

NEW YORK RAIDERS OPEN WAR ON WINE STORES

Seize $5,000 Liquor in Grand Street as First Result of Andrews' Drive. New York Times.

Following announcement by Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement, that he was going after sacramental wine stores as one of the chief sources of the illicit liquor supply, prohibition agents acting under the direction of Prohibition Administrator John A. Foster raided the Mirrah Wine Company at 320 Grand Street yesterday and seized liquors valued at $5,000.

Later in the day, Rabbi Alexander Lyons, of 88 Prospect Park West, Brooklyn, who said he had read Gen. Andrews' statement about sacramental wine stores, gave out the following: "I heartily favor the abolition of wine in all religious ceremonies so long as we remain subject to the law of prohibition."

Andrews is a serious call to the churches of every denomination. We must not stand idly by while lawlessness is being practiced and promoted under the unintentional permission of the Church. There is no doubt that the allowance for sacramental wine is being extensively abused.

It seems to me that to uphold the law and prevent abuses from thriving in more important than a particular ceremony carried out in a particular wine. Any religious ceremony is only a means to an end and can, by proper authority, be abolished or supplemented.

"The Duke of Durham." Raleigh News and Observer. There are many dukes abroad but not one of all of them made such generous donations to education and to hospital work as the Duke of Durham. This recalls an incident of the founder of the family.

Some years ago the late Washington Duke toured Europe. At one place he was shown a magnificent chair used in his day by a distinguished duke. One of the party asked if he could sit in it. No. Nobody could sit in that chair unless he was a duke. Hearing that Mr. Duke, who had a sense of humor, walked up to the chair, took his seat and to the attendant said, "I am the Duke of Durham."

OLD TRINITY'S CLOCK STOPS

"What of the Hour?" Wall Street Asks Trinity, as Change in the Winding System Stops Clock. New York Times.

For about three weeks the financial district and its clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers and messengers have been wondering what is wrong with the great clock in Trinity Church tower, which looks directly down Wall Street from Broadway. Not only is Wall Street in the habit of setting its clocks and watches by the Trinity Church clock, but workers in the financial hub are accustomed to start and quit their day's labors with the ringing of the clock bell.

These persons have listened for some twenty days in vain for the usual striking of famous old Trinity's clock. All was well with the time shown on the face of the clock until yesterday noon, except for those whose locations prevented them from seeing the clock. And they will be out of luck until the job of replacing the old-fashioned system of hand-winding with a modern electrical system is completed about a week hence.

When the clock stopped altogether at the start of the lunch hour yesterday a reporter called on Section William J. Boyd, who explained that the church governing body had decided to install the new winding system and that the work would require several weeks. The Howard Clock Company, of Boston, is doing the installation.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON - The administration is now clear through at Edward Jackson, Hoosier governor. Administration men thought the death of Indiana's Democratic senator, Samuel M. Ralston, would strengthen them in the upper house. Now they're afraid Jackson's choice of Arthur R. Robinson to fill the vacancy until the 1926 election will weaken them instead.

FAYETTEVILLE NURSE IS KILLED INSTANTLY

Miss Pearl Townsend Meets Death When Her Head is Caught Between Elevator and Floor. Fayetteville, Oct. 31.—Miss Pearl Townsend, a probation nurse in the Highsmith hospital, was instantly killed tonight when she opened the door of an elevator in transit between floors in apparent confusion. Miss Townsend's head was caught between the elevator and the floor and was crushed off before another nurse on the elevator could stop the machine.

Miss Townsend was the daughter of J. A. Townsend, of Hope Mills. She had been training in the hospital for only 10 days. Miss Townsend had been assisting Miss Etta May Wright, the other nurse, in distributing laundry. New Orleans will have 95 days of racing this winter, from Thanksgiving Day to St. Patrick's Day.

VON-O-LIN advertisement for cleaning clothes. Includes text: 'No Garment Too Fancy for Our Cleaners—We Use VON-O-LIN' and 'Holds the Color as it Cleans'.

Bob's advertisement for cleaning services. Includes text: 'Saves one-third or fuel—burns the gasses and smoke, most of which usually goes up the chimney.'

USE PENNY COLUMN—IT PAYS

OUT OUR WAY

Cartoon by J.R. Williams. A man is sitting on a bench reading a newspaper while a woman sits next to him. She says: 'YE GODS! SUCH STOCKINGS! ALMOST NOTHING BUT LEGGINGS. AND THEY MUST BE PROPPED UP WHERE EVERYBODY GOING BY CAN LOOK IN AND SEE THEM!' The man replies: 'WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.'

BY WILLIAMS

"A Nation of Gadabouts." Dearborn Weekly. A public speaker recently said that we were a "nation of gadabouts." The desire to wander is deeply planted in the average American, but it is noteworthy that it is never very long before he is "back home" again.

BY WILLIAMS

"You Cannot Hide a Secret." Ralph Waldo Emerson. You cannot hide any secret. We are all physiognomists and penetrators of character, and things themselves are detective. There is no privacy that cannot be penetrated.

MOMN POP

Comic strip panel. A man says: 'SAY, THERE'S BEEN ROBBERIES AROUND THE NEIGHBORHOOD - SOMEONE STOLE 14 PUMPKINS OUT OF MY GARDEN SATURDAY NIGHT.' A woman replies: 'QUITE LIKELY THEY WERE HALLOWEEN CUT UPS.' The man says: 'TEE HEE!'

BY TAYLOR

Comic strip panel. A man says: 'AMY THIS IS NOT A LAUGHING MATTER.' A woman replies: 'TIS TOO POP - THE KID'S WANTED TO MAKE JACK O' LANTERNS LIKE MINE BUT THEY COULDN'T FIND ANY PUMPKINS AND I TOLD 'EM IF THEY'D GIVE ME A DIME APIECE I'D TELL WHERE THEY COULD FIND SOME.'

BY TAYLOR

Comic strip panel. A man says: 'I PUT THE MONEY IN MY BANK - I'M SAVING IT FOR CHRISTMAS.' A woman replies: 'YOU GO RIGHT IN THE HOUSE AND GET IT FOR MR. TYE AND DON'T EVER DO ANYTHING LIKE THIS AGAIN.'

BY TAYLOR

Comic strip panel. A man says: 'BUT THOSE PUMPKINS WERE WORTH MORE THAN A DIME APIECE - THE STORES ARE SELLING 'EM FOR 15¢ - HOW ABOUT THE BALANCE?' A woman replies: 'I TOLD YOU SO.'

EVERETT TRUE

Comic strip panel. A man says: 'MR. H. KANAKA REPRESENTING ALOHA & CO. HONOLULU, HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.' A woman replies: 'HAS HE GOT A UKULELE WITH HIM?' The man replies: 'NO, SIR.'

BY CONDO

Comic strip panel. A man says: 'ALL RIGHT - SHOW THE GENTLEMAN IN.' A woman replies: 'YES, SIR.'

Advertisement for Borden's Battery. Text: 'Let Your Next Battery Be An EXIDE Use Only the Best'.

BROADWAY CENTRAL HOTEL advertisement. Text: '667-877 BROADWAY NEW YORK Accommodations For 1,000 Guests'.

KAYSERS HOSIERY advertisement. Text: 'All the New Season's Colors A Pure Thread Silk Stocking that Will Wear'.

DELCO LIGHT advertisement. Text: 'Light Plants and Batteries Deep and Shallow Well Pumps for Direct or Alternating current and Washing Machines for Direct or Alternating Current.'

H. B. WILKINSON advertisement. Text: 'H. B. WILKINSON Out of the High Rent District Concord, Kannapolis Mooresville China Grove'.

CYLINDER REBORING advertisement. Text: 'We have installed a Rottler Reborning machine so that we can re-bore the cylinders of cars and fit new pistons, rings and wrist pins without removing the motor from the frame, thereby saving a large labor charge.'