cleverest diplomat may find it difficult to talk over his wife.

DR. ROWAN TO SPEAK SATURDAY AT DAVIDSON

Local Man Chosen to Make Address Which Features Home-Coming and Davidson Day.

Dr. Jesse C. Rowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here and president of the Davidson College Alumni Association, will make the chief address Saturday when Davidson College stages its Home-Coming Day and Davidson Day.

The program is to begin at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning when the Reserve Officers' Training Corps gives a demonstration of its skill in military tactics. This is to be followed by the exercises at which time Dr. Rowan is to make the address.

By combining Davidson Day and Home-Coming Day this year it is hoped by authorities at school that the two heretofore mediocre events can be reconstructed into one which will more nearly express the sentiments of the students and the alumni.

In order to make it sufficiently short so as not to become tiresome, it is said, it was decided to have only one speaker. Dr. Rowan, as a noted speaker and as a prominent alumnus, was chosen for this place on the program. His subject will be "Davidson College From the Viewpoint of An Alumnus Who Has Been Out of School for Several Years."

The program for Saturday is as follows: 10:30 a. m. military demonstration by the Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit at Davidson College. 11:30 a. m., Davidson College Day exercises at Shearer Hall, with an address by Dr. Rowan.

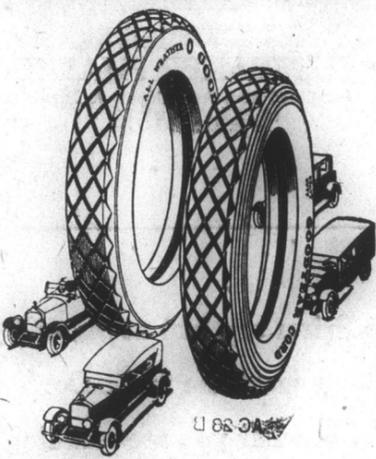

All buildings after the above exercises opened for inspection by the alumni and friends. 2:30 p. m., annual football clash between N. C. State and Davidson College on the new Richardson Athletic Field at Davidson.

8:00 p. m., Stunt night performance of all classes, supplemented by the performance of the Davidson College glee club.

Another new record in connection with the recent world series—Jim Corbett picked the winner.
